Credle-Boyer Wedding Vows Are Spoken at Southport

Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Mrs. Pansy Boyer of the Winona Lake addition of Warsaw, Ind., and F. X. Credle of Vass, which took place in a five o'clock ceremony in the Methodist Church in Southport. The Rev. Dr. Bridges, pastor of the church and a friend of the couple, performed the double ring ceremony.

After the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Bridges together with those who attended the wedding motored to the Calabash seafoods center where they were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Credle.

Mrs. Credle, widow of Charles A. Boyer, organizer and owner of the Boyer Manufacturing Company of Warsaw, Ind., is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary of Warsaw, and was active in women's organizational work there. She came with friends on a visit to the Sandhills some time ago, liked the climate, and decided to spend the winters here. She operated the dining room at Dixie Inn for a while and had a display of antiques there from her home at Winona Lake.

Mr. Credle, originally from Pamlico County in this State, has owned and lived at Dixie Inn in Vass since 1948. He is an honor graduate of Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, and served as high school principal and manager of chambers of commerce in Virginia before coming to the Dixie Inn. He served as Chaplain in World War 1, with the rank of captain. Last year he was elected Commander of Moore County Barracks 1443, Veterans of World War 1, and is for 1960 Commander of the Tenth District Veterans of World War 1 of the U.S.A., Department of North Carolina, comprising seven counties including Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Credle will make Dixie Inn their residence during the winters, and plan to spend the summers at Winona Lake.

Silver Foils Golf Tournament Results Given

Silver Foilers took to the golf courses Tuesday, 45 in number, for participation in the weekly tournament for members. The Tuesday tourney was an individual play affair for the best selected twelve holes out of each round, in which the low six of each nine were chosen for posting.

When the selecting, cross-reffing and complete totaling had all been accomplished, two players proved to be in a tie position for top honors in Class A with another in the runners-up spot, while Class B produced one first place win and two ties for second. With twenty-three in A, that division was headed by Mrs. Dennis C. Crotty and Mrs. David R. Riach who registered, respectively, 22-20-42 and 20-22-42 for the twelve holes, while Mrs. J. A. Ruggles was two strokes off their tie pace with a score of 22-22-44.

Twenty-two made the round in the B division in which Mrs. Robert F. Dunn was the major winner with 21-21-42; Mrs. Duwayne D. Gadd and Mrs. Elbridge S. Sidway were two blows back to tie for the minor prize wins, the former scoring an evenly divided 22-22-44 and the latter splitting it 19-25-44.

Next week's tournament for Silver Foilers will be one of the popular mixed Foursomes events, and members of the SF Club are reminded to get their "lads" all set and primed for the February 9 golfing do, with all men players eligible for the "by invitation only" mix-it-up links battle with the ladies.

Mrs. Virginia Jones And Son Take Honors In Bridge Play

Mrs. Virginia Jones and son, Michael Jones, of Pinehurst were winners at Tuesday night's meeting of the Sandhill Duplicate Bridge Club, held at the Southern Pines Country Club.

Mrs. C. H. Bowman and Mrs. O. A. Dickinson placed second, and Mrs. C. D. May and Mrs. James Pleasants tied with Mrs. Curtis Townshend and Mrs. Jean Edson for third position.

90th ANNIVERSARY

CHURCH OF WIDE FELLOWSHIP WOMEN HONOR MRS. PROCTOR; OTHER NOTES

The Women's Fellowship of the Church of Wide Fellowship held its January meeting last Thursday at the home of the president, Mrs. R. M. Cushman, North Valley Road.

Mrs. Carl Wallace was assisted by Mrs. George Proctor in conducting an impressive devotional service, consisting in part of extracts from the McLeish play "Job," which won much acclaim when presented in New York.

After a business session conducted by Mrs. Cushman, members of the Lena Swezey Circle, who were hostesses for the afternoon, rose and singing "Happy Birthday," escorted Mrs. Proctor to the dining room where a beautifully decorated table proclaimed a birthday celebration. The flowers and decorations in shades of pink with candles and individual cakes gave a very festive air as all the members congratulated their beloved friend, Nell Proctor, on the 90th anniversary of her birth which occurred this month—wishing her continued good health and happiness.

A member of the Fellowship pays this tribute: "We could all profit by Mrs. Proctor's example of faith and fortitude which, for the more than 30 years she has spent in the Sandhills, has been an inspiration for us all in local and church affairs."

February 7 will be Boy Scout Sunday. Cub Pack 876 will sit in a body during the worship service. Sermon Theme: "Breaking Out Beyond Self" by the Rev. Carl Wallace.

Youth Fellowship program at 6 p.m.: "Forward," a 16mm film.

The Board of Trustees will meet Wednesday, February 10 at 8 p.m. Election of officers and important items of business will be discussed.

The following Circles of the Women's Fellowship will meet on Thursday, February 11:

Fanny Timmons Circle at 10 a.m. with Mrs. Earl Parker.

Lena Swezey Circle at 2:30 p.m., with Mrs. Rosa Gardner.

Margaret White Circle at 3 p.m., with Mrs. A. C. Grover.

Friendship Circle at 3 p.m., with Mrs. Carl Wallace.

Ruth Burr Sanborn Circle at 8 p.m., with Mrs. Charles Austin.

BISHOP MELCHER SPEAKS TO ST. MARY'S GUILD ON MISSION WORK IN BRAZIL

"The mission of the Church today is to create a way of life in which all neglected and down-trodden people may have justice and educational advantages; the battle for the minds of men is the missionary responsibility—salvation of the soul of the world."

This declaration was made by Bishop Louis C. Melcher, now of Pinehurst, Monday afternoon to St. Mary's Guild of Emmanuel Church in an illuminating and inspiring talk on missions in Brazil, a country in which he served for many years as Bishop.

The speaker began with a general picture of the work of the Episcopal Church, pooling its efforts there with the Church of England. Continuing, he gave a word picture in substance as follows:

Everywhere natives are being trained and given scholarships with money donated largely by the United States. Little schools are started by the missionaries, sometimes in one room of a house, scattered in little villages all over Brazil, with teachers who, having the love of God, give themselves unstintingly.

In many sections there is no free education except the mission schools, which close and move on when the government steps in and takes over and they are no longer needed there.

Hundreds of neglected boys are rescued by five Boystown Homes, the speaker related, and the Church is winning the minds of the young men trained in these homes and taught trades.

For the little girls there are orphanages which turn out wonderful Christian women, trained as nurses and in other useful work.

Homes for aged people and hostels for the unemployed solve the problems of the needy and teach the people how to live useful Christian lives, helping all the unfortunate and underprivileged with the Christians' way of life.

A short business session presided over by Mrs. H. W. Allen preceded Bishop Melcher's talk, which was followed by tea and a social hour for which Mrs. J. H. Towne and Mrs. Thomas Kelley were hostesses.

Circles Have Programs on Foreign Missions

Foreign missions was the February program emphasis for Presbyterian Women of the Church, and this was the theme followed in meetings of several Circles during the past few days.

Circle 1 met with Mrs. J. A. Hall at her home on Valley Road Monday evening, with seven members and two visitors attending. Mrs. George Nevins had charge of the program.

Mrs. Dan Ray was hostess to Circle 2 Monday evening, with six members present. Mrs. Joe Thomas was program leader.

Circle 3 met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. F. Williams, Bennett Street, with nine members and one visitor in attendance. Mrs. W. C. Hilderman led the Bible study.

Mrs. T. C. Johnston of Midland Road was hostess to Circle 4 Tuesday afternoon with Miss Ethel Blue Britt leading the program and Mrs. G. L. Link conducting the Bible study. The attendance of 13 included one visitor.

St. Anthony's Club And Husbands Enjoy Spaghetti Dinner

St. Anthony's Women's Club met in monthly session Monday night in St. Anthony's School auditorium, with husbands as guests at a spaghetti dinner. Mrs. Raymond Dougherty presided, and Mrs. Marvin Wicker was chairman of the affair.

Many bouquets were tossed to David Drexel, who cooked the spaghetti, and to Mrs. Clare W. Sauser, who prepared an Italian dessert. The head table was decorated with yellow candles and flowers and a silver service was used.

Lt. Col. Clare W. Sauser was guest speaker, using the topic "The Free Press" in commemoration of Catholic Press Month.

Southern Pines and Vass Methodist Women Join in Mission Study

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Southern Pines Methodist Church and that of the Vass Methodist Church are joining in a study of the book "The Way of Africa" by Dr. George Wayland Carpenter, and the first session was held at the local church Monday evening. Mrs. J. S. Hiatt, Jr., of Southern Pines and Mrs. T. Fant Steele, Jr., of Vass are in charge of the study, the final session of which is scheduled to be held at Vass tonight (Thursday).

Upon arrival each person was given a name tag in the shape of Africa, also a map of that continent to refer to during the study. Mrs. Hiatt recognized Mrs. Steele and Mrs. Russell Bullock, president of the Vass W.S.C.S., and each one present gave her name and an item about the country to be studied. On display were numerous pictures of African people and places, also miniature copies of native household articles and farm implements.

Taking part on the program, in addition to Mrs. Hiatt, were: Mrs. R. C. Mooney, Jr., Mrs. Vernon Manes, Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mrs. W. L. Scarborough, who gave a choral reading; Mrs. Norman Calcutt, Mrs. Fred Pollard and Mrs. Bill Johnson, who presented a skit dealing with the work of David Livingstone, Dr. Albert Schweitzer and Sir Henry Morton Stanley in Africa; Mrs. Steele, who told of African cultures, and Mrs. R. E. Franklin, who discussed the mine workers. Mrs. Maxwell Grey was piano accompanist.

There was an intermission, during which the hostesses, Mrs. Fred Pollard, Mrs. Lloyd Graves, Mrs. Kenneth Neese and Mrs. Lewis Telford served doughnuts and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jellison returned Friday from a two weeks' vacation spent in Sarasota, Miami and Hollywood, Fla.

MRS. JAMES WILLIAM PRIM, III

MISS MERLE FLETCHER IS BRIDE OF MR. PRIM IN WEST END CHURCH RITES

The wedding of Miss Merle Elizabeth Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fletcher of West End, and James William Prim, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prim of Richmond, Va., formerly of Southern Pines, took place Saturday afternoon at the West End Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Aaron Tyson, pastor of the bride. Music was presented by Miss Dorothy Leigh VonCanon, organist, of Greensboro College and Roger Gibbs, of Southern Pines, who sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory silk satin fashioned with a chapel length train. The bouffant skirt was accentuated by a bustle designed with satin roses. The fitted bodice of chantilly lace was styled with a scalloped portrait neckline embroidered with seed pearls and sequins and full length sleeves which tapered to a point over the hand. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a matching cap and her tiara was of seed pearls. The bride designed her wedding costume. She carried a white prayer book, formerly used by her sister, with royal bouquet orchids and trailing butterfly orchids.

The bride's only sister, Mrs. James Rector, was her matron of honor. She wore a dress of coquette blue brocade satin. The fitted bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and long fitted sleeves. Her matching headpiece was a bandeau with a half veil. She carried a cascade of pink orchids entwined with ivory. The bridesmaids were Mrs. H. Michael Weaver of Chapel Hill; Miss Carole Prim, sister of the bridegroom, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Carolyn Branson of Woman's College and West End. They wore costumes identical to that of the honor attendant.

The bridegroom's brother, David Prim, of Richmond, Va., was best man and the ushers were James Rector, brother-in-law of the bride; John Monroe, cousin of the bride, and George Colton, USAF of Tulsa, Okla., former college roommate of the bridegroom.

The vows were said before a candle lighted altar flanked by baskets of mums entwined with greenery. The wedding was directed by Mrs. Quinton Smith.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fletcher chose a navy silk sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Prim wore a gray wool sheath embroidered in black with black accessories. They wore corsages of white purple throat-orchids.

For the wedding trip the bride changed to a wool suit of olive green with matching accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her prayer book.

The couple will be at home 2206 Fairview Road, Raleigh. The bride was educated at Woman's College and is employed with the State Department in Raleigh.

member of the Arnold Air Society, an honorary Air Force fraternity, and studied at the college on a Talent for Service Scholarship. He is majoring in Aeronautical Engineering.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher entertained at a reception in the Youth Building of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Monroe, Jr. of Raleigh greeted the guests and the receiving line was composed of Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Prim, the bride and bridegroom, and the wedding party. Presiding at the register was Mrs. Nathan Stubbs.

Miss Vivian Tucker directed the guests to the serving table which was covered with lace and centered with the wedding cake topped with pink roses. Alternating in presiding at the punch bowl were Misses Ann Brandon of Yadkinville and Jo Fisher of Clinton, both of Woman's College. Assisting in serving the guests lime ice, decorated bridal cakes, mints and nuts were Mrs. Everett Cole, Misses Julia Hanner, Hilda Richardson, and Nancy Auman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rector entertained the Prim-Fletcher wedding party Friday evening following the rehearsal.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sloan, Jr., of Durham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Worth, Jr., last weekend. The Worths plan to visit relatives in Durham this weekend.

MRS. PHILLIPS AND GROUP ATTEND DAR GOOD CITIZENS DAY IN WINSTON-SALEM

Mrs. J. A. Phillips, Jr., of Cameron, a member of the Alfred Moore Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, accompanied a group of girls to Winston-Salem last Saturday for the DAR Fourth District's "Good Citizens Day" observance.

Two Moore County "Good Citizens," Jeannine Voss of Aberdeen and Elsie Louise Garrison of Pinehurst, and one from the Paul Grady Chapter, Lynne Oelrich of Sanford were in the group. Mrs. Phillips' daughter, Sally, went also.

Object of the trip was to tour Old Salem, a Moravian congregation town settled in 1766 which is now being preserved and restored as a historic site.

Thus far in Old Salem's long-range program, eight key village buildings have been returned to their early appearance. One of these which the girls found to be of unusual interest is the Salem Tavern (1784), the first brick structure in the village. It replaced an earlier frame tavern which was destroyed by fire. George Washington is said to have spent two nights there in 1791 during his southern tour. The building is open as a house museum of the period 1800.

Moore County "Good Citizens" who could not take the trip are Diana Tolar of Southern Pines, Judy Elizabeth Comer of Cameron and Isabelle Campbell, Star Route, Carthage.

The Winkelmans Entertain at Hunt Breakfasts

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight W. Winkelman entertained at a hunt breakfast for around 18 Tuesday, complimenting the Sedgfield Hunt master and members who were down from Greensboro to go out with the Moore County Hounds. They had a small group in for breakfast last week, also.
