Officials, Others Guests at Second Grade's Program

Mrs. Worsham's second grade presented a play, "Our Town," at the East Southern Pines Elementary School on Tuesday, with all children in the grade taking part.

The scene was a miniature town constructed by the children, with small train and railroad track.

Two children who "arrived in the train" were met by the mayor who introduced them to the community helpers—officials and various professional and business people. There were songs and recitations as the "helpers" were introduced.

After the program, real town officials and other citizens, who were present, shook hands with their counterparts in the play.

The adult guests included Mayor Robert S. Ewing, Schools Superintendent Luther A. Adams, Dr. Vida McLeod, Dr. Bruce Warlick, Fire Chief James Tew, the Rev. Carl Wallace, H. L. Koonce, C. L. Worsham, Bill McGill and Bob Howard. Invited, but unable to attend, were Police Chief C. E. Newton and Postmaster Max Rush.

Men of Church to Hear Mr. Adams

Luther A. Adams, superintendent of Southern Pines schools, will speak Tuesday, March 22, at 7 p. m., at a meeting of the Men of the Church of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Adams, who has held the local school post since August of last year, was district principal of the Mt. Pleasant schools for 10 years before coming to Southern Pines. He is a member of the North Carolina Education Association, the NCEA Division of Superintendents and the American Association of Schools Administrators.

SUNRISE THEATRE

Stanley Kramer's "On the Beach," opening Sunday at the Sunrise Theatre through United Artists release, has been called "the biggest story of our time."

Kramer, dedicated to the belief that this is a solemnly hard truth, arranged its world premiere simultaneously in major cities in all seven continents.

This unprecedented multiple global showing was devised by Kramer because of the stark urgency of the picture, the quality referred to by the book critics who, in reviewing the sensational Shute novel, spoke of it as "the most important and dramatic story of this era."

An adaptation of Nevil Shute's sensational best-selling novel, "On the Beach" stars Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Fred Astaire and Anthony Perkins, and introduces, in her movie debut, lovely 19-year-old Donna Anderson. The strong supporting cast is headed by John Tate, Lola Brooks, Guy Doleman, John Meillon and Harp McGuire.

Stanley Kramer produced and directed "On the Beach" from a screenplay by John Paxton, Giuseppe Rotunno, the prize-winning Italian cameraman, was chief cinematographer, and the musical score was composed and conducted by Ernest Gold. The picture was filmed in its entirety on location in Australia, on sites precisely corresponding to those used in the Shute novel.

The president accepted with regret the resignation of the Rev. S. L. Brown, vice-president, who is moving to another charge. Mr. Brown conducted the opening devotional. The meeting was dismissed with a prayer by the Rev. Lee Pridden.

The Rev. R. D. Spear, chairman of the committee for Lennox Training School—the unit of Morrison Training School for Negro boys that is now housed at McCain—reported that a new schedule is being drawn up for ministers of the Association who will continue to conduct vesper services at the school during the coming year.
