It's a near-perfect cropthey've never been bigger, better, sweeter or more tasty. Word from the growing section is that this weekend, there will be plenty on hand for all comers—but they expect to have the orchards all cleared out Monday.

Because of winter weather hanging on till late in the spring, the season has been delayed about two weeks. Normally the golden-fleshed Elbertas and white-fleshed Georgia Belles ripen from about mid-July to the end of that month.
