State Officers Pay Official Visit to Rainbow Girls

At their regular meeting last Thursday evening, members of the Sandhill Assembly No. 40, Order of Rainbow for Girls, were honored with an official visit of Worthy Grand Advisor Billie Jo Barrier and State Mother Advisor Ruth Boone, both of Albemarle.

Mrs. Estella M. Bell, Supreme Inspector for North Carolina, was a special guest, and Mrs. Margaret Reavis, Mrs. Mary Lee Haden, Mrs. Lestina Gift and Mrs. A. A. Williams, Mother Advisors of Fayetteville, Lumberton, Sanford and Hamlet Assemblies, respectively, together with a large group of girls from their assemblies were joint hostesses. Around 100 people attended.

Billie Jo Barrier gave an inspiring message to the girls. She was given a money corsage for her special project, the Rainbow Scholarship Fund, which was presented by the Fayetteville Assembly, also a beautiful silver tray as a personal gift, presented by Lumberton Assembly. A short program spelling out "Friendship" was given by twelve girls from the Sanford Assembly and dedicated to her.

Punch, cake, mints and nuts were served during the social hour by Mrs. Herbert Dietenhofer and Mrs. Paul Ward, assisted by members of Sandhill Assembly.

Central Girl Scout Council Attends Raleigh Meeting

Central Carolina Girl Scout council participated in a Senior Scout Workshop in Raleigh yesterday and today in cooperation with the Neuseick Council of Raleigh and the Coastal Council of Goldsboro.

Huntley, Jr., of Southern Pines, Mrs. Bryan Stevens of Erwin, Mrs. Jere McKeithen of Aberdeen, and Mrs. Lewis McKinney, Mrs. Eliza Paschal, Mrs. E. C. Slaughter and Mrs. Lanier of Lillington.

Miss Cathryn Creasman of Sanford, council executive director, was one of the instructors in the workshop and Miss Mary Quillen, staff member, attended, also. Miss Creasman has announced that registration for the Lee County basic course, to be held October 10-13 in the Scout headquarters, should be in by October 5.

The McElvares Have Fine Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland R. McElvare are back at their home on Niagara Road after an interesting trip of about two months on which Mr. McElvare was collecting his special species of moths and both were re-visiting favorite places and seeing other areas for the first time.

They first went to Wyoming, where the Teton Mountains are a special attraction, then to Utah and Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. They found New Mexico and Arizona terrifically dry, so the greenery of southwest Texas was especially welcome. They enjoyed the Big Bend National Park there, and on the way home came by Myrtle Beach for a sight of the ocean.

During the fellowship hour which followed, tea, dainty sandwiches and cookies were served by the Margaret White Circle.

Southern Pines Garden Club Holds Planning Session

The Southern Pines Garden Club launched its fall season with a meeting Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. N. L. Hodgkins, Sr., who presided. Chief business was a discussion of plans for activities for the coming year and programs for the next three months. High on the plans program is work at the school—care of the planting already done and beautification of Phase C which is to be erected.

The October program will feature arrangements of fruits and vegetables for Thanksgiving; a program on the illumination of gardens and Christmas lighting is planned for November, and in December the Rev. Martin Caldwell will speak to the club on "The Symbols of Christmas."

An enjoyable tea followed the business session.

Many Women See Cancer Detection Movie Wednesday

The uterine cancer detection movie "Time and Two Women" shown Wednesday by the Jr. Woman's Club of Southern Pines and the American Cancer Society was attended by a large number of Moore County women.

Dr. Charles Phillips explained in much detail the many types of cancer and stressed yearly examinations for early diagnosis and control of this dreaded disease. Along with donating his time, Dr. Phillips also donated a film on detection of breast cancer to add to his informal talk.

The many questions that were asked by the group displayed their enthusiasm and interest in this public education project to save lives from cancer.

MRS. JOSEPH KENNEDY

MRS. LYNDON JOHNSON

MRS. KENNEDY AND MRS. JOHNSON VISIT CAROLINA CITIES ON CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Tea and demitasse will replace barbecue and hush puppies on the North Carolina Democratic campaign trail today and Friday as the gold star mother of Democratic Presidential nominee John Kennedy and the wife of Vice-Presidential nominee Lyndon Johnson tour this state.

Mrs. Joseph P. (Rose Fitzgerald) Kennedy and Mrs. Lyndon (Lady Bird) Johnson are honored guests of Democratic Women's Clubs in Charlotte and Greensboro today.

Mrs. Johnson will appear before a Fayetteville area Democratic women's meeting in the Fayetteville Senior High School from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight (Thursday). On Friday she will attend women's rallies in Winston-Salem and Raleigh.

Mrs. Kennedy's Raleigh appearance was scheduled for today from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. at the State College Armory where a reception was to be held. Winston-Salem was on her morning schedule.

Mrs. Kennedy has lived in political households throughout her life. Her father, the late John F. Fitzgerald, was congressman from the same Boston district in which her son John later started his political career. Her husband was ambassador to England prior to World War II.

Mrs. Johnson, whose husband proposed to her on their first date and who married the Senate majority leader two months later, has traveled campaign trails with Senator Johnson since he first ran for Congress in 1937. That trail this year will take her from the Atlantic to the Pacific—and quite possibly to Alaska and Hawaii.

Announcing this tour of Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Johnson were Mrs. Herbert S. McKay of Chapel Hill, National Committeewoman; Mrs. Henry Cromartie of Charlotte, State Democratic Party Vice-Chairwoman; and Mrs. Charles Tillett of Charlotte, director of women's activities for the campaign.

BROWNSON MEN OF CHURCH ENTERTAIN LADIES; NEW COLLEGE HEAD IS SPEAKER

Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Men of the Church held their annual Ladies Night dinner meeting in the fellowship hall Tuesday at 7 p. m., with around 125 present and with Dr. Ansley Moore, president of the new Presbyterian College, St. Andrews, at Laurinburg as featured speaker. President Joseph P. Marley presided.

Mr. Marley spoke words of welcome to the ladies, to which Mrs. C. C. McLean, president of the Women of the Church, responded. A musical program was presented by Melvin Williams, vocalist, who was accompanied at the piano by Miss Linda Edwards. Both are Aberdeen young people.

Dr. Moore was introduced by Voit Gilmore. He spoke on a subject of vital interest to all present, the new college, telling how it is developing, and the courses which will be offered. The doors are expected to open in September 1961, and applications are already being accepted.

A chicken dinner was enjoyed, with several members of the Youth Fellowship serving.

NEW CORPORATION PLANS FLOWER AND GARDEN SHOW AT RALEIGH IN SPRING

Of much interest to flower lovers in this area will be the announcement that a corporation has been chartered in Raleigh to stage a big flower and garden show in the early spring at the N. C. State Fair Arena.

The new organization, Southeastern Flower and Garden Show, Inc., was formed under joint sponsorship of the North Carolina Commercial Flower Growers Association and the North Carolina Association of Nurserymen. The combined flower and garden event expects to draw attendance from 15 southeastern states.

Officers of the non-profit corporation staging the show include: James S. Melton of Hubert, president; Warren Steed of Candor, vice president; and Hugh G. Vann of Raleigh, secretary-treasurer. Directors are: Jerome Lindley of Graham; Knox Porter of Rocky Mount; Charlie Taylor of Raleigh; John F. Carroll of Raleigh; W. E. Edwards of Wilmington; Jerry Busby of Charlotte; and J. B. Webster, Jr., of Greensboro, together with Officers Melton, Steed, and Vann. All of these men have been prominent in flower growing and nursery circles.

The show will be produced by John Harden Associates of Greensboro, with Robert E. Zimmerman as show manager.

President Melton of the new corporation said the purpose of the new southeastern show is "to demonstrate—in one large exhibition—ways to achieve maximum beauty in the home and garden through proper selection, planting, growth, and use of flowers and shrubs." He added that individual gardens and plantings by professional flower growers and nurserymen "will create gardens, terraces, arrangements, and landscapes at the show, each demonstrating features adaptable to homes and attractive surroundings." The plantings for the show are expected to combine into the greatest mass of growing beauty ever assembled at one place in the southeast.
