In March, the Concert Choir was featured on "Adventures In Ideas" over WSOC-TV, Charlotte.

Silver Foils Club Winners Named

There were fifty-five entries in last week's Silver Foils Club match, postponed from Tuesday to Thursday.

Tied at plus seven in the match play against par event for all four partners, played over the Pinehurst Country Club's number one course, were Miss Margaret B. Lavery, Miss Helen Musser, Mrs. John W. Rettew and Mrs. L. Paget Rigby with Mrs. Alfred L. Derouin, Mrs. Walter G. Robbins, Mrs. J. A. Ruggles and Mrs. William H. Schille.

On a sudden death decision resulting from matching cards, the first foursome were declared winners.

This week's Silver Foils Club tourney, held Tuesday, was a par-bogey event for the best ball of all four partners.

Of the 15 foursomes competing, the winning combination was that comprising Mrs. Stuart H. Patterson, Mrs. John B. von Schlegell, Mrs. William C. Harris and Mrs. Louis C. Melcher who scored 48-46 for a 94-point total.

The foursome scoring 48-40 for 88 points and the runner-up position was that of Mrs. Edward L. Nesbitt, Mrs. Morrison B. Orr, Mrs. Staley Tregellas and Mrs. Q. A. Shaw McKean.

HOSTESSES ASSIGNED TO HOMES ON GARDEN TOUR AT GARDEN CLUB MEET

Mrs. James S. Milliken was hostess to the Southern Pines Garden Club Monday afternoon at her home, with Mrs. N. L. Hodgkins, Sr., presiding over a session brimful of reports of past accomplishment, for which expressions of appreciation were given, and of details of forthcoming activities.

Mrs. Robert C. VanderVoort was thanked for seeing that flowers were placed at the Antiques Show last week, and Mrs. Denison K. Bullens for the lovely buffet served press representatives from several dailies who, on Saturday morning prior to the Stonybrook races, were conducted on a preview tour of the gardens to be included on the annual tour next week.

Thanks went to Harry M. Vale for lilies which he donated to the club for planting in town, and appreciation to Town Manager Louis Scheipers, Jr., for a letter-promising the efforts of his crew in a clean-up prior to the tour, which takes place next Wednesday.

Hostesses were assigned to the various homes included on the tour, which starts at 9:30 a. m. at the Shaw House, where luncheon will be served. It was noted that visitors do not have to go to the Shaw House to start, but may begin at any of the homes. Refreshments will be served at the Eullens place, where the gardens but not the house will be shown. Mrs. Robert S. Ewing is general chairman of this 13th annual Home and Garden Tour.

New plantings at the East Southern Pines School and at the laundry were reported. Mrs. Marion T. Brawley brought to the meeting a variety of interesting blossoms which she passed around and discussed. The meeting ended with a delightful tea.

DUKE STUDENTS, MISS PATRICIA BIGGERS AND WILLIAM E. SHAAF, WED IN DURHAM

Miss Patricia Biggers and William Edward Shaaf were married March 17 in the Trinity Avenue Presbyterian Church, Durham.

Dr. William C. Bennett officiated at the simple ceremony which was attended by members of the immediate families only. Mrs. Agnes Skillen, organist, played a program of nuptial music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Biggers of Hertford and the granddaughter of Mrs. W. Hulon Cole of Pinehurst. She is a graduate of Duke University, where she will receive her master's degree this spring.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon E. Shaaf of Mansfield, Ohio, will graduate from Duke in June.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a royal blue jersey suit with blue and white shantung blouse and clutch jacket with full sleeves. She carried a white Bible topped with white orchids.

Her maid of honor, Miss Joan-a P. Williford of Hertford wore a kelly green suit with clutch jacket with navy and white trim. Her bouquet was of carnations and mums.

Theodore McDonald of Buffalo, N. Y. was the best man.

Plate Lunches to be Served at Shaw House During Garden Tour

Mrs. A. P. Thompson, Shaw House chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the plate lunches to be served Wednesday during the Home and Garden Tour.

Assisting will be Mrs. Ernest L. Ives, Mrs. Edward Schneider, and others from Southern Pines and surrounding towns.

Tables will be set up on the lawn and in charge of junior hostesses who will serve is Mrs. Murray Clark, president of the local Junior Women's Club.

Mrs. Denison K. Bullens, who entertained Saturday at a buffet luncheon for press representatives from over the state following their preview tour of this year's list of homes and gardens, will again as last year, serve iced tea and cookies in the gardens of Homewood.

This "iced tea break," following the pattern of garden tours in other places, is a welcome refresher, for those making the tour can relax in chairs set about in the azalea bordered gardens.

Homewood gardens, but not the house, are included in the list of seven homes and gardens to be shown during this year's tour, sponsored by the Southern Pines Garden Club.

Patti Larson Celebrates Birthday With Party for 60

Patti Larson, daughter of Mrs. Vern Larson of 680 South May Street, was hostess to 60 of her classmates at the Civic Club Friday, March 24. The occasion was to celebrate her fourteenth birthday, which was the 28th of March.

The Club was decorated with purple and white flowers and streamers, with a huge birthday cake as centerpiece on the candle-light refreshment table.

After the lovely gifts were opened and displayed, the evening was spent in dancing and the playing of games. Out of town guests included Larry Royal and Ben Tew, E.M.I. students spending the weekend with Coach Williams, who also joined the party.

25 Homemakers from Moore Attend State Meeting in Raleigh

Twenty-five Homemakers from Moore County attended the State Home Demonstration Council meeting in Raleigh. Dr. Samuel Proctor, President of A. and T. College spoke to a group of two thousand Home Demonstration Club Members on the subject "Saving Today's Home." In his message he stated, "It's your responsibility homemakers, to save the home."

The Home Demonstration County Council heard Mrs. Jane Starthers, home economist, Carolina Power and Light Company, discuss adequate size wiring and fuses for the home to accommodate the usage of household modern electric appliances.

Forty-two club members and men attended this meeting in Robbins.

MRS. WILLIAM CLARKE DAVIS

MISS NANCY ANN EBERHART, WILLIAM CLARKE DAVIS MARRIED IN ATHENS, GA.

The first Baptist Church in Athens, Ga. was the scene of the wedding March 17 of Miss Nancy Ann Eberhart and William Clarke Davis.

Officiating at the evening ceremony was Dr. Howard P. Giddens. The vows were spoken in front of the altar backed with candles and greenery and flanked by baskets of white gladiolas and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eberhart of Athens are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Purl Davis of Sandavis, Southern Pines.

Mrs. Allan Arnold, organist, played traditional wedding music and Cecil Johnson sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by a cousin, James Thurmond of Athens. Her gown had a bodice of Chantilly lace with sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls, sleeves ending in points over the hands and a peau de soie skirt embroidered with handmade roses and terminating in a chapel train. Her cascade bouquet was of white split carnations centered with a white orchid. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and a diamond brooch belonging to his mother, a gift from her husband on her wedding day.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Arthur Lloyd Turk of Athens, was attired in candlelight beige brocade with matching accessories. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink split carnations.

Mr. Turk was best man and ushers were Terry W. Chandler of Athens and James F. Gaines, Arlington, Va.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe sheath with lace-trimmed bodice and matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother's dress was of champagne lace with accents of pink satin, and she also had a white orchid corsage.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church's fellowship hall.

For traveling, the bride chose a pale gold wool suit with bone accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple is at home at 195 Scott Street, Athens.

Women's Fellowship Holds Panel Discussion On Social Problems

The monthly meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Church of Wide Fellowship was held Thursday afternoon in the Robert Lee House Chapel, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Hicks Keser presented a program on Christian social action, in the form of a panel discussion. Members of the group participated with questions, answers, and general discussion of such topics as the harmful effects of movies, segregation, and other social problems of the present.

Tea was served after the meeting in the church parlor by the Fanny Timmons Circle.

30 Bird Species Noted on Bird Club's Field Trip

Members of the Southern Pines Bird Club were rewarded with a list of 30 species on Friday's trip to Powell's Pond and the lake at Lakeview.

Unusual varieties noted included the red-breasted merganser and osprey.

Those interested in birds are invited to join the group which meets at 9:30 each Friday morning at 160 South Bennett Street.

Toronto, in Canada. The Smiths have four daughters, Mrs. Robert M. Stevenson, Jr., of New York City, Mrs. Francis E. Brossy, III and Mrs. Barbara Willmore, both of Grosse Pointe, and Miss Marion Leigh Smith of Bakersfield, Calif., and four grandchildren.
