Moose Cancer Caravan Will Stop in Southern Pines on Cross-State Trip

In connection with launching the American Cancer Society's Education and Fund Campaign in April—the month designated by Presidential Proclamation as Cancer Control Month—an all-white Moosemobile will carry the symbolic "Sword of Hope" all the way across North Carolina from Manteo to Murphy, making stops in 100 cities and towns of which Southern Pines will be one. The caravan will travel over 2,500 miles.

Brief ceremonies will be held at each place and these will include the signing of the "Sword of Hope" scroll by the Mayor, a local cancer official and a local representative of the Moose-sponsors of this phase of the cancer program.

The Moose Cancer Caravan will start from Manteo on April 1, and is scheduled to arrive in Southern Pines on April 12 at 1:30 p. m. The visitations will be concluded at Murphy on April 22.

The "Sword of Hope" was signed by Governor Terry Sanford last week and presented by him to Dr. J. O. Williams, State Cancer Crusade chairman, and Harvey L. Sprinkle, Moose Association State president.

Mr. Sprinkle said: "Our 25,000 Moose members in 72 lodges of North Carolina are glad to lend their manpower and facilities for this great cause."

Moore Farm Bureau Contributes to International Farm Youth Program

Friday night, March 17, the Moore County Farm Bureau board of directors and commodity committees met jointly in the courthouse at Carthage, with President S. R. Ransdell, Jr., presiding. Invocation was by T. Clyde Auman.

In response to solicitation of County Home Agent Miss Flora McDonald, a contribution of $50 to the program of the International Farm Youth Exchange was voted, and a check for the amount has been forwarded to the Treasurer, L. B. Creath, at Pinehurst. A Moore County girl, Miss Jane Owen of RFD Seagroves, has been selected to participate in the program this year.

Among reports to the group were those of County Agent F. D. Allen, Service Representative Lee Williams, and State Field Worker Walter Lowery.

Mr. Allen reported that procedures attempted by the County Commissioners on the proposed agriculture building were now at a stand-still due to lack of funds on hand. Mr. Williams reported that Farm Bureau will write crop hail insurance this year.

Tour Noted
Mr. Lowery gave a brief description of a week's educational tour which N. C. Farm Bureau plans for April 8-15, to acquaint members with F. B. operations and services in more active states such as Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, and Tennessee. Buses provided by N. C. F. B. carrying a maximum of three members from each county will visit important centers in these states. Members going will be expected to study the situation and upon return report in detail to the local organization.

In response to Lowery's appeal, a motion that $50 be paid toward expense of meals and lodging for each Moore County delegate to a maximum of three delegates and that the president and secretary be delegates if possible, was passed unanimously. Final selection of delegates was left to the president.

Tax Proposals
The group voted unanimously to approve the recent stand of the North Carolina Farm Bureau

Eagle Springs Incorporation May Be Sought

Rep. H. Clifton Blue said last week that he had been contacted in regard to introducing a bill in the General Assembly to incorporate Eagle Springs as a municipality.

Rep. Blue said that he was contacted by Lynn Martin on behalf of citizens of the community who had been discussing the idea. Mr. Martin said that the matter had been discussed at meetings of the Eagle Springs Ruritan Club.

Rep. Blue said that he suggested that publicity be given to the proposal before concrete steps be taken in the matter.

Mental Health Workshop on Emotional Problems of Young People To Be Held

A mental health workshop for discussion of emotional problems of young people will be held in Southern Pines on Sunday, April 30 and Monday, May 1, according to an announcement by Dr. Charles Phillips, president of the Moore County Mental Health Association.

Separate sessions particularly for parents, teachers and young people themselves will be conducted in the form of panel discussions. Several out-of-town persons will be members of the panels, including leading consultants in the field.

Luther A. Adams, workshop chairman for the Mental Health Association, said that the event will open Sunday, April 30, at 7 p. m. at Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church, with a session designed to appeal especially to young people. Miss Diane Monroe of Rockingham, who recently was accorded the title "All-American Teen-ager," is expected to attend this session.

The Monday afternoon session the next day will be primarily for teachers, Mr. Adams said, dealing with their relationship to young peoples' emotional problems.

The Monday evening session at 7:30, also in Weaver Auditorium, will be of special interest to parents.

Dr. Irene McFarland of Wilson, daughter of Mrs. P. P. McCain, a former resident of Southern Pines, now also lives at Wilson, will serve as moderator for all the panel discussions.

Other consultants who are expected to take part in one or more of the various panel discussions include: C. E. Powers, guidance director of the Moore County school system (which includes all schools of the county except those of the Southern Pines and Pinehurst districts); Dr. Charles R. Vernon, department of psychiatry, University of North Carolina School of Medicine; and Mrs. Jean Council Richardson, of the UNC School of Medicine, who is supervisor of psychiatric nursing at N. C. Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Council, 160 E. Delaware Ave., is a graduate of Southern Pines High School.

JACKSON SPRINGS NEWS

Mrs. Sallie Clark, who is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. L. E. Ferguson in Decatur, Miss., writes that she enjoys keeping in touch with her friends in the Sandhills through the weekly county papers. For her friends here it is nice to know that Mrs. Clark is enjoying excellent health, attends church services regularly as well as other functions. We miss her loving kindness and hope that she can visit here this summer.

Mrs. George Barta, Jr. has returned to Little Neck, Long Island, N. Y. after spending last week with her father, M. A. Clark.

Mrs. Lewis Atkinson with Cynthia, Teresa and Michael of Peoria, Ill., are guests of her mother, Mrs. Ruth Flippin.

Joe Brown arrived home Friday following his tour of duty with the Armed Forces in Japan.

Calling on Miss Agnes Graham Sunday afternoon were Mrs. Neal Graham of Cameron and Miss Virginia Graham of Fayetteville. Mr. and Mrs. Whit Purvis of Williamston were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hudson.

Mrs. Claude Thomas is a patient at Moore Memorial Hospital.

Recent guests of the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Wilmont Brown and Mr. and Mrs. John Tighman and family of Hamlet; the Rev. and Mrs. Hamilton and family of Norman and the Rev. M. G. Brown of Laurel Hill.

Mrs. J. E. Currie is home after spending several days last week at Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill.

EXPENSIVE COMBINATION

Children and matches are an expensive combination. During the year 1959, children playing with matches caused 34,600 fires in the United States, destroying $22,380,000 worth of property.

"Keep matches out of reach of children, and in a closed metal container away from heaters, fireplaces and cooking ranges," parents are urged.
