WEST END NEWS

By SALLIE AUMAN

Prize Winners
West End is always proud of its school but never more so than Saturday when the seventh graders won three out of the possible eight places in the North Central District Science Fair at N. C. State College, which includes 16 counties.
Vernon Sutphin won first place in the junior physical division with his project on the "Effect of Insulation on Building Materials." Also in the junior physical, Parks Blake and Donald Thomas won third place in "Crystallography." In the biological division, Jesse Kimball and William Johnson received a certificate of merit, fourth place, with their experiment "The Artificial Hibernation of the Frog." Kay Brown and Judy Hartsell received a certificate of merit with their project, "Reproduction and Experiments with Plants."
Accompanying the contestants were their teacher, Mrs. Lena Ladu, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Jr. and Mrs. Lee Sutphin. Principal R. P. Johnson also attended the fair and declared he knew the children would win because he had observed their excellent work during the year.
Others at the fair were Mrs. North Lewis with Rick and Chuck and Douglas Tuttle and Richard Wilson. To us in West End it is almost unbelievable that this small school could do so well in competition with city schools and the larger schools in the district.
Present Play
Members of the senior class gave an excellent presentation of "The Rainbow Girl" at the school Friday evening to a capacity filled auditorium. In behalf of the class, Jimmy Melton expressed appreciation to the audience and to the firms who advertised on the programs. Miss Bert McCrummen was presented a gift in appreciation of her untiring efforts in behalf of the play by class president, Beverly Vest.
Immediately following the program, Mrs. John Bost and Mrs. Clyde Auman honored the seniors, their parents, the class mascots, and the faculty at a reception in the home economics rooms.
Miss McCrummen received with the members of the cast Judy Upole, Julia Hanner, Nancy Green, Juanita Bost, Janice Clark, Brenda Richardson, Nancy Auman, Wayne Carter, Rodney Smith, Gary Rushing, and Roy Williams, Jr.
Assisting the hostesses in serving were Angelina VonCanon, Lula Kennedy, Brenda Williams, and Nancy Martin.
Conducts Worship Service
The Senior High Fellowship was in charge of the worship service at the family night supper Sunday at the Presbyterian Church. Serving as hostesses for the get-together were Miss Cona Donaldson, Mrs. Roy Carter and Mrs. Leslie Gordon.
At NCEA Meeting
Attending the meeting of the North Carolina Education Association in Asheville Thursday through Saturday were Mrs. Claude Thomas and Miss Treva Auman. They were both delegates from the Moore Units of the NCEA and the Classroom Teachers. They stopped for a visit at Davidson College with George, Watts and Bobby Auman.
Fire Department Prompt
The Clyde Auman family awakened about 12 o'clock Saturday night to find their home filled with smoke. Unable to find the source, they called the fire number. It could hardly have been more than five minutes before the fire truck and the firemen were at the scene, two miles from the fire station. On investigation, it was discovered the motor in the dishwasher had burned and no further damage was done. This community appreciates the volunteer department which is doing such an excellent job.

Study Course
The Rev. W. H. Brown presented a study course on the Basic Christian Beliefs to the Methodist Women on Sunday evening Mrs. A. J. Hanner presided at the meeting and was hostess to a social hour. Linda Williams served as pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Poole with Ley of Chapel Hill spent the weekend with the Hawley Pooles and attended the Steeplechase Saturday afternoon.
