

HAPPY BOY—John David McRae, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. (Buddy) McRae of Vass, proudly holds a three-pound bass he hooked, fishing with his own new rod and artificial bait in the private pond of W. S. Ring, out from Vass on the Union Church road. The boy's daddy, in whose store at Vass the photo was made, helped him land his catch. Mr. Ring said that he had been fishing near the lucky young angler for some time without getting a single bite.

THE STATE'S BIGGEST SHOW—State Fair at Raleigh—is coming up with another big series of daily programs with wide variety of interests. From old steam engines and horseless carriages, from apples to watermelons, from blooded beef and dairy cattle to Texas Longhorns and cowboys, farm power from oxen to diesel tractors, thrilling rides from kiddie size carousels to big double Ferris wheels, displays from baby booties to the spacious "Atom and You", and Armed Service exhibits from the Alan Shepherd space capsule to the new mechanical mule—in all six full days of education, inspiration and entertainment from Monday, October 16, through Saturday, October 21.

PINEBLUFF NEWS

WMU Meets
The Woman's Missionary Union of Ives Memorial Baptist Church met at the church Monday evening. Fifteen members answered roll call. Mrs. Simeon Hunt, president, presided and heard reports. Mrs. Abram Van-Boskerck was in charge of the program, "That Thy Way Be Known In Malaya and Indon-

Circle Meets
The Morning Circle of Pinebluff Methodist Church met on Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. M. F. Butner. Mrs. Julian Scott gave a most interesting talk on Latin America. Mrs. Harvey Latham, chairman, presided. Following the meeting the hostess served refreshments.

Entertain at Shower
The Town Hall was the scene for a lovely party on Thursday night when Mrs. J. D. Mangum, Mrs. O. C. Adcox, Mrs. W. K. Carpenter, Sr., Mrs. Nan Miller, Mrs. K. G. Deaton and Mrs. H. H. Troutman entertained at a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Janice Wylie. A corsage of white carnations was presented the honoree. Mrs. R. G. McCaskill was winner in a game of skill. She received a prize for tearing the most perfect wedding bell with her hands behind her. After the gifts were opened and acknowledged refreshments were served. Mrs. Clay Parker poured coffee and Mrs. Hurley Short poured tea. The table was lovely with a white lace cloth and arrangement of mixed flowers with white tapers in crystal holders. About 50 guests were present.

Cake Cutting
Mrs. Ethel Edwards and Mrs. J. D. Mangum were hostesses at a cake cutting immediately following the rehearsal on Saturday night. The party took place in the recreation room of the Pinebluff Methodist church. The table was covered with a white linen cut work cloth and an arrangement of mixed flowers and candles were used. A lovely three-tiered wedding cake graced the table. Mrs. O. C. Adcox poured coffee and Mrs. Ehrman Pickler cut the cake.

Methodist Homecoming
Homecoming will be observed at the Pinebluff Methodist Church Sunday, October 15, with the Rev. G. W. Crutchfield, pastor of Christ Methodist Church, Fayetteville, as guest speaker. Following the service, dinner will be served in the recreation room of the church. It is hoped that all will remain for dinner and enjoy an hour of fellowship together. Plan to attend and bring all the family. A nursery has been provided to care for the very young.
