Now there's a sensible trade for you—an umbrella on washday for a dryer on any day. And nicest thing of all is that clothes and people stay dry, no matter how wet the weather. Drizzle or downpour makes no difference to a flameless electric dryer. For any day is washday as it gently tumbles and fluff-dries your clothes, safely, cleanly, quietly. No more windswept clothesline to whipsnap the wash to a frazzle. Instead you'll discover that clothes, linens and towels last longer when you dry them electrically. Stormy weather's here to stay so why not trade that trip to the clothesline for a trip to a nearby electric appliance dealer. Let him show you how a flameless electric dryer helps you dial your own sunshine, automatically.
