Pernowicz of Windham, Ohio. The wedding took place Saturday, October 14, at Holy Trinity Church in Washington, D. C. The bride is a 1958 graduate of Virginia Intermont College and attended Marjorie Webster Junior College, graduating in the class of 1960. She is now working in the Washington area. Mr. Pernowicz is a graduate of Kent University and is now in his junior year at Georgetown University Medical School. He plans to practice medicine in Windham, Ohio.

Mrs. Howard Has 75th Birthday Party With Family Here

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Marley were hosts at a family dinner Saturday night at their home honoring her mother, Mrs. J. McRae Howard of Concord on her 75th birthday. Mrs. Howard is spending this week with the Marleys.

Guests for dinner were the honoree's sons and daughters and their families—Mr. and Mrs. George Robert Howard of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. J. McRae Howard and sons, Lorick and Mac, Jr. of Augusta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Turner, their son, Morrison and daughter, Mrs. Carleton Lawrence and her children, Jane and Hank, of Mebane; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Hamilton, Jr., their daughter Claire-Jo of Wilmington and son, Steve, of State College.

Also, the Rev. and Mrs. Michael Ross Howard and daughters Judy and Beth, of Kannapolis; Mr. and Mrs. William Marley of Atlanta, Ga. and his brother, Joe Marley, Jr., of Campbell College.

Two of Mrs. Howard's sons, one in Texas and one in Georgia, and a grandson in New York, who were unable to be here Saturday, called her long distance.

Need For Volunteer Workers Stressed at St. Joseph's Guild Meet

Members of the St. Joseph of the Pines Hospital Guild, gathering for their first meeting of the fall season at the hospital Tuesday afternoon, made plans for a membership drive and heard an appeal for volunteer workers and volunteer nurses aides.

Mrs. Audrey K. Kennedy, president, presided. Looking toward increased membership in the Guild, she asked that each member bring one guest who is interested in the hospital to next month's meeting.

The need for volunteer workers—for sewing, making dressings, packing linen and work on the switchboard—was outlined by Sister Catherine. New, attractive smocks for volunteer workers were displayed.

Tentative plans for a nurses aide course, to train volunteer aides for hospital work, were discussed, and the need for volunteer aides was stressed. A course on simple nursing procedure, to begin Monday, November 6, was announced. Interested persons are asked to get in touch with Sister Virginia or Sister Catherine at the hospital.

The course, which is part of the Red Cross care of the sick and injured program, will be taught on Mondays for 10 weeks.

Benefit events in coming months were announced as: a bingo party sponsored by men of St. Anthony's Catholic Church to be held November 29 at the Southern Pines Country Club; a program by the children's choir of St. Anthony's in December; a buffet dinner and card party at the hospital, scheduled for January 10; and the annual Dunes Club hospital benefit event. Reports were received from the recording secretary, Mrs. Walter Davenport of Pinebluff, and from the treasurer, Mrs. Jerry Healy of Southern Pines. Tea was served after the business session.

Ties Featured in Par Seekers Tourney

Mrs. George Pottle and Mrs. A. N. Derouin tied for first prize in Wednesday's Par Seekers' tournament, a match play against par event played at the Southern Pines Country Club.

Low gross winner was Mrs. Carlos Fry who tied Mrs. Pottle for low net. Mrs. Edwin Regan won low putts.

SANDHILL B&PW CLUB WILL HEAR MRS. SWALIN TONIGHT IN ABERDEEN

Mrs. Maxine McMahon Swalin of Chapel Hill will speak to the Sandhill Business and Professional Women's Club at their meeting tonight (Thursday) at 7:15 p.m. at the Aberdeen Methodist Church education building.

During her 26 years of marriage to Dr. Benjamin Swalin, director of the North Carolina Symphony, Mrs. Swalin has been more than a housewife and conventional helpmate to her gifted husband. A talented and industrious person, she has for a number of years been both musician and administrative assistant to the Orchestra and has been commentator for the Symphony's special free children's concerts since 1942.

Mrs. Swalin will deliver an illustrated lecture using colored slides to show the evolution of certain orchestral instruments through paintings and art works of the old masters. Born in Iowa, she received musical training at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City, and is an alumna of the University of Iowa and Radcliffe College. Much interested in adult education, she is especially concerned with continued opportunities for women, and often stresses the need for women to be given the chance to use their talents and their education to make significant intellectual or social advances.

Since 1939, Mrs. Swalin has been executive assistant for the N. C. Symphony and has also played both the piano and the celesta with the orchestra during that time. She also found time to teach school for a number of years in Chapel Hill and Oxford.

Mrs. D. W. Mann is president of the Sandhills B&PW Club which will be host to Mrs. Swalin tonight.

Girl Scout Council Sponsors Adult Training Courses

Adult leaders in both boy and girl scout work and teachers in other fields, will be given the opportunity to explore creative possibilities in arts and crafts when the Little (Arts) Caravan II makes its second appearance at the Pinehurst Community Church November 1. Hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Under sponsorship of the Central Carolina Girl Scout Council, the Caravan, comprising 10 members, will instruct in dancing, singing, acting and art work—by demonstrations, and in the use of materials, to be utilized in troop planning.

There is a minimum registration of 20, and all interested adults must have registrations into the Sanford headquarters of the Central Carolina Council by October 25.

Basic Leaders Course
Prospective leaders, as well as current girl scout troop leaders, are urged to enroll in the basic leadership course being offered at the United Church of Christ October 30, 31 and November 2 (the one-day interruption will allow adult leaders to participate in the Little Arts Caravan course).

Mrs. W. P. Davis and Mrs. Carl Wallace will teach the course in troop leadership from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for the three days. With troop leadership methods changing and improving, Mrs. Davis stressed the importance of these refresher courses for both experienced leaders and for those unable at present to assume the responsibility of a troop who may be able to do so in the future.

"Learning the proper management of a troop through these leadership courses makes the work of a troop leader 50 percent easier," said Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Fred Weaver Thrilled to Meet JFK at Chapel Hill

On a Sunday visit here with her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. W. Causey and her family, Mrs. Fred Weaver was still starry-eyed over meeting President Kennedy following ceremonies Thursday in Chapel Hill's Kenan Stadium when the President was awarded an honorary degree from the University of North Carolina.

The wife of Fred Weaver, an Aberdeen High School graduate who is now secretary of the Consolidated University at Chapel Hill, Mrs. Weaver shared front row stadium seats with Governor Sanford's wife and with Mrs. William Friday, wife of the Consolidated University's president, while the ladies' husbands were on the platform with JFK.

Buchholz Family Sees USS North Carolina

Among early visitors to the USS North Carolina, now permanently berthed at Wilmington and opened for inspection last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. John Buchholz and their six children, who went to Wilmington Sunday after four days' vacation at Sunset Beach.

Mr. Buchholz, an honorary Admiral of the ship because of his assistance with the local VFW Club in raising money to bring the North Carolina home, was welcomed aboard with his family.

Mrs. Buchholz reported there were many visitors, especially youngsters, to the ship. Crews are working on parking facilities closer to the berth, as visitors now have to park about a mile away.

the old masters. Born in Iowa, she received musical training at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City, and is an alumna of the University of Iowa and Radcliffe College. SANDRA WICKER

Pinehurst Girl Scout Will Attend Science Conference at Duke

Sandra Wicker of Pinehurst has been selected by the Central Carolina Girl Scout Council to represent the Senior Scouts at the Science Conference "Horizons Unlimited," to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 8-10 at Duke University.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wicker of Pinehurst, Sandra is one of five Senior Scouts chosen. The other four are Pamela Fitchett of Pittsboro; Brownie Kennedy of Buies Creek; Dawn Baker and Virginia Shankle of Sanford.

The following three alternates were also selected: Sally Poindexter, daughter of Mrs. T. G. Poindexter and Ann Arey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arey, both of Aberdeen, and Pety Rae Carrington, daughter of Mrs. Robert Carrington of Pinebluff.

This will be the third science conference the Senior Girl Scouts have attended. Its purpose is to show girls of high school and college age what is going on in the world of research and what kind of jobs there are for women in research. This year, the conference, on medicine, will be held in Hanes Medical Research Laboratory. Last year's subject was fiber and tobacco research.

Pinehurst Club's First Buffet of Season to Be Held October 26

The first of the season's popular Thursday evening buffet supper is scheduled for October 26 at the Pinehurst Country Club from 7 to 8:30 p. m.

Reservations should be made by Wednesday, October 25, for the buffet, which is open to Pinehurst Country Club members and their guests.

John Pottle, manager of the Club's dining room, expressed the hope this week that all the ladies here for the fourth annual Women's North & South Invitation tournament October 24-26, would be there for the supper.

Legion Auxiliary Met With Men of Legion Thursday

The American Legion Auxiliary met in joint session with the Legionnaires Thursday night at the Legion Hut, with Miss Gussie Cameron, president of the unit, presiding.

The treasurer reported that the recent white elephant sale netted the sum of $15.85 for the treasury.

A new member, Mrs. Clare W. Sauer, was welcomed by the president. She has been appointed Pan-American chairman and liaison officer of the unit.

Mrs. W. E. Cox was appointed membership chairman for 1962. The membership drive has already been launched and the first Department roll call will be November 15.

Rehabilitation Chairman Mrs. J. S. McLaughlin announced a project to aid hospitalized veterans who have writing ability by sending supplies for their use. The members voted to participate in this new project.

A lively discussion of current events and world crises followed the business session.
