

Local Gas Office Stages Promotion

N. J. Kroencke, manager of the Southern Pines office of the North Carolina Natural Gas Corp., said this week that the local office is cooperating in a nation-wide "Operation Price Drop" promotion for natural gas appliances.

The promotion is symbolized by an Army parachute which provides a canopy in the display room, with guidelines leading to various appliances on view there.

Man Appeals Sentence to Year on Roads For 2nd Offense of No-License Driving

An appeal to Superior Court was entered by Clyde Wall, 46, of Carthage, after he was sentenced to a year on the roads for a second offense of driving after his license had been revoked, in Moore County Recorder's Court at Carthage, Monday.

Wall was actually tried on two identical charges Monday, with a year on the roads given in each case, but designated by Judge J. Vance Rowe to run concurrently. No privilege of suspended sentence was given in either case. Appeal bond was set at $500.

A 16-year-old Route 2, Cameron, youth Ray Whitaker, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, resulting in personal injury, the weapon being a hammer handle to which a length of heavy chain had been taped and with which he slashed a Cameron community boy, John Marsh, 14, across the face and back, causing injuries that resulted in medical bills totalling $135. Injuries to the boy's mouth and teeth accounted for a large portion of the bills.

Judge Rowe sentenced Whitaker to four months at the State's First Offenders Camp, sentence suspended for two years on payment of a $25 fine and the costs and also on these conditions: that he pay Marsh's medical expenses, that he be of good behavior and not violate any law against assault or assault with a deadly weapon during the period of suspension, and that he be under the supervision and control of the State probation office. The sheriff was ordered to destroy the hammer-handle weapon.

Evidence showed that the assault took place after a community gathering at Cameron, argument about who was to take a girl home. Whitaker, it was stated, was not in the argument at first but became involved and produced the weapon with which the Marsh boy was struck.

In another assault case, Howard Sanders, 35, of Seagrove, was sentenced to eight months on the roads for assault with a deadly weapon, a .22 rifle but appealed to Superior Court. Bond was set at $500 which he had not made later Monday. He was accused of shooting at, but not hitting, one man and leveling his rifle at Deputy Sheriff I. D. Marley when Marley came to his house. Because of this, the warrant was amended to charge assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer.

Other cases heard Monday: Billy Ray Page, Route 2, Seagrove, drunken driving, possession of non-taxpaid whiskey, 60 days on the roads, suspended

Hospital Gets New Incubator

Moore Memorial Hospital in Pinehurst was the recipient this week of an Isolette Infant Incubator, according to an announcement by Duncan McDougal, administrator. The incubator, which makes two such isolettes for the hospital now, was provided by the North Carolina State Board of Health as part of a program to promote better care for the newborn.

The machine provides controlled temperature and humidity inside a transparent Plexiglas hood. Through portholes in the Plexiglas cover, the infant can be cared for completely without having to be removed from the incubator. The Isolette permits oxygen to be administered at safe levels, provides isolation from possible infection, and permits much better observation of the infant by both the physician and nursing personnel.

HOUSING LOANS

Rural housing loans are made for construction, repair, and remodeling of dwellings and essential farm buildings. In addition to major construction, funds are available to modernize homes—add bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens, and other home improvements, as well as to enlarge and remodel farm service buildings and put in related facilities such as paved feedlots, and to provide water for farmstead and household use.
