American Legion And Auxiliary Met On Veterans Day

The American Legion, Sandhill Post 134 and its Auxiliary, met Saturday evening at the Park View Hotel in recognition of Veterans Day. A chicken stew supper was served by the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sadler and Mrs. Helen Shea, Mr. Sadler is commander of the Post.

After the meal, business sessions were held in separate rooms, when members of both groups were urged to make every effort to increase their memberships.

All who have served their country in any branch of the armed forces can join the Legion, and their mothers, wives, sisters and daughters are then eligible for Auxiliary membership, as are above-named survivors of men who die while in active service.

Miss Gussie Cameron, president of the Auxiliary, presided over the unit's business session. They voted to send money this year to the Christmas Gift Shops at the four Veterans Hospitals in the state. Plans were made to assist in the gift-wrapping at the Fayetteville facility when hospitalized veterans will select the free gifts supplied by the auxiliaries to send home to the members of their families.

It was also decided to send prize money to the Fayetteville hospital to be used by the judges of the Hospitalized Veteran's Writing Project in this program recently launched by the National American Legion Auxiliary as a special rehabilitation plan to encourage writing among hospitalized veterans of special talent.

Mrs. L. L. Wooley, music chairman, read two articles from National News on the hymn of the month for October and November, "Immortal Love, Forever Full" and "O Worship the King."

Mrs. W. E. Cox, membership chairman, announced 29 paid-up memberships for 1962.

United Church of Christ Lists Meetings

The Rev. Carl Wallace, pastor of the United Church of Christ, will discuss "Stewardship Assumptions," in his sermon at the 11 a. m. worship service Sunday. Pledges toward the 1962 budget will also be received during the service and canvassers of the Every Member Canvass will lunch together at the church and visit non-attending members in the afternoon.

The Youth fellowships meet at 6 p. m. Sunday at the church to discuss "The Day of Thanksgiving."

Youth choirs meet Wednesday at 7 p. m., the senior choir at 9. The Women's Fellowship executive board meets in the church parlor at 2 p. m. November 25; the general meeting will follow at 3.

Thanksgiving Service

On Wednesday evening, November 22, at 8 p. m., the members of the church will join the Community Thanksgiving Service at the Southern Pines Methodist Church.

Guests Arriving This Week at Hollywood Hotel

Mrs. Edith Mudgett entertained at a cocktail party in the Dogwood Room.

Col. J. W. Falconer had guests for dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Edwards of Philadelphia have arrived to make the Hollywood their home. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards have spent some time here before when they lived at the Mayfair. Their many friends will be glad to greet them.

Mrs. F. M. Trimble and Mrs. Louise Fitch of Charlotte are visiting at the Hollywood. Both Mrs. Trimble and Mrs. Fitch formerly lived here.

Other guests are: Mrs. Mabel Ferris, Ridgeway, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dunham, Schenectady, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thomas, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; and Miss Ernestine Lowe, Elizabethton, Tenn.

Hollywood Bridge Club Winners Named

Bridge winners at Tuesday's regular session of the Hollywood Bridge Club were Mrs. J. M. Linsley, Mrs. P. P. Pelton, Mrs. Don Case and Mrs. Carl Foss. Mrs. Anna Longcope took the prize at the bolivia table.

MRS. IVES ANNOUNCES SHAW HOUSE OPENING; MRS. DARDEN IS MANAGER

Mrs. Ernest L. Ives, back at Paint Hill Farm, with Mr. Ives, after their summer in Italy and a visit in New York with her brother, Adlai Stevenson, informed the Pilot this week of the opening of the Shaw House on Monday.

The charming old house was one of the first restorations of the Moore County Historical Association. It is an island of quiet and other-worldliness, surrounded by ancient trees and an old-fashioned herb garden, right on the bustling corner of S. W. Broad Street and Morganton Road.

Mrs. A. P. Thompson of Pinehurst is Shaw House chairman, and this season, Mrs. William C. Darden of Southern Pines will have charge of the restaurant and tea room, and expects to introduce some provocative recipes to the luncheon and tea menus.

Visitors are urged to drop in for lunch or tea, said Mrs. Ives, and reservations for parties of six and over can be made by calling OX5-7385.

Featured in the Shaw House gift shop is pottery by Ben Owen, master potter of Moore County; pieces in Chinese white, blue and grey, with the Moore County Historical Association seal on each. Guest from Bath

Arriving Monday from Bath, England to visit the Iveses next week is Mrs. Edward Pryor, who will be the luncheon speaker at the annual meeting in Raleigh November 30 of the North Carolina Society for the Preservation of Antiquities, of which Mrs. Ives is past president.

With Mrs. Ives, Mrs. Pryor expects to visit Bath, N. C., now in the process of restoration by the State Society, and to bring messages and greetings from the Mayor and other dignitaries of Bath, England.

Over the September wedding of U. S. Ambassador William McCormick Blair, Jr. and Chicago socialite Catherine Gerlach in Copenhagen, which the Iveses attended as "stand-ins" for Blair's former law partner, Adlai Stevenson, Mrs. Ives enthused. "Bill Blair has always been the most wonderful manager," said "Euffie" Ives; "the whole thing was beautifully done—it was a circus, but a very chic circus."

Both Iveses enjoyed returning to Ernest's former Legation which Buffie noted has now grown to Embassy status. Everything has mushroomed around Copenhagen. She commented, since they were stationed there and they relished seeing new places and old friends.

Civic Club Hears Talk on Fallout Dangers, Precautions

The Civic Club had an illuminating scientific program on Civil Defense at its meeting Monday.

Speakers were Col. Donald Madigan, Civil Defense chairman for Moore County, and Capt. James E. Harrington, Jr., Nuclear Weapons Employment officer, who were introduced by Mrs. Virgil P. Clark, vice president and program chairman.

The speakers used a blackboard to explain technical points. Both were reassuring as to our present danger from long-term nuclear fallout, but pointed out that shelters would be needed for any local fallout.

They designated Charlotte as the most likely target for bombing, rather than Fort Bragg. Lower rooms, they noted, could be made into shelters as radioactive dust would settle on roofs and upper parts of buildings. After a few days, it would be safe to move outside. Skins of fruits and all cans, said the speakers, should be washed to remove dust from fallout.

Many questions were asked by the interested audience.

Mrs. Avery Evans, president, and Mrs. Charles Mumford, secretary, conducted the business meeting.

Tea was served by hostesses Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Mel Johnson, Mrs. Clinton Areson, Mrs. M. Y. Poe and Mrs. C. D. May. Miss Marion Bowles poured tea. Flowers decorating the room and tea table were arranged by Mrs. J. D. Sitterson and Mrs. Dean Dorman.

Fraziers Honor Her Parents on Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Nall of Lakeview were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary November 7 with a family party at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Frazier in Southern Pines.

Also present were another daughter, Mrs. George Miller and her husband and son, Barry, of Lakeview; Jimmy Frazier, Mike, Buddy and Norma Ruth Nall.

A three-tiered cake centered the table, which was decorated with magnolia leaves and candles. Homemade ice cream and peanuts were served to the guests, along with the cake.

Den Mothers of Local Cub Pack Get Certificates

Four basic training certificates in cub scouting were awarded Saturday to Mrs. Irma Herendeen and Mrs. Betty Koshak, den mothers of Pack 876.

Also receiving their cub scouts certificates, following the six-hour training session, were Mrs. Lauree Comer and Mrs. Frances Martin, both of Eagle Springs where they are starting a new cub scout pack.

Local Student Spots Fire in College Dorm; Alerts Fire Department

Miss Alice Ann Gamble and another student at Mercer University, Macon, Ga., turned in the alarm on a fire which started in Mary Porter Hall, the dormitory where the girls live, on October 27.

After all students in the dorm were evacuated, the Macon Fire Department quickly got the blaze under control. The fire was thought to have started in a mattress and flames spread to the curtains and other furnishings. Firemen received the call shortly after noon.

Miss Gamble is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Gamble of 460 E. Massachusetts Ave.

In general, rural counties have a much lower per capita income than urban counties.
