

TO SUPERIOR COURT

Hearing Waived By Man, Woman In Bigamy Cases

A man and a woman charged by their respective spouses with bigamy waived hearing in Southern Pines Recorder's Court yesterday and were bound over to the January term of Superior Court at Carthage. Bond was set at $1,000 for each by Judge W. Harry Fullenwider, and was made by each.

The defendants are Carl Eugene Sessoms, 29, of Manly, an Mrs. Josephine Charlotte Henson Cox, age not listed, of West End.

The warrant for Sessoms, issued November 3, was signed by his wife, Jane Farrell Sessoms now residing at Aberdeen. The warrant for Mrs. Cox, issued November 4, was signed by her husband, Bill G. Cox.

Both the warrants charge that Sessoms and Mrs. Cox, while legally married to their living spouses, contracted a bigamous marriage in South Carolina on September 24, and that the two defendants later lived together in North Carolina "feloniously and bigamously."

Mrs. Cox was represented at the hearing by Elsie Webb, attorney, of Ellerbe and Rockingham. Neither defendant took the stand and no evidence was heard.

Sessoms recently pleaded guilty to abandonment and non-support in Southern Pines Recorder's court and was directed to pay $30 weekly for the support of his three children who are with Mrs. Sessoms.

DETAILS—Details of the Southern Pines High School Band's new uniform are shown in this close-up view of Dickey Hoskins, a member of the band and president of the school's Student Council. (Bob Madigan photo)

Eagle Springs First Community to Reach Goal in 4-H Development Fund

Lynn Martin, chairman of the Eagle Springs 4-H Development Fund Drive, has announced that his community has gone over their $100 goal. He said that the citizens of Eagle Springs and the surrounding area has responded generously and a total of $120.50 has been given so far with several pledges yet to be paid. Mr. Martin expressed appreciation to all the people who contributed and praised the 10 persons who helped collect the donations.

Eagle Springs is the first of the communities in the county to meet its goal. Chairmen in the other communities are optimistic about the outcome. There are seven communities with a $100 goal and six with a $500 goal.

The community and town chairmen are conducting their campaigns in various ways. Businessmen, civic, industrial organizations and individuals are being asked to contribute.

The funds collected will be used to support the 4-H Club programs in those fields which are not supported by tax funds, such as camps, recognition, scholarships and the International Farm Youth Exchange program. The 4-H Development Fund is a permanent organization, set up to receive gifts in each of the 100 counties in the State of North Carolina. The Moore County chairman is George Ross of Jackson Springs and the County goal is $5,000.

Moore County is active in 4-H Club Work and has an enrollment of 1,100 boys and girls in its 23 4-H Clubs. The 4-H activities are largely carried out under the direction of C. E. Lewis, Jr., assistant county agricultural agent, and Miss Mary Braswell, assistant home economics agent.

Opening Meet of Moore County Hounds Filmed for TV, but Skies Were Gray

Despite gray skies, the opening meet of the Moore County Hounds was conducted in fine style Thanksgiving Day, with numerous participants and spectators, enlivened by filming of the event in color for the NBC "News Special" television program.

It had been hoped that sunlight would be the order of the day, to bring out the bright colors of pink-coated riders, blue sky and longleaf pines, but Nature did not cooperate.

However, both the NBC crew and local members of the hunt seemed pleased with results. An advance film of the event, to be presented nationally next March, is expected to be available here for a private showing soon.

W. O. Moss joint master with Richard Webb of the pack, spoke to riders and spectators before the filming began. Nobody got in the way after proceedings started and the whole project was well handled.

The drag hunt was followed by breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Webb on Youngs Road.

efforts, including youth recreation programs, improvements to churches and other public buildings, improvements to homes and many other community activities. Awards Listed

Awards in each of the divisions of the contests were $100, $75, $50 and $25 for first through fourth places, although only three awards were made in the "farm" division.

Farm—First, Mount Pleasant (Richmond); second, Uwharrie (Montgomery); third, Pocket (Lee); and fourth, Juniper (Moore).

Non-farm — First, Cordova (Richmond); second, Digmus (Lee); third, Glendon (Moore).

Taylor Presides
Fred Taylor of Troy and Pinehurst, the outgoing SADA president, presided until Mr. Cadiou took over the rostrum after his election.

Dr. Weaver, coordinator of N. C. agricultural programs, called area development "a tool by which people can control their destiny" by working at home to improve communities and bring in business and industry that will provide employment for their children as the children grow up.

He said that the four-county SADA area lost over 15,000 population, over the number moving in, during the 1950's and that this loss will continue if the area does not provide adequate employment for its young people.

Leadership and spiritual development vital to maintaining the nation's abundance and freedom are encouraged by area development programs, he said.

IN COURTROOM AT CARTHAGE

Public Address System Installed

A new public address system was in use in the courtroom at Carthage Monday, during the regular session of Moore County Recorder's Court.

As now installed, the system includes a microphone in the witness box and five speakers around the walls of the courtroom. Officials said that another microphone will probably be installed on the judge's bench and other speakers will also be used if necessary.

Mrs. Estelle Wicker, county accountant, said that a number of estimates on the equipment were received, running between $450 and $500. The system in the courtroom was installed by Edwards Radio and TV Service of Robbins. The job was given to that company, Mrs. Wicker said, because it was the only firm that had the equipment on hand and ready to install.

COMMUNITIES

(Continued from page 1)
ingham; president; Herbert Brewer of Sanford, vice president; and Ward Hill of Southern Pines, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr., of Southern Pines, for Moore; Harold Mansfield of Route 2, Sanford, for Lee; James R. Allred of Route 1, Ellerbe, for Richmond; and a director to be named later for Montgomery.

Visiting speaker was Dr. D. S. Weaver, coordinator of agricultural programs in North Carolina and former State College Faculty member and director of the Extension Service. He was introduced by F. D. Allen, Moore County agricultural agent.

Division chairmen elected, along with the officers and directors, were:

Agricultural Development — Clay Bruton of Mt. Giliad, chairman; T. Clyde Auman of West End, vice-chairman.

Community Development — Mrs. D. W. Hurley of Biscoe, re-elected chairman; Earl Key, vice chairman.

Industrial Development—Glenn Lee, Sanford, chairman; Ralph Talton, Rockingham, vice chairman.

Travel and Recreation—Alwin Folley, Southern Pines, chairman; J. E. Honeycutt, vice chairman.

The Sandhill Area Development Association, like other such associations over the state, was formed to promote the development and progress of the four-county area in industry, business, recreation and agriculture, stressing the inter-dependence of these activities.

Rural communities have demonstrated a keen interest in the program, as evidenced by the awards made Tuesday night.

Community leaders, called on for explanations of what they had done, related a wide variety of

Jane Owen Will Speak at Annual 4-H Club Event

Jane Owen of Route 2, Seagrove, who spent the summer and early fall in France as an International Farm Youth Exchange representative, will speak on her experiences at the annual Moore County 4-H Achievement Night to be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Carthage High School cafeteria.

Awards will be presented to 4-H boys and girls who are winners in various farm and home projects and activities during the past year.

All 4-H Club members, their parents and interested persons are invited to attend.

Miss Owen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen. She will return in January to her studies as a senior at Pfeiffer College.

Horne's 'Circus Grille' Will be Built at Aberdeen

A Circus Grille Restaurant seating 100 persons will be constructed by Horne's Enterprises, Inc. at the intersection of U. S. Highway 1 and South St., in Aberdeen, it is announced by Frank Shamburger of Aberdeen, owner of the site.

The location is on the southwest corner of the stoplight intersection, opposite Moore Motor Co. The site requires further earth fill and this work is now going on. Construction is scheduled to start in about 60 days.

The new operation will be a major unit in the Horne's chain of 30 grilles, candy and gift shops in nine states and also will feature Gulf petroleum products. Mr. Shamburger is Gulf oil distributor in this area.

Basketball Will Be Fully Covered

Competition on the basketball courts of Moore County high schools will be well covered for Pilot readers during the coming season.

Joel Stutts of Southern Pines will report on all games of the county conference, which are usually played Tuesday and Friday nights, with both boys and girls teams participating. Highlights of both Friday and Tuesday games will appear each Thursday in The Pilot, provided the information has been given to Stutts by the required deadline.

All Southern Pines High School games will be covered in further detail by Ronald McCrimmon. The Pilot's high school sports reporter. Stories by both Stutts and McCrimmon appear in today's Pilot.

GREENE ENDORSED

Paul C. Greene was endorsed Monday by the Moore County Democratic Executive committee for rural mail carrier on Route 3, Carthage. Greene is now employed at the Carthage post office.

BAND DRIVE

(Continued from Page 1)

dent of the Student Council:

By DICKEY HOSKINS

The Southern Pines High School Band has been fortunate enough to receive brand-new uniforms for the present season.

The uniforms are different from the old ones in a few features. Instead of the regular officer-style hat, the familiar "West Point shako" with the plume on top is being used. Also a leather belt with big silver-colored buckles is being used for extra decoration on the light blue jackets. The pants are the same familiar blue with a large white stripe running down the side.

The new uniforms have already done much for our high school band. The rise in morale and general interest is amazing. During the last football game, people turned their heads to see the band march out with the majorettes in the lead. The plumes and white shoes all seemed to move down the field exactly together.

Many people wonder what is going on within the walls of the band room. The band is getting ready for their first concert of the season which will be given at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting in December. The Glee Club will also perform. The program for the band will be on a Christmas theme, however, other selections will be played for general enjoyment.

Mr. McAdams and the band members hope that, in the future the community will support the band and continue to do so. We cannot amply express how important it is for the town to be interested in the music program in the school.

Many times people get the feeling that children and young people are not interested in music. It is true that teenagers often listen to music which is offensive to many people's musical taste. But the trend is not towards popular music in the world of the young person; he is becoming more interested in the music of the past, as well as that of the future.

The young person of today is playing more instruments. He is beginning to listen carefully to all kinds of music and he is developing an acute musical taste. Contrary to the opinions of many, most young people appreciate classical music.

Young musicians are playing Bach, as well as Rogers and Hammerstein; they are playing all kinds of instruments from zithers to bassoons. This ability should be cultivated to a degree that will bring enjoyment to them and those who are associated with them. It does not matter how old you are, or how young; you can become a concert hall musician; the main things that can be derived from music are enjoyment, expression and communication. Those in the band are seeking this sense of expression through playing with a musical organization. We should support musical programs in our community, churches and schools.

A well-earned thank you to hundreds of thousands of Savings Bond volunteers

by Douglas Dillon, Secretary of the U.S. Treasury

AS THE Twentieth Anniversary Year of the United States Savings Bond Program draws to a close I want to thank, on behalf of the Treasury and the United States Government, all those volunteers who have given their time and effort to increase the sale of bonds.

They and other Americans who have bought and who are, in increasing numbers, continuing to buy bonds, can take pride in a very real contribution to the strength of our nation.

To all those then, who have, over the last 20 years, invested their time and their money in the welfare of their country, I say thank you and well done.

Our task, however, is not over. It is, in a sense, just beginning. As we enter upon the future, such patriotic efforts become increasingly more important. I do not have to remind you of the peril to freedom in the world today. By purchasing bonds, and by encouraging others to do so, through state, county, and local volunteer Savings Bond efforts, Americans contribute significantly to our defense against that peril.

Douglas Dillon

Who are the Savings Bond volunteers?

These dedicated men and women are the workers who keep the Savings Bond Program ticking. Each state has a chairman. All 3,000 American Counties have chairmen. Many have served the full 20 years. Next time you meet a Bond volunteer, say, "Thanks for helping to keep America strong and free."

You save more than money with U.S. Savings Bonds

Buy them where you work or bank