Defendants in Felony Cases In Local Court

Defendants in two felony cases appeared in Southern Pines Recorder's Court yesterday and made bond for appearance at the January term of Moore County Superior Court in Carthage.

Probable cause was found by Judge W. Harry Fullenwider in a hearing for Edward Stubbs of 583 S. Gaines St., on charges of careless and reckless driving and manslaughter. Stubbs was the driver of an automobile that ran off the old Southern Pines-Pinehurst road several months ago, killing two persons. His appearance in court had been delayed by long hospitalization for injuries he had received. Bond was set at $2,500. He pleaded not guilty at yesterday's hearing.

David H. Johnson, 33, of Route 3, Fayetteville, waived hearing on a charge of obtaining money by false pretense. He is accused of recovering by false pretense $250 of a $500 insurance payment made to a local woman. Bond for him was set at $1,000.

Dr. A. A. Vanore Of Robbins Named To School Group

Dr. A. A. Vanore, Robbins physician, has been appointed by Gov. Terry Sanford to the North Carolina Citizens Committee for Better Schools.

As a member of the State Committee, Dr. Vanore will participate in a state-wide campaign to promote and support school improvement. The Committee for Better Schools will work with state and local educational leaders to help build public understanding and support of high quality education.

One of the first responsibilities of the members of the Better Schools Committee will be to work with local school officials to organize an education rally in the county, to which the Governor will be invited to speak. At the rallies, emphasis will be placed on citizen, parent, and student responsibility for school improvement.

The education rally will be the first of several projects designed to promote interest in school improvement on the local level.

CHEER PROGRAM

The VFW is not repairing and distributing toys this year. However, persons wishing to give such items as bicycles, wagons or toys to some family with children can get the names of suggested needy families from the welfare office in Carthage.

Chairmen in County
Christmas Cheer program chairmen or organizations for communities over the county were listed as follows by Mrs. Cole, in addition to the VFW here:

Aberdeen, M. B. Pleasants; Pinehurst, Mrs. James Tufts; Pinebluff and Ador, volunteer fire department; Carthage, Kin Suggs; Robbins, the Rev. A. R. Helms; Vass and Little River Township, the Woman's Club—Mrs. W. J. Morgan; Lakeview, Mrs. Bessie Griffin.

Also: Jackson Springs, H. C. Carter; Eagle Springs, Ruritan Club; West End, Mrs. Everett Cole; Glendon, Mrs. Richard Dowd; Highfalls, Newland Upchurch; Cameron, Mrs. Merle S. Gaines.

Mrs. Cole said that unemployment among laboring people such as sawmill workers has not been as high this fall as it sometimes is at this season of the year, but that there is considerable need for welfare help around the county.

She said that there are a number of totally disabled workers who have not been in that condition long enough to draw Social Security benefits and whom the county welfare department must provide for until these benefits are received.

A record of 143 million bushels of soybeans were exported by the U. S. in fiscal 1961. Other notable exports were for corn, hides and skins, variety meats, and poultry meats. Fruits and dairy products held firm. Major reductions were in animal fats, cottonseed and soybean oils, and vegetables.

The pulp and paper mills in the 11-state Southern area represent an investment of $3.7 billion. Florida has the largest investment for any one state, with mills valued at $632 million.

Catholic School To Close Friday, Open January 8

St. Anthony's Catholic school will close Friday at noon for the Christmas recess, to reopen Monday morning, January 8, according to announcement by Sister Catherine Leonard, principal.

On January 9, the schoolchildren will hold their Epiphany party, featured by a play, "The Three Kings," produced and staged by the Civics Club, comprising members of the seventh and eighth grades. The school PTA will serve refreshments.

The Sisters composing the staff of the school will remain here during Christmas. The schoolchildren's choir, with singers from the fourth through eighth grades, will sing the traditional Christmas midnight mass at St. Anthony's Church. (See schedule of services elsewhere on this page.)

GOOD NEWS

The two chairs are the most modern type, light, but strongly made of chrome construction. They fold up to go in cars and store easily.

Also, at a meeting held December 13, the committee, of which Mrs. William Wood, of Pinebluff, is chairman, voted to allocate $1,500 towards the fund for the erection of the main building at the camp for crippled children. This is the camp that is to be built north of the Pine Needles golf course, on the old Preacher Simpson farm. The lake there is already under process of construction. Good News indeed!

A different kind of good news, but highly satisfactory, is the news that the new lighting fixtures, to dress up to the town for Christmas, look fine. Of course, everybody hoped they would, but even those who selected them were probably on edge, wondering what they'd really look like when they got up there. Well, they look gay and bright and pretty. What more could you ask?

Shoo To Christmas!

The great flocks of robins, starlings, blackbirds and all the rest seem to have gone on. Or maybe they're just resting up in the woods for a while. Is that "good news?" Well, cautiously we answer: maybe. We've got just a few berries left; not many; just a few. And a story we heard the other day set us thinking.

A man had hung a beautiful new Christmas wreath on his door. It was the prettiest they'd ever had, he was certainly pleased with it. The next morning he heard a commotion outside. Peeping out the window he beheld four or five big fat robins busily picking the holly berries off his wreath.

Wonder did his Christmas Spirit hold up under that test?

Did he shout: "Merry Christmas, birds!" or: "Shoo!"

"Prancing Elks" is the title of one Christmas card observed this year. The question arises: are our Elks and their Does still prancing after that stupendous party for the children they gave last week!

There was a lot of Good News going on among the kids as they rushed to get their presents from Santa. "Lookit what I got!" was the cry that went up from each grinning tot. Certainly the Elks handled their free-for-all with the Population Explosion in wonderful style.

Good News, too, from the collectors for the VFW who seem to feel that their baskets will, as usual, get filled. Of course: the more cash, the more cans, the more baskets to carry out to the needy. Such Good News can always be Better News. The Veterans' Christmas Party will be Sunday and members, it is rumored, are running a mile every morning early to get in trim for the event.

Good News and Bad News are combined in the report that, to date there have been 72 arrests in town this month for speeding and traffic violations. This menace couldn't be worse—but, yes, it could, if our town police force were not doing such an outstanding job. Good for the officers, good for our local court and very Good News for the town!

The Court itself is about as Good News as could come to any town. The conduct of the court, the wise and just decisions of the judge, tempered with sense and kindness, the atmosphere of dignity and respect for the law, make the Southern Pines court exceptional among municipal courts. This Good News is spreading, too, and that in itself is more Good News.

Good News, all truly good news, does spread: like the sun's rays lighting the dark spots. That's what Good News is.

Par-Bogey Contest Has 46 Entries at Pinehurst

Registering point sides of 46-48 for a 94-point total and the lead in Wednesday's Pinehurst Country Club tournament for men, a par-bogey contest for the best ball of all four partners, were William S. Anderson, Benjamin F. Kraffert, Frederick A. Landis and Clarence L. von Tacky.

Two teams scored identical points of 46-44 for a 90-point total to tie for the runner-up position—Woody Browning, Denis C. Crotty, L. Paget Rigby and Thomas C. Smith; and Dr. Duwayne D. Gadd, Dr. William F. Hollister, Dr. Michael T. Pishko and Peter V. Tufts.

Forty-six Country Club members participated.

BUILDERS CUP

Pines was master of ceremonies. Chris Shamburger, of Southern Pines was chairman of the Ladies Night Committee planning the event.

On the entertainment program were "The Four Singing Deacs," a male quartet from Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem, directed by Dr. Thane McDonald, head of the music department at the college; and six Japanese dancers, all wives of servicemen stationed at Fort Bragg. Mrs. Eddie L. Ervin, Jr., was at the piano for several songs sung during the evening. A number of door prizes were awarded.

Traditionally neither the recipient of the Builders Cup nor members of the club, except the selection committee, know in advance to whom the honor will go, and an effort is made to conceal the identity of the winner while he or she is being introduced and the activities for which the cup is being awarded are listed.

Mr. Gilmore's introduction of Mrs. Boyd, partly written in original verse, made direct or implied reference to various community organizations or activities in which she has been active—in most of them over a long period of years—including Girl Scout leadership, Red Cross, Moore Memorial Hospital, Southern Pines Library Association, Sandhills Music Association, Maternal Welfare and Moore County Historical Association.

Reference was made indirectly also to her presentation of a site for the Episcopal Home for the Aged.

"In conservation," Mr. Gilmore noted during his introduction, "no one has been more dedicated to the beauty of our county through the wise protection of our trees, plants and animals."

He mentioned, too, that The Pilot, under the editorship of Mrs. Boyd, has won five first places in state-wide newspaper contests in the last seven years. Mrs. Boyd has been editor of the newspaper since the death of her husband, James Boyd, in 1944. Mr. Boyd, novelist and poet, bought The Pilot in 1940.

"Just let me add this," he said. "A few years back, our winner, with characteristic concern for others, wrote a penetrating newspaper story about conditions in the boarding homes for Moore County's old people. The story concluded: 'Things are now a lot better than they used to be. . . but there is still a haunting doubt: Is this situation really good enough, or should we try for something better?'"

"Tonight's winner," Mr. Gilmore said in ending his introduction, "is our winner because of an abiding concern for her neighbors and her community and because she is ever 'trying for something better.'"

The first Kiwanis Builders Cup was awarded in 1927 to the late John R. McQueen. Since then it has been awarded annually except the four years, 1932 through 1935, and the three years, 1944 through 1946. If no suitable recipient is nominated, the cup is not awarded.

Mrs. Boyd is the sixth woman to have won the cup. The other women winners are: Mrs. T. A. Cheatham of Pinehurst (1937), Miss Birdilia Bair of Southern Pines (1943), Mrs. Audrey K. Kennedy of Southern Pines (1950), the late Mrs. William A. Way of Southern Pines (1952) and the late Miss Laura Kelsey of Southern Pines (1953).

Other recent winners, in addition to Mr. Gilmore in 1960, have been: Wilbur H. Currie of Carthage, 1959; John S. Ruggles of Southern Pines, 1958; John F. Taylor of Pinehurst, 1957; and Eugene C. Stevens of Southern Pines, 1956.

The 660 million bushels of U. S. wheat and flour exports were the largest on record. Cotton exports of 7 million bales were the second highest in over a quarter-century.

ACCIDENTS

of Sunbury, Pa.

Mrs. Welsh, a winter visitor to Southern Pines for many years, had made her home with her sister here since the death of her husband, Ralph Welsh, in 1955.

The May St. accident occurred when Miss Wolf's car, going south on May, was struck by Dark's car, going east on Massachusetts. Dark told police he entered the intersection on an amber light, thinking it was changing from red to green. However, it was changing to red and Miss Wolf, on a green light, was already in the intersection. She and her sister were on their way to Aberdeen.

Dark, a former furniture worker now unemployed, told police he had come to Southern Pines to try to buy pecans for resale and that he had become lost in town, trying to find the A & P store, when the accident happened.

Several high school students saw the accident and three of them attempted mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration with Mrs. Welsh—Bob Madigan, Dickey Hoskins and Ken Smithson. However, she was dead on arrival at St. Joseph's. She was thrown from the car by the impact of the collision.

In the parkway accident, the Williams car, traveling south, left the road on the curve between Midland Road and Pennsylvania Ave., crossing the center strip while overturning and coming to rest upright in the northbound lane. Both Williams and McNeill were thrown from the vehicle.

TROOPERS

The cards picture a trooper who says, "Speaking personally. . . here's what I want for Christmas. . . no deaths, no injuries, no accidents." Below is the message: "May your Christmas be filled with peace, goodwill and a prayer for 365 days of safe travel in 1962."

The holiday safety programs were announced locally by Sgt. J. S. Jones of Siler City who is in charge of Patrol operations in Moore, Lee and Chatham Counties.

COMMISSIONERS

ham-Moore County line, then new construction from there, mostly in Chatham County, for 3.5 miles to S. R. 2303, which then goes to Goldston.

The cost of the alternate, western route is $125,200, considerably less than the original route because of the cost of a new Deep River bridge. There already is an existing span across Deep River on the alternate route.

The breakdown of costs on the alternate route is: $52,500 for base and surface $31,500 for drainage, $18,000 for two culverts, $18,800 grading and $4,400 for clearing and grubbing.

Affect 15-501?
Moore commissioners asked about a route east of S. R. 1006 and tying into U. S. 15-501 about three miles east of Carthage to S. R. 1006 slightly south of S. R. 1626. However, Davidson Engineer T. C. Johnston, Jr., pointed out this was not part of the proposed costs and would be additional.

Informal observers have said if the new route is completed, including the route east of S. R. 1006 asked by Moore commissioners, there was a possibility U.S. 15-501 may be relocated from Carthage to Pittsboro. At present, the federal road passes through Sanford. However, if moved to the proposed highway, it would connect Carthage and Pittsboro via Goldston, missing Sanford.

The combined boards also said something should be done quickly on the proposed routes, because bids for the alternate route are scheduled to be advertised January 9 with projected letting of contracts January 30, 1962.
