Mrs. Spelman Hostess To 50 at Sandhills

Woman's Exchange Meet

After the first business meeting for 1962, refreshments were served with Mrs. John E. Dixon pouring tea and Mrs. Frank Gramelsbach pouring coffee.

The Exchange will hold a rummage sale in early March; as none was held last season, it is hoped this year's will be highly successful. Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Gramelsbach will be co-chairmen.

Tin Whistles, Other Golf Tourney Winners

"Unplayable weather" caused several carry-overs from 1961 into the new year of golf tournaments scheduled at the Pinehurst Country Club.

Among these was the Tin Whistles Club's final tourney for 1961, a par-bogey contest, which was completed January 3.

The event, figured on the best two scores of all four partners, resulted in a win for William S. Anderson, William J. Burke, Robert M. Pearse and John W. Roberts, with point totals of 144. Runners-up were John W. Lindsay, John D. McConnell, Hugh D. Stewart and Harry M. Taylor, 138 points.

Winners of the Tin Whistle event scheduled for Saturday and completed on Monday, were Harold A. Collins and Joseph W. Strode, who scored 40 in the better ball of pair contest.

Tied at 41 for runner-up position with Robert C. Fisher and Frederick A. Landis were Henry Flory and Roland R. MacKenzie.

TEEING OFF * WITH deNISSOFF

Mark Schorer, in his exhaustively detailed, and fascinating study of the late Sinclair Lewis ("Sinclair Lewis, an American Life"), notes that Lewis was deluged with letters of praise from fellow authors, following the publication of his first important literary contribution, "The novel" of the 20th Century—"Main Street."

Among these was one "of non-literary source..." which Schorer found sufficiently interesting to quote, from "a nearly legendary figure in Pinehurst, North Carolina:

Dear Sir I want to thank you very much for using my name in your wonderful story Main Street—every one here who has read the book say it is wonderful. Just now there is none on sale at news stands so I am loaning mine to friends. Again thank you I am very truly yours
Annie Oakley"

(Ed. note: Probably written during the time when Annie and her husband, Frank Butler, were living at the Carolina Hotel while she taught shooting at the Pinehurst Gun Club.)

Many others familiar or linked to the Sandhills wander in and out of the 814 pages of the text—Albert Payson Terhune, author and raiser of the famed Sunnybank breed of collie, a first cousin of the late Col. George P. Hawes of Pinehurst—was an usher at Lewis's first wedding, to Grace Hegger, and later gave Lewis credit for contributing three chapters to Terhune's book "Dad."

Former Pinehurst cottager, the late John Marquand, contributed some wry anecdotes about the capricious "Red" Lewis and Lewis and his second wife, his biographer mentions, were dinner guests of Struthers Burt's at the latter's villa by the sea at Hyeres.

Lewis's second wife was, of course, the late, "brilliant journalist" Dorothy Thompson, whom he met when she was a Berlin correspondent to the Philadelphia Public Ledger and the New York Evening Post, and Chief of the Central European Service.

Miss Thompson spent a part of almost every winter visiting her friends, the Wallace Irwins in Southern Pines, and was, on at least one occasion, a speaker at the Pinehurst Forum.

Pinehurst School Highlights

By Gene Maples and John Barry

Pinehurst played host to the Aberdeen Red Devils on January 3. Before this night was over, everyone had seen thrills well worth the price of admission.

The girls game, was fairly one-sided in Pinehurst's favor. Judy Cameron scored 30 of the Rebel's 39 points to run away with Aberdeen 39-19. The Rebels made 14 field goals to Aberdeen's nine and Pinehurst had 55 per cent accuracy from the line to Aberdeen's eight per cent.

The boys game pitted Aberdeen's hot center, Bobby Alpert, who averages around 25 points per game, against Pinehurst's own high-jumping center, Marshall Lewis.

At the end of the first quarter, Aberdeen was on top 16-9. It wasn't until late in the fourth quarter that Pinehurst trimmed the ir lead and went under the buzzer 45 all.

Pinehurst finally squeaked through in the overtime to win by a close 51-50.

Pinehurst had 59 per cent accuracy against Aberdeen's 50 per cent. Lewis was high scorer for the Rebels with 24 points, while Bobby Alpert of Aberdeen held his average with 30 points.

After the game, Marshall Lewis and Butch Hardy, who scored the winning field goal, were carried to the dressing room on the shoulders of their teammates.

A large crowd from Pinehurst went to West End on January 5—and public support, by the way, means a lot to the team. The Pinehurst girls were victorious, undefeated for nine conference games. Pinehurst got the edge on West End early in the first quarter. Toward half-time, West End trimmed our lead to 25-23 but Pinehurst came back to put a 51-43 margin between the Rebels and the West End Cardinals.

Judy Cameron, with 39 points, was high for PHS; Passer scored 18 points for West End. Pinehurst had 80 per cent accuracy and the rival team, 63.

As of January 5, the Pinehurst boys had a 12-0 record for the season's play. Their game with West End on that date proved a different story. This was an exciting game, even though our cheers failed to spur the Rebels to victory and the final score was 39-42.

Marshall Lewis and Bobby Norton scored 18 and 11 points respectively for Pinehurst. The Rebels made 11 of 21 free throws for 52 per cent accuracy.

The Pinehurst girls in Tuesday night's home game defeated Southern Pines by a close margin—40-39. Judy Cameron scored 19 for the home team and Peggy Worth scored 29 for Southern Pines. Pinehurst had 67 per cent accuracy and Southern Pines, 25 per cent.

The Rebels lost to Southern Pines 33-46. Eddie McKenzie scored 15 points and Harold Wilford 11 for the visiting team while locals Butch Hardy and Marshall Lewis scored nine and eight.
