THEATRE

Climaxing her meteoric rise to stardom, Diane McBain is cast in the title role of Warner Bros. production of Erskine Caldwell's "Claudelle Inglish," opening Sunday at the Sunrise Theatre, opposite Arthur Kennedy, Constance Ford, Will Hutchins and Claude Akins. Miss McBain stars as the beautiful daughter of a tenant farmer who brings tragedy to her neighbors, her family and herself with her wanton behavior after she has been jilted by the young man to whom she was engaged.

Produced by Leonard Freeman, who also wrote the screenplay, "Claudelle Inglish" was directed by Gordon Douglas and filmed near Stockton, California, where the terrain approximated that of the original Georgia setting of the story.

Caldwell is America's best-selling author. More copies of his books—"Claudelle Inglish" was his 37th novel—have been sold than those of any other author.

Director Gordon Douglas flew in a southern accent for Miss McBain during the filming of the picture. The accent came in the form of an hour tape of a conversation between a Georgia lawyer, a woman bank clerk and a librarian. The tape was designed as a guide to assure an authentic southern accent for Miss McBain, who also worked with Ken Rose, a dialogue director specializing in southern accents.

Walker to Speak At High Point Meeting Saturday

Local American Legion and Legion Auxiliary officials today reminded members of their organizations and other interested persons that the North Carolina Chapter of the National Indignation Convention will hold a state-wide meeting at the high school auditorium in High Point, Saturday, January 20, at 7 p. m.

Major Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who resigned from the Army in a controversy over troop education programs, will be the featured speaker. There is no admission charge.

The National Indignation Convention, which originated in Dallas, Texas, is planning to sponsor state-wide meetings in all states of the nation Saturday, to protest the sale of war materials to Communist countries, according to the local announcement.

Legion officials said that a Legion convention will be held at Winston-Salem Saturday. Local members attending may want to go to the meeting in High Point 12 miles from Winston-Salem that night, the local announcement said.

Rounds Speaks to Greensboro Club

Glen Rounds, local artist and writer, was guest speaker Monday night at a meeting of the Greensboro Writers Club in the Garden Room of Myers department store, Greensboro.

The Southern Pines man, who has written and illustrated more than 20 books, most of them fiction, has written and illustrated more young people, recalled how he has started as a writer and discussed other aspects of the profession.

He was accompanied to the meeting by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Rounds.

10 Hunters, 112 Hounds Bag 10 Foxes on Coast

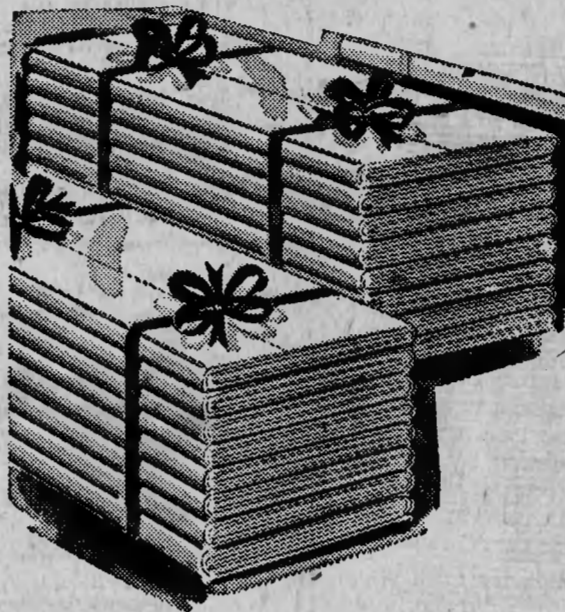

Long Beach on the North Carolina coast is a long distance to go for a fox hunt but the 10 hunters from Vass, Carthage, Sanford and Bear Creek produced evidence that their recent two-day venture was a success.

Ten gray foxes were brought home from only seven hours of chase. The hunters, accompanied by 112 Walker hounds, were Darrell Matthews, Calvin Blue, Tommy Richardson, Raymond Elkins, Arthur Bridges, Hubert Womack, William Blue, W. L. Cameron, Gordon Matthews and Lewis Garner.
