

Seedlings Offered By Paper Company

Halifax Paper Company, Roanoke Rapids, is inviting local participation in its cooperative pine seedlings distribution program, in its pulpwood purchase area. The company will provide up to 5,000 pine seedlings free, on a matching basis, to any adult landowner in this area. Up to 1,000 free seedlings will be given outright to 4-H, FFA and Boy Scout members, and members of other organized groups with conservation interests. Seedlings will be delivered at the landowner's convenience by Halifax foresters who will provide on-the-ground instruction in seedling care and proper planting technique. Anyone interested in obtaining pine seedlings through the Halifax program is urged to contact his local county agent, soil conservationist, vocational agriculture teacher or county forest ranger for information about application procedure.

SOUTHERN PINES RECORDER'S COURT

Youths Accused of Taking Money as They Walked With Man to His Home

Probable cause was found by Judge W. Harry Fullenwider in last week's session of Southern Pines Recorder's against two 19-year-old West Southern Pines residents, on charges of larceny from the person. The youths were ordered held for the grand jury at Superior Court in Carthage and bond for each was set at $1,000.

James Thomas Boggans and Vondell Nelson White pleaded not guilty to the charge brought by James Cassidy, age about 40, of West Southern Pines, who accused the youths of taking his pocketbook from him, unknown to him at the time, while they were walking with him to his home. He said the sum of between $6 and $7 in the pocketbook was gone from it when it was found empty later in his yard.

Denying the charge, the youths testified at the hearing that they were escorting Cassidy to his home because, they said, he was drunk and they were walking on each side of him helping to guide him homeward. Cassidy said he wasn't drunk and didn't need the attentions they forced on him. It was his belief, he testified, that one of the youths relieved him of his wallet while jostling him in the close personal contact of the walk to his home.

White made bond but Boggans could not immediately make his and he was taken to jail at Carthage. Judge Fullenwider meted out several unsuspended jail and prison terms last week, ranging from a few hours in the town jail to six months on the roads. There was no "walking" sentence. Recently the judge has been offering some defendants, especially in traffic cases, a choice of paying a fine or walking a certain distance or for a certain length of time.

Sentenced to six months on the roads for assault with a deadly weapon, Jesse McCrimmon of Aberdeen entered an appeal to Superior Court and bond was set at $500. Prior to defendant's appeal, Judge Fullenwider said he would reduce the sentence to four months if McCrimmon would turn the weapon used in his assault over to the police department.

Here is a summary of other cases heard:

John T. Michael, assault, two months on the roads, suspended for two months on payment of the costs and on condition that he not drink any alcoholic beverage for two months, report daily in person to his sister and not be found in any place selling alcoholic beverages, for two months; Kenneth Waddell, Charlotte, improper turn, failure to show proof of liability insurance, pay the costs; Everette N. Scott, Fayetteville, speeding 70 in 60 zone, $10 and costs; Maybell Ward Lawrence, speeding, $15 and costs, appeal to Superior Court entered, bond set at $100, appeal not perfected, judgment complied with.

Wallace Dameron, Fort Bragg, carrying concealed weapon, no pros with leave; Ray Boggs, Vass, affray, one month on roads; Marvin F. Gay, assault on female, six months on the roads, suspended for two years on payment of costs and on condition that he not be convicted of any similar offense or any offense involving alcohol for two years, to be committed to jail from 6 p.m. on day of trial to 6 a.m. the next day; Glenn Pope, Aberdeen, affray, one month on roads, suspended for 22 months on payment of costs and on condition that he not be found in any place selling alcoholic beverages for three months and not be convicted of a similar offense for 12 months, to be com-
