Trooper Samuels Elected President of Moore County Law Enforcement Group

Robert R. Samuels, State trooper stationed at Aberdeen while residing in Southern Pines, was elected president of the Moore County Law Enforcement Officers association last Thursday night.

Retiring president Judge J. Vance Rowe of Moore Recorder's Court presided over the annual meeting held following a steak supper at the Carthage Legion Hut.

Other officers elected were Earl S. Seawell, Southern Pines chief of police, vice president; Judge J. G. Farrell of Aberdeen Recorder's Court, secretary-treasurer (a reelection); and Sheriff W. B. Kelly, SBI Agent Gary Griffin, Probation Officer Cecil Shoaf and State Trooper T. S. Clark, members of the board of governors. Kelly and Shoaf live at Carthage, Griffin at Southern Pines and Clark at Robbins.

R. R. SAMUELS

In quitting the presidential office, Judge Rowe commented that there was no organization in the county he would be more proud of serving, and that he felt his term "capped the climax of my career of 27 and a half years on the county bench."

"Your responsibilities are great," he told the assembled officers, "and nowhere are these responsibilities assumed more seriously, more efficiently and more willingly than by the officers in Moore."

The program, following the election, was devoted to a discussion of the association's group insurance by the secretary, Judge Farrell. The insurance went into effect January 1 for members who are arresting officers, financed by annual dues and also by $1 added to costs of most criminal cases in all courts of the county.

The insurance program has started with a membership of 28, paying a $5 initiation fee and $12 annual dues. The additional funds from court costs vary from month to month, Farrell said, so far ranging between $216 and $327. This so far is not enough to cover all the cost for additional members, and the problem is how to facilitate the growth of the program without changes in fees. About eight new members are ready to join as soon as this can be worked out.

Guests at the meeting included

W. R. Austin and Ray Wicker, two of the three new state troopers recently added to the county's force; Bill Jackson, new Aberdeen policeman; Mayor Albert Cole of Cameron, County Commissioner W. S. Taylor of Aberdeen, Mayor Eutice Mills of Pinebluff and W. K. Carpenter, Sr., of Pinebluff, introduced as a candidate subject to the Democratic primary in May.

Burraidh Wins Carolina Cup, Camden; Flying Cottage Scratched by Injury

A longshot named Burraidh caught Fox Fair at the wire in the mud and rain Saturday to win the 28th running of the Carolina Cup race at the Springdale Race Course, Camden, S. C.

The crowd of 25,000 was drenched by heavy rain blown by high winds long before post time for the feature event of the annual steeplechase charity program.

Other results included:
The Wateree. 1. Miracle Moose; 2. Epervier; 3. Winged Star; 4. The Camden Plate: 1. Fiddling Whys; 2. Cumberland Gap; 3. Cedar Way; 4. Cool Cash.
The Baron Dekalb: 1. Hannah's Hill; 2. Indian Truce; 3. Crown Mont; 4. Correspond.

Barraidh, a seven-year-old bay gelding, had never won a race and his owner—Mrs. Joseph Mangione of Lexington, Ky.—said afterwards, "We said if he won today we'd never race him again."

Her husband, a veteran steeplechase jockey, was up on the winner, which was trained by Bill Braemer. The winning time of 6:52.3 was the slowest in Carolina Cup history and only the fifth time in 28 years that the race has gone beyond six minutes.

Fox Fair was second and Jamaica Boy, the leader during most of the three-mile test over 18 timber hurdles and second-placer in the Sandhills Cup here, one week before was third.

Flying Cottage, the pre-race favorite and Sandhills Cup winner at Stonebrook, was scratched due to a slight training injury, making the feature race a wide open event.

The Carolina Cup—dedicated to the memory of Harry D. Kirkover and Ernest L. Woodward, co-founders of the Carolina Cup races—was presented to the winning owner by Gov. Fritz Hollings. The win also carried a purse of $1,200.

Only three horses entered the co-featured Springdale Cup, a two mile run over brush, and the winner was Kamsin, with Roural second and Hindrance third.
