Easter Sunrise Services Held Over N. Carolina From Mountains to Sea

Sunrise services in unique settings from the Great Smoky Mountains to the seacoast open Easter Sunday in North Carolina's "Variety Vacationland."

Oldest and largest of these religious observances is in Winston-Salem, where the 18th Century Moravian community of Old Salem has been the setting for Moravian Easter sunrise service since 1771. The 190th consecutive service will begin at 5:30 a. m. on April 22 in front of Home Moravian Church on Salem Square. The Easter Litany, with antiphonal chorales and hymns by the Moravian Church Band of over 600 instrumentalists, is concluded in "God's Acre," the Moravian Graveyard. Thousands of worshippers attend. Most of them remain after the service to view the Easter flowers in "God's Acre" and tour historic buildings in Old Salem.

In the Great Smoky Mountains, Cherokee Indians, their neighbors and visitors from many states gather at Mountainside Amphitheatre in the community of Cherokee for Easter sunrise services beginning at 6 a. m.

On the seacoast, the 15th annual Easter sunrise service at Cape Hatteras begins at the same hour.

Some 500 miles west of Cape Hatteras, at the Fields of the Wood Religious Assembly Ground—where the Ten Commandments are spelled out on a mountainside in white stone letters five feet high—the annual pre-dawn Easter service begins at 4 a. m. Fields of the Wood is near Murphy in the mountains of Southwestern North Carolina.

At Asheville, largest city in the mountain vacationlands, the 30th annual Easter sunrise service begins at 5:40 a. m. in the City Auditorium. The Blue Ridge Mountain community of Boone holds sunrise services at 6 a. m. each Easter in the Daniel Boone Amphitheatre.

Moore Boys Go To Scout 'Circus'

Several Boy Scout troops and Cub packs in Moore County took part in the "Worlds of Scouting" circus at Raleigh Saturday, sponsored by the Oconeechee Council.

Demonstrations and stunts by the troops took place in a program starting at 7 p. m., in the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum at State College. The program had been moved from Riddick Stadium to the Coliseum of a forecast for bad weather.

Charles Riddle, Moore District Scout executive, listed units from this county going to Raleigh as: Cub Packs 206, Pinebluff, and 810, Vass; and Scout Troops 223 and 224, Southern Pines; 810, Vass; 206, Pinebluff; and 224, Carthage, as well as boys from the Leonard Training School at McCain, an area that is included in the Moore District.

"WHO OWNS CP&L, DAD?"

Good question, young man, especially since surveys show that many of our own customers don't know the answer.

The answer is that thousands of people own CP&L. People like your dad, your neighbors, as well as some young folks like you, invest in our Company and help it grow.

CP&L is not owned by the state. It is not owned by the federal government nor by any tax-supported agency. It is an independent, taxpaying business, regulated by government and operated in the public interest.

That's one of the reasons why you can continue to expect good service even though electricity is delivered to you at bargain prices.
