Palmer-Player Golf Match at Raleigh Slated

Arnold Palmer, golfdom's current top money winner and three-time Masters titleholder, will meet perennial links champion Gary Player in Raleigh at the Carolina Country Club in a head-to-head match on Wednesday, May 16. Match time is scheduled for 1:30 with a clinic and exhibition at 12:30 to precede the tee-off.

Riding a four-tournament winning streak and leading all golf professionals in the money department by almost $16,000.00, Palmer will be playing against perhaps his toughest opponent. Player nosed out Palmer for the Masters title in 1961 and leads the ex-Wake Forest athlete in the world-wide head-to-head series in which the two are engaged. An

Hunting Season Change Proposed; Meeting Scheduled

Tarheel quail, rabbit and wild turkey hunters will get a four-day bonus for hunting this year if sportsmen throughout the state go along with a proposal by the Wildlife Commission to open the season on these species November 17 instead of the traditional Thanksgiving Day opening that would fall on November 22. The proposed season would run through February 16. Last year's season ended February 15.

The reason given for the proposed earlier opening date is that hunters would get a chance to harvest game earlier in the season that would otherwise be lost through natural mortality.

Other than the earlier opening for quail, rabbits and wild turkey, the Wildlife Commission is proposing only minor changes in hunting dates in the nature of calendar adjustments. Bag limits on all species would remain unchanged.

In response to requests from archers the Commission proposes to schedule three days of archery hunts on the Sandhills Wildlife Management Area.

Proposed hunting regulations will be presented to the public in a series of meetings over the State. The District 6 meeting, for this area, will be held at the courthouse in Albemarle at 7:30 p.m., Friday, May 18.

Fifty-four million people live in rural areas in the U. S.

extra 18 holes were necessary before Palmer could regain his Masters title from Player last fourth in Augusta.

All net proceeds from the match will go to the Bud Worsham Memorial Fund, a scholarship established by Palmer for worthy students to attend his alma mater in memory of a former golfing partner killed in an automobile accident.

Tickets may be obtained at a pre-sale reduced cost from many pro shops in Piedmont and Eastern North Carolina or by writing R. G. Yancey, Jr., P. O. Box 9602, Raleigh.

PLASTIC GREENHOUSES

Mushrooming interest in the use of plastic-covered structures for growing plants in North Carolina has resulted in a new publication by the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service at State College. Titled "Plastic Greenhouses," the circular is designed to summarize the latest recommendations on construction, heating and ventilation.

Free copies may be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing directly to the Department of Agricultural Information at N. C. State College, Raleigh.
