CONTEMPORARY TURKISH ARTISTS

Mrs. Jane Carter, Former Resident, Selects Paintings For Florida Show

An exhibition of contemporary Turkish painting as selected by the West Virginia Artist, Jane Downs Carter, a former resident of Southern Pines, is to be presented by The Henry Morrison Flagler Museum at Palm Beach, Fla., as part of its Anniversary Celebration. This exhibit of more than 80 works of art will open on February 2 and will continue through May 31. Flagler Museum is the former "Whitehall," home of one of Florida's greatest benefactors and developers. Mrs. Carter and her husband, Col. Sam F. Carter, lived in Southern Pines early in the 1950's while he was stationed at Pope Air Force Base. She subsequently went to Turkey with him when he was assigned to duty there, painting and becoming interested in Turkish art. In Southern Pines, Mrs. Carter's work was exhibited at the Library Gallery and she was active in operation of the gallery during her stay here.

The Turkish art to be seen at Palm Beach was assembled in accord with procedures for fine arts which Mrs. Carter calls "The Studio 7 Procedures." Originally begun in Romney, W. Va., these procedures were used in Turkey during 1960 and 1961. The exhibition is edited by the artists themselves to present to America, through the fine arts, a deeper understanding of present-day Turkey, its heritage and its hopes.

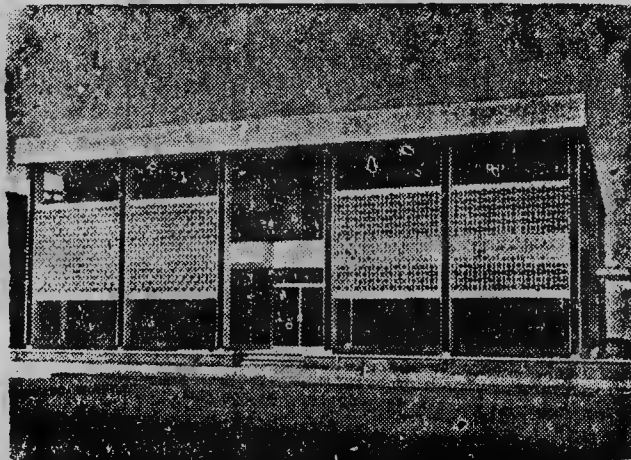

The presentation will include one of Mrs. Carter's large oil paintings of a Turkish mother and child and a review of some of the Turkish people's response to her own contemporary art work when it was shown in Turkey. This combined art selection is named "The Studio 7 Story" and is a key presentation for what is to be an international artists exchange plan whereby American artists can more effectively cooperate with artists of other nations on a professional artists' level of workmanship.

Mrs. Carter presently is instructor of Still Life Painting at the Norton Gallery and School of Art, Palm Beach. Her husband is now staff judge advocate at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

'63 License Renewal Card... Have You Received It?

Tar Heel motor vehicle owners who may not have received their 1963 license plate renewal card were urged today to take immediate action.

Motor Vehicles Department officials say the all-important cards were mailed in mid-December and should have been received by now. If not, the agency's registration division says, "Please let us know at once."

Proper procedure is to write the Motor Vehicles Department, Raleigh, with the make and identification number of your car, your last year's tag number and your full name and address.

As in the past applicants are reminded to indicate on the reverse side of their renewal card that liability insurance is still in force, and to list the county in which the vehicle is subject to property taxes.

Also the one dollar extra fee for driver education must be paid for each vehicle having a registration fee of $10.00 or more.

Plates may be purchased in Raleigh at the Motor Vehicles Building or ordered through the mail.

Miss Foy Ingram, director of the department's registration division, said 85 branch offices would begin issuing new tags January 2.

"In any event," Miss Ingram said, "it is important to present a properly prepared renewal card when buying new tags and to write the Motor Vehicles Department promptly if you've not received one."
