MR. AND MRS. HARRY CLIFTON TUNE, JR.

COUPLE WED IN CULDEE CHURCH SUNDAY, TO MAKE THEIR HOME IN ROCK HILL, S. C.

Miss Delores Ann Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Vernon Cole of Eastwood, and Harry Clifton Tune, Jr., of Rock Hill, S. C., were married Sunday afternoon at Culdee Presbyterian church near Pinehurst.

The pastor, the Rev. W. K. Fitch, Jr., officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Larry Hensley of Pinehurst played the organ, and Melvin Williams of Aberdeen sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie which she and her mother had made, with portrait neckline and slender pointed bodice with a row of tiny self-covered buttons down the front. The long sleeves ended in calla points over the hands. The skirt was fashioned with soft folded pleats sweeping into a chapel train. Her veil fell from a crown of jeweled Chantilly lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Royal Queen orchids and tiny feathered white carnations.

Miss Barbara Joan Cole attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Linda Tune of Morganton, sister of the groom; Miss Martha Ann Bradsher of Milton and Miss Geraldine Baldwin and Mrs. J. D. Hunt of Pinehurst. They wore identical gowns of emerald green peau de soie made with fitted bodices and soft bell skirts, with tiny open pillbox hats and flirtation veils to match. Their slippers were also in the same shade of green. The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of calla lilies, while the bridesmaids each carried a single calla lily on a palm leaf.

Little Miss Connie Cole of Fayetteville, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a fluffy white organza frock with brief eyelet-embroidered jacket, emerald green sash and bandeau, with hairbow. Little Stevie Martin of Aberdeen, also a cousin was ring bearer.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tune of Morganton, had his father as best man. Ushers were Lionel H. Bryson of Sylva, Harold Leatherman of Valdese and Allen Lennon and James Maxwell of Morganton.

The newlywed couple honeymooned at Williamsburg, Va., and will make their home at Rock Hill, where the groom is employed by the Celanese Fiber Co.

Mrs. Tune, a 1960 graduate of Pinehurst High school, graduated last June from Louisburg College, where she took a secretarial course, was president of Phi Beta Lambda business sorority, secretary of the Women's Student Government and a member of the glee club. She has since been employed by Linville Resorts, Inc., during the summer at Eseeola Lodge, Linville, and this fall and winter at the Pinehurst Country Club.

Her husband, a graduate of Morganton High school, won his B. S. degree in mechanical engineering at N. C. State College in June. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau honorary fraternity, Phi Tau Sigma social fraternity and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He was in the State College band during all his four years there.

JURIST, PUBLISHER, WORLD TRAVELER

Forum To Hear Judge Kessinger

The next meeting of the Pinehurst Forum at the Country Club on Thursday, January 10, will feature "The Leadership of The Free," an address by the legendary Judge Harold Caldwell Kessinger. The program will start promptly at 8:45 p. m. immediately following the special buffet dinner at the club for members of the Forum and their guests.

Judge Kessinger has a rich background as a jurist, bank president, publisher, world traveler and civic leader. As a youth, during his college days at Northwestern University and the University of Chicago, he appeared on Chautauqua platforms with William Jennings Bryan, Irwin Cobb, Doctor Frank Gunsaulus, the elder U. S. Senator La Follette and other famous personalities of that period. Now recognized as one of the great speakers of the day, he entertains sophisticated audiences in many countries with his droll, yet dynamic, approach to the problems civilized people are concerned about all over the world.

In their reviews of his appearances such newspapers as the New York Times, The Chicago Daily News, The Montreal Star, the Los Angeles Times and others have paid tribute to the wit, humor and helpful common sense in Judge Kessinger's talks.

CARDS WILL CHEER THE HANDICAPPED

Pinehurst cottagers and hotel guests may brighten the lives of crippled children by leaving in the bin at the Carolina Hotel desk their Christmas cards which are forwarded to a hospital for the handicapped youngsters. The cards are used there in the occupational therapy program.

Fred Taylors Hosts At Holiday 'Open House' On Sunday

About 200 persons Sunday afternoon attended a New Year's "open house" given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Taylor at their home, "The Castle."

Framing the carved, paneled wooden door of the attractive white, Norman-style dwelling was a striking decoration of white-sprayed holly leaves, gold ribbon and white lights.

Receiving, in addition to the hosts, were their son, Fred H. Taylor and daughters, Mrs. David Whitesell and her husband, of Troy, and Mrs. Russell Tate and her husband, Dr. Tate, of Vass.

A white tree strung with white Italian lights and hung with diamond shaped gold ornaments stood in the living room and a coffee table covered with a green cloth held dishes of dainty colored candies.

A family Christmas tree—a conventional green cedar with vari-colored lights and ornaments—decorated the sunroom.

In the dining room, red Christmas punch and coffee were served from the table, which held plates of colorful holiday sandwiches, cakes cookies and fruit cake.

From 4-5, Mrs. R. A. Evans poured coffee and Mrs. Jack Morgan served punch. Both are from Vass.

Mrs. Paul Jones of Southern Pines poured coffee from 5-6 and Mrs. James Allen, Sr. of Troy, from 6-7. Serving punch from 5-7 was Mrs. Eben Wallace of Vass.

Cub Pack Enjoys Christmas Party, Pack Meeting

A wonderful holiday event was the pre-Christmas party of the Cub Scouts of Pack 7, combined with a pack meeting, with their families as guests at the Pinehurst Legion Hut.

The Rev. David McLean, former missionary to the Congo, now on the staff of St. Andrews College, spoke to the gathering of some 60 or more persons on a subject they found fascinating, "Witch-Doctors and Black Magic in Africa."

With Cubmaster Ray Hensley presiding, aided by Fred Fields, assistant cubmaster, a program was held in which William Shamblyn was welcomed as a Bobcat, and awards were made to Cub Scouts as follows: Gray Currie, Wolf badge; Charles Martin, Wolf gold and silver arrows; Billy Bost, Lion Badge; Steve Dennis and Kenneth Monroe, Lion gold and silver arrows; James Viall, Lion silver arrow and Jimmy Cameron, Lion gold arrow.

The party was held in the glow of a big Christmas tree which the boys had decorated themselves, each den bringing ornaments which the boys had made. It was so beautiful, it just couldn't be left there all alone, so after the party it was taken to the Pinehurst Nursing Homes to continue to spread joy throughout the Christmas time.

Games were played, ice cream and cokes were served and the den mothers distributed gifts which they had brought for their boys. They were Mrs. Harold McLeod, Den 1; Mrs. Fred Fields, Den 2; Mrs. L. J. Hinson, Den 3; Mrs. Charles Martin, Den 4, and Mrs. Harold Black, Den 5.

Pre-Forum Groups Are Entertained At Club

Entertaining friends and house-guests at the country club buffet supper last Thursday evening, followed by the Pinehurst Forum's presentation of violin virtuoso Michael Tree, were a number of cottagers as well as several others from the Sandhills.

Among the table holders from the village were Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Porteous, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Warren, Gen. and Mrs. George Price Hays, Capt. and Mrs. George F. Shearwood, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rettew, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel F. Callaway, and Mrs. Harry Hogg.

Other holiday hosts and hostesses included Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Vale, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland R. McElvare, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Pethick, Col. and Mrs. Leon Baker, Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Garland McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hazelhurst, and Col. John W. Faulconer, all from Southern Pines.

ACE IN THE HOLE—Homer Johnson, (extreme left), Pinehurst winter resident and Country Club member, scored a hole-in-one December 19 when his five-iron shot from the tee landed in the cup on the second hole of the
