MRS. JERRY LAWRENCE TROUTMAN

MISS FARMER AND MR. TROUTMAN ARE WEDDING IN SATURDAY RITES AT WEST END CHURCH

Miss Bertie Karen Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Farmer of West End, and Jerry Lawrence Troutman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fortune Troutman, Sr. of Addor, were married Saturday afternoon in the West End Presbyterian church by the Rev. Lacy McDuffie, pastor of the bride.

The music was provided by Miss Faye McKenzie of Pinehurst, vocalist and Mrs. William A. Johnson, Jr., organist. In a Christmas setting of white poinsettias and cathedral candles, which were lighted by Donald and Phillip Farmer, brothers of the bride, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of Italian silk taffeta, fashioned with empire waistline and long bodice. The low portrait neckline was appliqued with re-embroidered alencon lace motifs, and the sleeves tapered to calla points over the hands. The bouffant skirt featured gathered fullness in the back which extended into a court-length train. Her three-tiered veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of roses centered with an orchid. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, gift of her brother, Dr. Robert Farmer.

Several Choirs Bring Christmas Music To St. Joseph's Hospital

Christmas at St. Joseph of the Pines hospital was filled with music and color, centering on the joyful theme of the birth of Christ.

The beautiful creche in the lobby has been left there into the New Year, though other decorations of the season, including the softly lighted silver Christmas tree have been taken down.

Holy scenes in a beautiful stained-glass effect glowed on glass walls of the office and at the end of the first-floor corridor.

During Christmas there was hardly a day the voices of youthful carolers weren't heard, lifted sweetly in the loved songs of the season as they moved from corridor to corridor. Visits were paid by the student choirs of Leonard Training School at McCain and Morrison Training school at Hoffman, the glee club of St. Anthony's parochial school and a local Girl Scout troop.

Before Christmas, the Sisters gave their annual party for the employees, and on Christmas Day, a jolly Santa visited every room.

New Residents Honored At Open House Saturday

New residents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Thomas, who before Christmas moved into the house they have leased at 825 Saylor Street, were honor guests at a holiday open house given Saturday by Maj. and Mrs. Mark Liddell at their place on 1117 East Massachusetts Avenue. Co-hosts were Mrs. Liddell's mother, Mrs. Graham Culbreth, and Mr. Culbreth.

The Thomases, whose original home was Silver Spring, Md., came here from Richmond, Va. where he was for two years manager of the White House Motor Lodge. He has taken over management of the soon-to-be-completed motel on Highway 1 which will be one of the Holiday Inn chain. The couple has a daughter who is a student at the University of Maryland.

About 35 persons attended the informal get-together.

Mangums Entertain At Party For First Baptist Church Members Thurs.

The Rev. and Mrs. Maynard H. Mangum entertained Thursday at an open house at the First Baptist Church pastorium on South Ashe Street for members of the finance, enlistment, social and decorating committees, for the deacons and their wives, and for the general officers of the church.

The house had Christmas decorations throughout. Guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments, where the table was spread with a red cloth and centered with a silver and green arrangement flanked by silver candleholders holding red tapers.

Mrs. Mangum was assisted in serving by her daughter, Marie. On Sunday evening after the annual Student Night program at the church, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Mangum held open house at the pastorium for high school and college students. Mrs. Glenn Cox and Miss Margaret Thomasson assisted Mrs. Mangum in serving refreshments.

Visitor Here Celebrates Second Birthday With Party At Grandmother's

Little Susie Cline, a Christmas Day baby, celebrated her second birthday here December 26 at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Cline, where she is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cline and seven-month-old brother, Robie, of Durham.

Present were Susie's other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Davis, their children, Chris and Perry of Sandavis, and their older son, William C. Davis and his wife, of Louisville, Ky. Also, Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Helen Wallace and daughter, Barbara, Julian Pleasants and William Marley.

The honor guest opened her gifts and she and the other guests were served ice cream and cake while grouped around the Christmas tree.

Early internal revenue collectors were paid on a commission basis, earnings determined by how much they collected.

Mrs. Allamprese Dies While Visiting Here

Mrs. Catherine Moran Allamprese, wife of Dr. D. J. Allamprese of Baltimore, Md. died suddenly last Thursday at the home of Mrs. John G. Mock on E. Connecticut Ave. extension where the couple were spending the holidays. They have been visitors twice yearly here for several seasons.

Postmaster Lists Changes In Rates To Become Effective Monday, Jan. 7

Postmaster J. W. Causey reminded the public today that increases in postage rates on first class and several other classes of mail will go into effect Monday.

Any piece of mail postmarked after midnight, Sunday, will be subject to the new rates, he said. Of widest interest is the increase of first class rates from four cents to five cents per ounce for letters and other material sent first class, and an increase from three cents to four cents for postcards.

Domestic air mail first class rate will be increased from seven cents to eight cents per ounce for letters. Air cards will go from five cents to six cents.

First class rates to Canadian and Mexican destinations, which are the same as rates within the United States will also go up. The price of stamped envelopes will rise in accordance with the rate increase. The postmaster pointed out that another change has been made in the cost of envelopes: the discount rate for quantity purchases, which formerly began with the purchase of 50 envelopes, will not apply, starting Monday, to purchases of less than 500 envelopes.

There will be no change in the foreign airmail rate which was increased last year by the postmaster general. Such an increase does not, like the domestic changes, require Congressional action.

Here is a summary of postage rate changes to become effective Monday on other classes of mail:

Second Class (magazines and newspapers)—Rate has been adjusted upward according to a rather lengthy and complicated schedule. Newspapers formerly sent free within the county of publication will cost one cent per pound.

Third Class (advertising material)—To be increased from three cents to four cents for the first two ounces, with the change for each additional ounce to be increased from one and a half cents to two cents.

Educational Materials—Rate to be increased from nine cents for first pound and five cents each additional pound, to nine and a half cents for first pound, the five cents for each additional pound remaining the same. Library materials will be kept at the present rate.

TAX LISTING

CHRISTMAS SURPRISE Funds Given To Trimble Workers

Checks arrived in the mail for many employees of Trimble Products, Inc., during the Christmas holiday period.

For most of the recipients the checks—ranging from around $100 to more than $1,000—came as a surprise, making it an especially merry Christmas in the homes of these employees of the local plant that manufactures furniture and other equipment for infants and children.

One employee who was hanging up her wash when the mail came in Christmas Eve morning is reported to have cried out in joy and rushed into her house, check in hand, and so far as is known, never went back to finish hanging up the clothes.

The checks were for the employees' shares of funds amassed in a company pension plan, set up soon after Trimble Products, Inc. went into production three years ago, it was learned from William J. Donovan, company president. When the company underwent a corporate change in forming association with a California concern last summer, the plan was discontinued as of July

1. Distribution of the funds was made to employees who had joined the pension plan, on the basis of length of service and earnings. Few received less than $100, while some who had been with the company since the beginning received $1,000 or more.

Membership in the plan was voluntary and about 90 per cent of the 120-odd employees signed up, Donovan said. Others declined to do so, though it would cost them nothing and all they had to do to qualify was present their birth certificate.

At that time it appeared they would have to wait till age 65 to get anything out of it—but as it happened, those who joined didn't have to wait that long.

GI LOAN FUNDS

The North Carolina Veterans Administration Regional Office at Winston-Salem will receive an allocation of about $3,000,000 for direct GI home loans in North Carolina. The funds will be made available to the Regional Office in January and will more than cover the applications already on file in the Regional Office.

LOOK OUT BELOW!—Two big plastic containers just about to be opened, losing their load of balloons over merrymakers celebrating the year's end at a dinner dance Monday night at the Southern Pines Elks Club. About 220 persons, including Elks and their ladies, were on hand to welcome 1963. David Dunk and orchestra played. This was climaxing the holiday season. Numerous groups of friends congregated with friends at private homes and about 25 couples gathered at a "spoon-of-the-moment" party late Monday evening at the Moore County Club.
