Southern Pines Recorder's Court

Lee R. Vidaure, Fort Bragg soldier who is an American Indian from Texas, was sentenced for having no operator's license, last week in Southern Pines Recorder's Court, to one month on the roads, suspended on payment of the costs and $25 fine, with option to walk to the Aberdeen limits and back in place of paying the fine. He chose to serve the time but was freed on payment of the costs, after he produced a valid driver's license Saturday, following the regular Wednesday session of court.

The defendant had previously done a month on the roads on the same charge, sentenced from the Aberdeen Recorder's Court. In neither case had he been able to produce a valid operator's license. The license turned up after a friend of the defendant who had been away from Fort Bragg found that the license had been sent to him and was in his mail. The local case was first calendared in April and had been continued several times.

Other cases heard by Judge W. Harry Fullenwider in last week's local court session:

William Harding Smith, careless and reckless driving, plea of guilty to going through a stoplight while it was red accepted by the court, $10 and costs; Bill Smith, assault on female, not pros with leave on payment of costs; Carlton Oates, disobeying stop sign, pay costs and walk to Aberdeen city limits and back (by choice of defendant in place of paying fine); Harry L. Klabbatz, careless and reckless driving, judgment continued on payment of costs, on condition that he not be convicted of any moving traffic violation, or license will be taken by the court.

W. F. Williamson, assault on female, six months suspended indefinitely on condition he and his wife separate by 1 p. m. on day of trial and live separately until such time as the defendant and his wife prove they can live to-

SVA Not To Give '63 Scholarship

No scholarship for nurse training will be given this year by the Sandhill Veterans Association, it was announced last week.

Reason cited was a shortage of applicants and failure of the few Moore County high school senior girls who did apply to pass the entrance requirements at High Point Memorial Hospital.

The SVA, a group of World War II veterans in this area, for many years has conducted a public fund campaign that finances nurse training for one or more girls annually. Seven SVA scholarship holders are now in training at High Point.

Hobbs Closing Grocery Store At Pinehurst

J. D. Hobbs announced last week that he is giving up the ownership of Hobbs Grocery, which he and his wife have managed jointly since he purchased the business in 1945.

In making the announcement, Mr. Hobbs said he regretted that the pressure of other business made it necessary for him to give up the management of the grocery, which, he said, "has been a part of the Pinehurst scene for many, many years."

No announcement was made as to whether the business will be sold or closed down. A letter to patrons says all merchandise is being sold "until our stock is gone."

The store, located in the center of the village was operated by Pinehurst, Inc. for many years as the "General Store."

In the early 1930's, the late Edgar A. Ewing of Southern Pines took over the operation as a grocery store.

From 1938-45, the store was operated by H. W. Dorn of Southern Pines, and in 1938-39, was managed by Mr. Hobbs who left
