

ABERDEEN NEWS and PERSONALS

by Ann J. McNeill Cardinal Book Club

Mrs. C. F. Buffkin was hostess to the Cardinal Book Club on Tuesday evening, July 2. Mrs. Lee Buchanan presided over the business session.

Special speaker of the evening was Dr. Michael T. Pishko, of the Pinehurst Surgical Staff, who showed a film on cancer, and led an interesting discussion following.

The hostess served ice cream, cookies and coffee to the 15 members and several guests present.

Baptist Youth Week

This is an interesting week for the young people of First Baptist Church when a BSU team is leading a youth week here. Composed of four young people who will head activities Tuesday evening through Sunday of this week, the team includes:

Russell Morris, native of Baltimore, Md. and a rising senior at Campbell College, serves as the preacher.

Dottie Shugart is from Halifax, N. C. and is a rising senior at the University of North Carolina. She serves the team as recreation-visitator.

Ann Hayes, from Wilson, is a rising senior at ACC, Wilson. She is the music director.

Co-ordinator of the group is Jeffrey E. Marlow, a 1963 graduate of Wake Forest College who is from Hickory.

The theme for Youth Week is "I Believe." The committee chairman from the local church who make up the Youth Week steering committee are: Carol Wynn, general chairman; Marion Briggman, program; Kay Lennon, hospitality; Betty Dare Funderburk, fellowship; Daryl Wynn, visitation; Celeste Green and Brenda Cooper, music; Mary Veasey, publicity; Kenny Galloway, follow-up; Tracy Williams, adult adviser.

At Montreat

This correspondent had the privilege of spending a few days last week in Montreat, the Presbyterian Retreat near Black Mountain. While staying at the spacious Assembly Inn there, one could not miss the "refurbishing" of the Inn, as carpenters, painters, and others who worked there throughout the building with prospects of a new look to the lovely old stone hotel.

Two mounds of new rugs stacked together, attracted this writer's attention. Upon closer examination, I found they bore the return address: Gulistan Carpet, A & M Karagheusian, Aberdeen, North Carolina.

I was more than proud to claim that I hailed from the same town!

Fallout Shelters Given Tax Credit In New Law

The North Carolina General Assembly passed Senate Bill 132, providing that family fallout shelters shall be subject to taxation in each local taxing unit only to the extent that the appraised value exceeds $2,000. The new law goes into effect January 1, 1964.

The Moore County Civil Defense office this week called the public's attention to the legislation.

BEETLE TIME

This is Japanese beetle time. The beetles are shiny brown and green with 12 white spots, about one-half inch long. They spend about 10 months as grubs in the soil. Then they go through a short resting, pupal stage, and emerge as adult beetles. The attack more than 200 plants. Spray any plants infested with the beetles with Sevin. This material is effective and safe.

Slow Pitch Softball Tournament To Start Friday Night At Raeford Park

The 1963 Southeastern Slow Pitch Softball tournament opens Friday night at Raeford's Armory Park when Southern Pines and Snyder Memorial of Fayetteville square off at 6:45 in the first of a three-game bill. The opening game will be followed at 8 o'clock by Raeford and Jackson Grocery of St. Pauls, while Red Springs tackles Public Works of Fayetteville in the nite-cap. The Southern Pines team is sponsored by Tom O'Neil.

Last year's champions, Cooper Oil of Laurinburg, sees its first action at 8 p. m. on Saturday night as it tangles with the Fayetteville Drag Strip. Massey Hill and Burlington Industries of St. Pauls open up Saturday night's action when they meet at 6:45 and Aleo Manufacturing and Lebanon Baptist of Fayetteville ring down the curtain on Saturday's action when they pair off at 9 p. m.

The final first round game is scheduled for Monday at 8 p. m. when powerful Highland Insurance takes on Sunnyside Presbyterian in an all-Fayetteville affair.

District Commissioner John Manuel pointed out that all teams are currently leading their league or else are very close to the top and in view of this anyone of the fifteen clubs can cop the title.

Tournament play will continue for ten nights with the finals played on Saturday, July 21. The winner will advance to the state tournament in Leaksville starting August 21.

The tournament will again be sponsored by the Raeford Kiwanis Club and George Wood is serving as tournament director. Veteran Joe Davis is serving as umpire-in-chief and he will be assisted by Johnny Walker, Scott Poole and Wood.
