Planetarium To Have Extra Performances

In response to the numbers of persons coming to Chapel Hill to see "Star of Bethlehem," the Morehead Planetarium has scheduled extra regular performances of this annual Christmas program.

The extra performances will be given at 3 p. m. every day of the week starting Monday, December 23, through Friday, January 3, with the exception of December 24 and 25, when the Planetarium will be closed completely.

Regular performances of "Star of Bethlehem" are given every evening, and throughout the day on Saturdays and Sundays, to continue through January 6.

Youths Arrested For Robberies In West End Section

The arrest of three white youths, one a juvenile, on Monday is believed to have solved four burglaries of last week in the West End area, according to the Moore County sheriff's department.

On that same day three Negro juveniles of Eagle Springs were also arrested, and admitted a fourth burglary, that of the J. C. Comer grocery store at Eagle Springs last Wednesday night. Most of the loot, consisting of shirts, candy and minor items, was recovered, according to Chief Deputy H. H. Grimm, who headed both investigations, assisted by Deputies I. D. Marley and R. A. Edwards.

The white youths were Johnny Garrison, 17; a 14-year-old juvenile; and Roger Puckett, 22, who was served with a warrant Monday night at Moore Memorial Hospital. Puckett entered the hospital Saturday after accidentally shooting himself in the foot while preparing to go hunting. The wound is reportedly not serious.

Grimm said the three admittedly took part in breaking and entering Roger Martin's service station Thursday night, and again on Friday night, taking two shotguns, watches and other items totalling about $300 worth of merchandise; and John A. Frye's store Friday night, where they got a quantity of clothing, shoes and other items.

Garrison and the 14-year-old boy also admitted the burglary Sunday night of Smith's Shell station, where they took about $85 in currency and change from the cash register, also minor merchandise items, Grimm said.

The chief deputy said about $75 of the money taken from the Shell station was recovered, also most of the merchandise, which was hidden in the boys' homes.

The two service stations were entered by prying open the door from the grease pit, while the boys said they found the door of Frye's store unlocked. Frye was unaware his place had been robbed until the officers recovered about $75 worth of assorted clothing which was identified as having come from there, Grimm said.

One service station owner, Roger Martin reported Friday morning the break-in of the previous night, triggering the officers' investigation, then called Saturday morning to report his place had been robbed again during Friday night.

A considerable amount of the merchandise found was not identified, and the investigation of the boys' activities is continuing to determine if they may not have been involved in other break-ins, including some in neighboring counties, Grimm said.

None of the boys has been found to have a previous record of law violation, and their families have been cooperative, the officers reported. The youngest white youth and three Negroes have been turned over to juvenile authorities. Names of juvenile (under 16) defendants are not published.

Mrs. Mattie Moore Succumbs At 77

Mrs. Mattie Sparkman Moore, 77, of Aberdeen, Route 1 died Monday at the Pinehurst Nursing Home. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at Jackson Springs Presbyterian Church, conducted by the Rev. W. H. Brady, assisted by the Rev. Tom Canan and the Rev. W. H. Brown, with burial in the church cemetery.

She was a native of South Carolina, and the widow of A. A. Moore. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. C. D. Glenn of Rome, N. Y., Mrs. Evelyn McRae of Knoxville, Tenn., and Mrs. Jessie Spivey of Aberdeen, Route 1; four sons, Percy Lee Moore of Orlando, Fla., Sultan Moore of Darlington, S. C., and Thurman and Bevel Moore, both of Durham; 22 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Galveston Hinson of Dunn and Mrs. Cora Brimmon of St. Pauls.
