CIRCULATION UP

Circulation of books by the Moore County Library showed an increase of 810 in 1963, as compared to 1962. Miss Hollis Haney, regional librarian, reported to the county commissioners Monday. Circulation from the headquarters library in Carthage rose from 1,699 in 1962 and bookmobile circulation was up to 2,886 from 2,141 the previous year.

Gardner Elected '64 President Of Explorer Post 889

Melvin Gardner was elected president of Explorer Post 889, replacing Chuck Lewis, at a meeting Monday night for annual election of officers.

Others chosen by post members were: Bernard Bowen, vice president, succeeding Lin Dunn; Charles Phillips, secretary, succeeding Rick Lewis; and James Cameron, treasurer, replacing Jerry Darnell.

Elected to a new office in the post, quartermaster, was Victor Williams, to be in charge of the post's equipment.

Jimmy Stevenson and Jerry Hall were elected cabinet representatives, to represent the post at district meetings. They replace Warren McCrimmon and David Morgan.

Before the election, Harvey Scheer, post advisor, explained functions of the various officers. Rick Lewis, retiring secretary, gave a summary of post events of the past year.

The new Vice President Bowen led the members in prayer, to close the meeting.

Post 889 is sponsored by the Southern Pines Rotary Club.

Sou. Pines School News

By NANCY LELAND

Believe it or not, it almost seems good to be back in school. All of those parties during the holidays gave students very little chance to rest or catch up on their studying, and school forces them to get a decent amount of sleep every night. Besides, we're going to need that sleep when exams start in two weeks.

Panel Discussion

On Monday night of this week the FHA met for a panel discussion of the topic, "What It Means to be a Parent." The four panelists were chosen from a variety of occupations in order to get a wide range of opinions. They were: Mrs. R. F. Hoke Pollock, a very active housewife and mother; Mrs. Walter Harper, a member of the School Board; Dr. R. J. Dougherty, a physician; and the Rev. Jack Deal, a Lutheran minister. All are community-minded citizens, and the comments of the four parents will perhaps be remedial in the actions of some of the parents of the next generation who attended the discussion.

Supper for Teachers

On January 21 the FHA will serve supper to about 300 teachers attending the NCEA area conference here. This will obviously be a challenge to the skill acquired by the members over the years and to their teacher. A difficult task to undertake, but confidence and practice will suffice, and it is sure to be incomparable.

Junior Rings

Speaking of incomparable events, I'm sure the Juniors are experiencing incomparable excitement. Why? Junior rings have arrived, of course. Mr. Cox announced Monday that they will be distributed as soon as everyone has paid for his ring, and Juniors in every part of the building emitted low screams of hysteria in response. Naturally there will be a wild case of enthusiasm on that important day when they get their rings, and although the Seniors will laugh at them and poke fun at them, few will fail to recall that day of days last year when they became full-fledged high schoolies.

The Juniors will soon begin in earnest to prepare for the Junior-Senior Prom because the passing of 1963 has brought May all too close.

Council Work

President Robert McCrimmon reports that the suggestion box in the hall has yielded many a good recommendation to the Student Council. The Council is presently engaged in work on the Student Handbook, and would encourage suggestions as to the content. It met Wednesday to check the progress of the finance and content committees.

Student Poets

Miss Gail Miller's efforts in bringing out the best of writing talents in her students have been perceptible all year long, especially to those who study under her. This week Miss Miller was notified that four of her students have had their poems selected as material for an annual anthology of poetry printed by the National Poetry Press. Congratulations are extended to the following students: Teresa Hicks, Dempseyq Bailey, Alice Oliver, and Cullen Fisher. They received their certificates of award on Monday.

Back From Mexico

Monday morning Ian Gouldsbrough returned from Mexico City, where he enjoyed two weeks of sunshine and a Mexican Christmas. Ian reports that in Mexico Christmas is celebrated with a "posada," a series of parties during the week of December 16-23. We all know about the height of the season, when the pinata, a ceramic bowl filled with candy, nuts, and fruit, is hung high over the children's heads and is broken by a blindfolded child swinging a stick. Quite a novel Christmas, and thoroughly enjoyed by Ian, I'm sure.

Knight Masques

Next Monday at 7 the first meeting of the Knight Masques will be held in one of the classrooms at the high school. Mrs. John McPhaul, in charge of the club, has opened this meeting to students interested in any phase of a play, whether it be the actual performing, or the technical aspects of producing, such as lighting, staging, publicity, etc. The meeting will be limited to one hour, in order that the PTA meeting to be held at 8 at the high school may also be attended by those students. The PTA meeting is entitled, "The Changing Secondary School," and an invitation is extended to all parents and high school students.

Book Exhibit

This Wednesday and Thursday the Elementary Library was open for a book exhibit through the Guilford Press, Inc. of Greensboro.

Exchange Teacher

Sometime next week an exchange teacher from El Salvador, Mrs. Maria Zoila Henriquez De Donda, will arrive here to work in both the high school and the lower grades. In the high school she will be dealing primarily with Mrs. Goodwin, the Spanish teacher, but in the various lower grades she will be working in social studies as well as Spanish. It is a rare privilege to have someone like this coming to our town. Let's go all out in making her feel welcome and appreciated.

Gilbert F. Bass Dies; Funeral To Be At Aberdeen

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Friday, in Bethesda Presbyterian Church, Aberdeen, for Gilbert Franklin Bass, 71, of Southern Pines, who died Wednesday morning at St. Joseph of the Pines Hospital. Dr. W. C. Neill, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Old Bethesda Cemetery, near Aberdeen.

Surviving are one son, M. Lloyd Bass of Southern Pines; three sisters, Mrs. Robert Barefoot of Dunn, Mrs. Lizzie Bledsoe of Hope Mills and Mrs. Minnie Cannady of Edwin; and four brothers, Ed and Robert, of Erwin, Chester of Dunn and Jesse of Hope Mills.

Great Books Group Will Meet Jan. 16

The Great Books group will hold its first 1964 meeting at the Southern Pines Library Thursday, January 16, at 8 p. m., with David Drexel as discussion leader. Writings of St. Thomas Aquinas will be the subject.

The group announced a new schedule for 1964, with meetings on the second and fourth Thursday evenings of each month, with the exception of this month (January) when the meeting is on the third Thursday.

Interested persons are invited. The group welcomes new regular members for its discussions of classic literary and philosophical works.

Joe Cameron Now At Moore Hospital

Joe Cameron of Southern Pines is at Moore Memorial Hospital, recovering from severe accidental injuries received at Bradford, Pa., about four weeks ago.

He was flown here this week in a chartered plane, accompanied by a nurse, following treatment at a Bradford hospital for head, back and hip injuries sustained when lumber fell on him.

Mr. Cameron, who was at Bradford as driver for a Sanford trucking company, is reported to be improving.

A native of Manly, he is well known in this area. His wife is Mrs. Millie Cameron. Details of the accident were not learned.
