

Pinehurst Page

de NISSOFF TELEPHONE OX 2-6512

(Hemmer photo)

extra hole for a five. Leonard also was the winner, with a one-under-par 71, of the Ross Junior Championship played the previous day, the 16th renewal of the tournament honoring the late Pinehurst resident and architect of four of the courses at the club. Making the presentation, center, is Kenneth Schroeder, secretary-treasurer of the country club, who is in charge of this yearly event.

Highlights

visited Carthage Bulldogs. Really a "bat" Patsy Hunt's. Mike Horner's. to the boys' game. Close—53-39. High scorer, to be the night game. In the with only four o'clock, Jimmy not raised the 44-43. Pine- rrett with 15 won over the "31-18. s high scorer ts were proud their boys earning positions among top scorers in the county several weeks ago. Both Wiley Barrett and Don Vest are to be congratulated!

Pinehurst's teams visited the West End gymnasium Tuesday night.

On Friday, January 10, Pinehurst plays host to its old rival, Southern Pines. There have been rumors about these games ever since Pinehurst managed to wreck Southern Pines' undefeated record two years ago. The teams will need all the support they can get, so all loyal PHS fans should plan to be at the game to cheer both teams toward victory!

Pinettes
The Pinettes are busy preparing special music for the public installation of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, to be held Sunday, January 26. For the first time, the installation will be held in Pinehurst, since Betsy Grier will be installed as Worthy Advisor and Pinehurst members will provide entertainment.

Exams
The bi-annual headache of students and teachers everywhere has struck again. Exams will take place on Thursday and Friday, January 16 and 17. Many students have already begun to compile their notes, and several teachers have started brief reviews.

Beta Club Meeting
The Pinehurst Beta Club played host to the officers of the Elise High Beta Club Friday, January 3. A meeting was held in the high school library to discuss plans for the county basketball tournament program. These schools are in charge of the program because the first three nights of the tournament play will take place in the Pinehurst gymnasium and the final four nights of games will be played at Robbins. Pinehurst's Mr. Cannon and Mrs. Davis, and Mr. Powers from Robbins were present to offer suggestions as to how the work should be divided up between the two clubs. After the meeting, the Robbins students and advisor were guests for lunch at the cafeteria.

Darst And Flory Are Tin Whistles Winners

Thomas C. Darst, Jr. and Henry Flory teamed to take first place in the stroke play, better ball of pair event played Saturday by 44 members of the Tin Whistles Club. Their score—32-32-64.

Tied at 65 for runner-up position in the contest were William B. Foreman and Joseph W. Strode, 33-32; and George H. Leonard, Jr. and John C. Ostrom, 35-30.

AT CAROLINA

Claxton To Speak At Dairy Products Ass'n. Meeting

The 30th annual meeting of the North Carolina Dairy Products Association, to be held here January 15-17 with over 400 representatives of the industry expected to attend, gets underway at 2 p. m. Wednesday, January 15, with registration in the lobby of the Carolina Hotel.

Remarks from the Milk Industry Foundation will be brought by its president, Alvie J. Claxton of Pinehurst.

Other speakers include President Greene of the NCDPA; Dr. Kenneth Goodson, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church, Winston-Salem; John L. Maddux, head of the Office of Policy, U. S. Information Agency; and former Congressman Calvin D. Johnson of Illinois, presently a special consultant on public affairs of the American Trucking Associations, Inc.

The "25-ers Club" will hold a dinner Wednesday followed by Hootenanny. A skeet shoot has been planned for Friday afternoon, with the association's annual banquet set for Friday evening.

Miss Pamela Pridgen of Atkinson, North Carolina's reigning Dairy Princess, will be present for the banquet, which will be followed by dancing, cabaret style, to the music of Bob Smith and his orchestra.

A special ladies program has been planned for delegates' wives.

General Meeting Of Sandhills Woman's Exchange Set Monday

The first meeting of the New Year for members of the Sandhills Women's Exchange will be held on Monday, January 13, at the Mid Pines Club. The meeting, to be followed by tea, begins at 3 p. m.

Hostesses are Mrs. M. B. Gentry, Mrs. H. A. Peck, Mrs. Arthur W. Moesta and Mrs. Arthur C. Davenport.

Executive Board Meeting

The executive board of the Exchange will meet tomorrow, Friday, at the home of Mrs. John R. Sibley at 11 a. m., with luncheon following.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE PILOT, MOORE COUNTY'S LEADING NEWS WEEKLY.

TEEING OFF * WITH deNISSOFF

Now that the Christmas tree ornaments are put away till next year, the thank-you notes are (almost) all written, the New Year has crashed in as expected, and we are once more back on our regular working schedule, we find ourselves curiously unable to adjust mentally to the less hectic after-holiday routine.

Though we have always thought we disliked working under pressure, could be we were wrong, and this is the best work atmosphere for us, after all.

The director of the Pinehurst Press Bureau and Cracker Barrel editor, Garrett Sutherland, doesn't admit that the pressure is off yet.

"I thought we'd get a breather during January," she said, "but here we are with the Field Trials going on now, the Mid-South bridge tournament coming up this weekend, plus the Mid-Winter skeet shoot also this weekend. What's it like in the spring?"

We told her she'd find out. It all seems to prove that even in the so-called "slow season" here, when the weather is somewhat less than ideal for golf, sports activities are still fairly continuous.

On Sunday afternoon while walking through the village during absolutely spring-like weather, we saw several men with Oriental cast of features, in a car going slowly through town and looking out, apparently for recognizable landmarks.

It seems they were members of the Japanese group who yearly spend the New Year holiday at the Pinecrest Inn. Though equipped with several clearly marked maps, including the one on the front of the Cracker Barrel, they were obviously completely disoriented and unable to find their way to the traffic circle and the highway which would eventually lead them to the Raleigh-Durham airport.

Whether they ever made it in time to catch their plane, we

Weekend Bridge Event Set At Carolina Hotel

First qualifying round for the annual Mid-South Invitation Duplicate Bridge tournament begins at 8:30 p. m. Friday, January 10, at Carolina Hotel headquarters.

Set for 9:30 a. m. Saturday is the second qualifying round and the championship play-offs and special event for Carolina trophies are scheduled to begin at 8:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Holderness of Greensboro are again this year serving as tournament co-chairmen, with W. B. Woodson of Charlotte as tournament director.

didn't hear, but they wouldn't return to the Pinecrest to ask directions—and so, lose face.

All enthusiastic golfers, they often, it seems, lost their way to the Pinehurst Country Club, but one reason for this was their great interest in the trees and plantings around the village, about which they were very knowledgeable indeed.

DOUBLE Family Stamps given on all Prescriptions

Until Further Notice

CRAIG WALGREEN DRUG CO.

107 N. Sycamore Street

Aberdeen

RAZOOK'S

INC.

RAZOOK BUILDING AND AT THE CAROLINA HOTEL

Pinehurst, N. C.

SEASONAL CLEARANCE SALE

1/3 to 1/2 Off

Beautiful Apparel for Resort, Town and Travel

Selected Groups

of

SUITS - COSTUMES - COATS - COCKTAIL

and DINNER DRESSES - SPORTSWEAR

FURS

All Sales Final

No Exchanges

LLA"

at 11:30

JAN. 12 - 15

JAN. 16 - 17

WHERE HER BIG LEAVE OFF!

PICTURES RELEASE ENTERTAINMENT PRODUCTION

TECHIRAMA