Aberdeen High Junior Wins District D. E. Advertising Contest

Miss Marsha Merrill, representing Aberdeen High School, won the district display advertising contest open to students of the Distributive Education program, held at the Laurinburg High School, Laurinburg.

Marsha is employed at Belk Hensdale in "on the job" training which forms a part of the D. E. program. Her advertisement lauded the merits of the store at which she works.

She will attend the D. E. state convention to be held in Raleigh, March 13 and 14, and there will enter state competition.

Marsha is a junior in the Aberdeen School, which this year began a D. E. program under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Ellen Booker. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Merrill of Aberdeen.

Methodist Women Have Program on 'Southern Asia'

Mrs. Dewey Mims, president of the WSCS of the Southern Pines Methodist Church, presided last Monday at a meeting at the church. Thirteen members attended.

Mrs. George Anderson presented the program on "The Maturing Church in Southern Asia." She was assisted by Mrs. Earl Hubbard, Mrs. Larry Snyder and Mrs. William Scarborough.

During the social hour following refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Snyder.

FORMER NEW YORKER, MISS MAPEL, A. E. RHINEHART WED, TO LIVE HERE

In a private ceremony at Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church Miss Lynne Mapel and Archie Edward Rhinehart were married on Sunday, February 9. The pastor, Dr. Julian Lake, officiated.

A reception followed at Mr. Rhinehart's home, 170 South Ridge Street, where the couple will live.

The bride, formerly of New York City, has been engaged in public relations work especially in the radio-television field. She is presently with Larry Bogart Associates, as Public Relations counsel, an association she will continue here.

Mr. Rhinehart has been resident manager of the local branch office of Eastman Dillon, Union Securities, & Co. since it opened here in 1952. He has been associated with the firm since 1936.

A graduate of Columbia University, he served as a captain of infantry in World War I, and came to Southern Pines to make his home with a college classmate, the late Dr. George W. Matheson, and his wife.

His son, Dr. John W. Rhinehart, is on the staff of the Fairfield General Hospital in Newtown, Conn. One daughter, Helen Elizabeth R. Mognaz of New York City, is staff editor of "Vogue," and his other daughter, Mrs. Joan Estelle R. Price, her husband and family of three sons, live in Ossining, N. Y.

HOME RITES UNITE PINEHURST GIRL, PENNSYLVANIAN STATIONED AT BRAGG

Arrangements of pink and white carnations and camellias decorated the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Michael, Jr. of Pinehurst, for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Myrtle Michael, who became the bride Saturday of Pfc George C. Patterson of Yatesboro, Pa.

The Rev. Max Gilmore, pastor of Beulah Hill Baptist Church, performed the ceremony, which was attended by over 20 guests, in addition to the bride's immediate family.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an eggshell colored suit with pink hat and pink accessories and carried a prayerbook topped by a nosegay bouquet. Her only attendant, Miss Sylvia Ritter of Pinehurst, was attired in a street-length lace dress of the same color as the bride's costume, with pink accessories and a bouquet of pink and white flowers.

Robert Schneckburger of Los Angeles, Calif., was best man. Both he and the bridegroom are with the 82nd Airborne Division stationed at Fort Bragg.

A reception followed the ceremony, with Mrs. Hubert Michael, Sr., the bride's grandmother, serving the four-tiered wedding cake. The bride's brother, Charles, presided at the punchbowl and another brother, Hubert, III, welcomed the guests. Her aunt, Mrs. Daisy Daniels of Southern Pines was in charge of picture-taking.

Mrs. Patterson will live with her parents until her husband completes his tour of duty with the Army, when they plan to make their home in Yatesboro. Pfc. Patterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson.

Full House Enjoys Dunes Club Party For Moore Hospital

A "full house" at the Dunes Club's annual benefit dinner-dance for the Moore Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, Monday evening, enjoyed a mouth-watering dinner, dancing and the club's excellent floor show.

Mrs. Michael T. Pishko and Mrs. R. Bruce Warlick were co-chairmen of arrangements for the party.

Speaking for the Auxiliary, which each year sponsors the dinner-dance for the hospital, Mrs. John R. Burr, Auxiliary chairman, expressed her thanks to the Dunes Club management for the use of the club, and to all who helped make the party so successful.

The following received prizes, donated by merchants and individuals in the area:

Mrs. Connie Wallace, Dr. D. D. Gadd, Mrs. C. R. Monroe, Maurice Creem, Mrs. James C. Walker and John R. Burr, all of Pinehurst; Lawrence Johnson of Aberdeen, and Mrs. Robert Heyl and E. A. Regan, both of Southern Pines.

Tests Set Saturday

A reminder to students: the SAT and achievement tests will be given next Saturday morning, March 7, starting at 9, in the cafeteria. All partakers of the tests should arrive in plenty of time for roll call and other preparations.

Gifts To Coaches

Our girls' basketball team are unbelievably good sports about their whole season. Tuesday, the team presented their coaches for the year with tokens of appreciation. To Miss Gail Miller they gave a lovely gold pin, and to Mr. Hood, a junior high teacher, went an equally lovely sweater. Both teachers were quite surprised by the gifts, and both have done wonderful jobs in coaching the girls this season. Girls just are not meant to be rough, that's all. It is hoped, however, that they can roughen up next year, and surpass Aberdeen and Pinehurst with quality and quantity.

Herald Published

Well, after some major difficulties, such as having no paper on which to print it, the Knights' Herald was issued Tuesday during the lunch break. This edition was done on the electric mimeograph machine in the elementary building, and thus every copy was exactly the same in clarity and legibility. The two secretaries in the superintendent's office were exceedingly co-operative in the typing of the newspaper, as the staff could not seem to get together on it, and without their help we should never have made even this late date.

The staff of the newspaper announces that they will work to present another and better edition within a reasonably short time, as they are working toward the ultimate goal of an honest-to-goodness printed newspaper by the end of the year.

Time Flies

That end of the year is drawing alarmingly close, as I and many of the other seniors have been noticing. The Junior-Senior, which is to be held May 9, has become a source of perplexity on the part of both juniors and seniors. The seniors, as usual, are dying of curiosity as to the theme, band, and so on, but if they should ever find out it would be quite a letdown for them, because they want to be surprised as much as the juniors want to surprise them. In other words, if a senior asks a junior about it, he really doesn't want to know, so the junior should be politely quiet.

Folk Singers, Friday

Tomorrow, Friday, Weaver Auditorium will host the "Trip-Jack Trio," folk singers, at 8 p. m., as the third in a series of programs presented to the area by the Sandhills Music Association. From now on, I will be naming a few seniors each week and the colleges at which they have been accepted, so that by the end of the year you should know where we're all going.

For the first of these names: Fay Ewing, Pfeiffer College; Julia McMillan, Salem College; Ian Gouldsbrough, Peter Difatia, and Chuck and Rick Lewis, UNC; Mickey Pritchett, East Carolina; Ann Dowd and Barbara Webb, Western Carolina; Janet Howard, Appalachian State Teachers College, and Sadie Fields, Woman's College in Greensboro.

Guest Speakers To Address United Church Members

Dr. Clyde Fields, superintendent of The Southern Convention (U.C.C.) will speak at the 11 o'clock service Sunday at the United Church of Christ on the theme: "The Evangelistic Imperative." He will speak to the leaders at 2:30 p. m. on "Our Particular Witness."

The Rev. Carl Dunker will speak to the leaders at 3:30 p. m. Sunday on "Evangelism via The Church School."

Lamont Brown will speak at the Sunday evening Youth Fellowships at 6 p. m., about Russia.

The board of Deacons meets Tuesday at 7 p. m.

Membership training is given each Saturday morning at 10:30.

Legion Auxiliary Volunteers Work At VA Hospital

Five members of the American Legion Auxiliary's volunteer hospital workers spent Tuesday at the Veterans Hospital in Fayetteville, working on the wards.

The five—Miss Gussie Cameron, local unit president; Miss Nannie Gilchrist, Mrs. J. S. McLaughlin, Mrs. L. L. Woolley and Mrs. Eliza McDonald—wrote letters and read to the patients, took them to the canteen and did other errands for them.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT SET AT DUNES

Mrs. Audrey K. Kennedy, president of the Guild of St. Joseph's Hospital, this week announced that the annual dinner dance for the benefit of the hospital will be held Monday night, beginning at 7 p. m., at the Dunes Club. She also expressed appreciation to the management of the Dunes, which yearly donates the club facilities for this charity affair. Mrs. Francis L. Owens of Pinehurst is in charge of reservations.

INS and OUTS

Mrs. J. Watson Smith, Jr. returned Monday to her home, 360 North Ridge Street, from St. Joseph's Hospital where she was hospitalized following major surgery. Her infant daughter, who has been staying with Dr. Smith's parents in Pinehurst, also went home with her mother Monday.

The Emanuel Sontags are back from a cruise aboard their yacht, based at the Bahia Mar Marina at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. They spent some time on Cat Cay in the Bahamas, and at the Crown Colony Club on Chubb Cay and on Frasier's Hog Cay in the Berry Islands. They also visited friends in Palm Beach.

R. P. Beasley has returned from Florida, where he spent some time at DeLand and Daytona Beach. He and Miss Mary Beasley had as their dinner guests Sunday evening their sister, Mrs. H. Page McAulay of Candor, and a brother, B. F. Beasley and his wife, of Raleigh.

Arriving Tuesday for several days with Mr. and Mrs. Matthew C. Fisher and three sons on Midland Road were her mother, Mrs. Ralph R. Pinkerton and her husband, who have been on a fishing trip in Marco, Fla. En route home to La Grange, Ill., they plan visits with friends in Brevard and in Atlanta, Ga.

Little River Home Demonstration Club Has Monthly Meeting

The February meeting of the Little River No. 1 Home Demonstration Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. John C. Frye.

Only eight members were present, as several were ill.

Mrs. Charles Frye gave an interesting program on "Smooth Surface Floor Coverings and Their Care," providing useful information for the members planning work on their homes.

Following adjournment, members were invited by the hostess to see her beautifully redecorated kitchen with built-in cabinets and tile floor covering.

The club's next meeting will be on March 30 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Everett Haywood.

Mrs. Andrews Feting House Guest At Tea At Mid Pines

Mrs. Edward Andrews is entertaining a large group of friends Tuesday at a tea at the Mid Pines Club. The party will honor Mrs. Theodore Smith of Buffalo, N. Y., who is spending some time here, en route home from Puerto Rico, with Mr. and Mrs. Andrews at their home on Valley Road.

Royal Ambassadors Meet, See Film, At Baptist Church

The Crusader and Pioneer Chapters of Royal Ambassadors of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday evening.

The Royal Ambassadors is a missionary organization for boys, nine through 14, which meets every second and fourth Tuesday.

Present were members Bruce Romero, Eddie Howell, Brad Rush, Keith Mangum, Gene Norton, George Wentland, Jr., Warner Frye, Don Caudle, Richard and Carlton Deaton, Jerry Mack, and counsellors Willis Rush and Howard Allred.

R. A. leader, W. C. Deaton, reviewed the mission book "James Robb, Pioneer." A movie, "Cry of Need," was shown. The film was produced by the Baptist Home Mission Board in Atlanta, Ga., and presents the need for personnel to minister to foreign-language groups in large cities and isolated areas of the United States.

Mrs. Eugene Norton served refreshments to the group.

Duplicators Tie For 2nd Prize Tuesday

First place honors were won Tuesday evening in the Sandhill Duplicate Bridge Club session by Mrs. J. J. Spring partnered by Mrs. Roy Grinnell.

Tied for second prize were Mrs. James Pleasants and Mrs. T. C. Worth, Jr., with Miss Margaret Lavery and Mrs. Jean Edson.

"I fell for this cut-rate auto insurance from an agent who represents only one company. When I had a collision loss, I found their agent and adjuster trying to cut every corner on repairs to save the company money. Does anyone really think he saves money when he by-passes his independent local insurance agent?"
