For Men Only

In discussing plans for the annual Razook Spring Fashion Show, to be held Monday evening in the Carolina Hotel ballroom, general chairman Mrs. Daniel O. Delany last week said that men have been fighting shy of the show the past few seasons and they would like to have more men in the audience, with their wives, this year.

Presumably men, if they think of fashion at all, consign it to the limbo of things strictly feminine. Not so. High fashion is big business, a highly competitive industry sparking repercussions often felt in widely diversified fields.

For instance, fashion is in the middle of the picture in the present controversy in Charlotte over whether or not cocktail lounges should be set up in the city, serving mixed drinks over the bar.

The ladies protest that there is no incentive to buy from the collections of the world's top couturiers if there are no smart cocktail lounges, as in New York, in which to wear these gorgeous ensembles.

Because of this lack, Charlotte is apparently to be branded with the stigma of provincialism, though the Queen City has become quite a fashion center in the south, with agencies employing many local housewives who were formerly professional models to supply the growing demand for modeling in the shows which are increasing yearly in number.

There should be no need to point out, of course, that a good percentage of the leading designers are men.

Also, that one of the leading trade journals, published in New York, is Women's Wear Daily, a newspaper of truly staggering proportions in both size and news content.

However, speaking from a strictly feminine viewpoint, we would think the most important incentive to lure men into the audience at the Razook show, or any show, would be the striking good looks of the models, dramatized by the stunning lines and alluring colors of the truly beautiful designer fashions.

Postscript

As a postscript, we might add that during the years when the late General George C. Marshall was one of Pinehurst's "first citizens," at his retirement home here, although he did not appear too frequently in public, he nearly always attended the Razook shows with his wife, and seemed to enjoy the show thoroughly from his front row seat in the audience.

Record Race

Horsemen at the Pinehurst Race Track, commenting on John Edmunds' astonishing winning streak (he came in first in all six heats of the three races at the track March 22), were pretty unanimous in their opinion that this was a record in racing history, particularly as John was driving horses from different stables in each race, and none of the wins was a runaway.

"One of the Best"

Carter Brown of Camden, retiring this year after being one of the outstanding horsemen in the nation for about 45 years, quoted in reminiscences in Wilton Garrison's sports column in the Charlotte Observer, remembers Dooley Adams as one of the best riders he has seen in his career.

Dooley, who was one of the world's best steeplechase riders, according to the record, now lives in Southern Pines and devotes himself year-round to training racers in his stables on Youngs Road.

Miss Creath Is Honor Guest At Bridal Shower

Miss Patti Creath, whose marriage to David Weed of Southern Pines will be an event of June 13, was honored Saturday evening at a linen shower given by Mrs. H. W. Ehrhardt, Jr. at her home. Her three daughters, Mrs. Warren (Elaine) Cameron, and Misses Rose and Anne Ehrhardt, were co-hostesses.

Upon arrival, the bride-elect was given a corsage of yellow roses and her mother, Mrs. L. B. Creath, a corsage of yellow daisies. The 25 guests played games and were served delicious refreshments.

Non-Resident Golfers Win Special Tourneys

Heading the men's division in the weekly individual stroke play tournaments for non-resident members was K. C. Bell, 81-14-67. One stroke off the lead, with 89-21-68, was A. M. Bond.

First in the woman's division, with 74, was Mrs. Arthur C. Muller, Jr., and tied for second, at 76, were Mrs. K. C. Bell, 90-14; Mrs. W. F. Pease, 93-17; and Mrs. J. O. Saeger, 87-11.

Safford Sets Record In Last Race At The Pinehurst Track On Sunday

A good crowd of spring visitors and seasonal residents enjoyed an afternoon of excellent harness racing on a balmy Easter Sunday afternoon at the Pinehurst Race Track.

In fact, according to one of the seasoned trainers there, this second and final matinee was one of the best ever at the track—the horses were in good shape, clocked at good times, and there were some near "photo finishes."

Veteran trainer Frank Safford, winning the third event on the card, the Classified Pace and Trot, drove the four-year-old bay stallion pacer, Mr. Grant, in the fastest mile at a matinee this season, winning the second heat in 2:07.1 and the first in 2:11.1. The pacer is owned by Ben Alimo and Nick Seminaia of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Leroy Smith of Fayetteville, whose husband has horses in training here, is shown presenting the prize in this final event.

Presenting the prize in this race was Mrs. A. C. Giles of Southampton, N. Y.

Lori Knight, a three-year-old filly owned by Dan Garnett of Collins, N. Y. was driven to victory by Del Cote in the first race of the afternoon, the Classified Pace; the driver received his prize from Mrs. Ralph O'Connell of Pittsfield, Mass.

This race matinee sponsored by the Pinehurst Driving and Training Club, marked the end of the season at the Pinehurst Track, one of the largest training establishments for trotters and pacers in the country.

The balance of the 330 horses who have been undergoing intensive grooming here since December, will be moved out this week, traveling with trainers who, in many cases, are also owners, to the northern tracks for the summer's Grand Circuit racing.

AT COUNTRY CLUB

Tony Leonard Wins Division In Tennis Event

Tony Leonard of Southern Pines Tuesday copped the prize in the 16-and-over division of the Spring Vacation Tennis Tournament here, taking three sets to defeat Roddey Kerr. Losing the first set 5-7, Tony came back strong to win the second set 6-1 and fought to take the third, ending with a final 7-5 score.

Following are the results of the preceding matches, played under direction of pro Joe Roddey on the four clay courts at the Pinehurst Country Club:

First Round—R. Kerr df. Buzz Burwell, 10-8, 6-1; Tim Leonard df. Ian Gouldsbrough, 6-2, 6-0; Tony Martin df. Pete Wiggs, 1-6, 6-4, 8-6.

Second Round—R. Kerr df. Tim Leonard, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4; T. Martin df. Carter Burwell, 6-1, 6-0; Tony Leonard df. Francis Warren, 8-6, 6-4; Tim Tufts df. Bob Pease, 6-4, 7-5.

Third Round—R. Kerr df. T. Martin, 6-4, 6-2; Tony Leonard df. Tim Tufts, 6-4, 6-1.

The tournament began last weekend and other divisions, boys' and girls' 16-and-under, are proceeding toward the finals. Results of these matches will be carried in next week's issue of The Pilot.

Three Honored At Party At Local Nursing Home

Three persons were honored at a combination birthday and Easter party Friday afternoon at the Pinehurst Nursing Home.

Each month, a birthday celebration is held, honoring those who have had birthdays during that month. For this occasion, the approach of Easter made it one of especial festivity.

The honor guests were James Woodrow "Woody" Duncan, of Carthage Star Route, who is at the nursing home convalescing after an auto accident, and who was 27 years old on March 1; Charles W. King of Rockingham, who was 84 on the day of the party, and Randolph Edward Morrisette of Greensboro, who was 64 on Saturday.

Twenty residents and ambulatory patients attended the party in the dining-room, and 30 were served in their rooms.

The dining-room was decorated with Easter lilies, breath of spring, Easter bunnies and other colorful reminders of the season. Mrs. Nell Flinchum, food service director, served delicious refreshments of punch, coconut cake, candied Easter eggs and assorted candies.

Lions Club Will Honor Basketball Teams At Dinner

Rodney C. Hundley will be guest speaker at a dinner, to be given by the Pinehurst Lions Club honoring the boys' and girls' basketball teams and cheerleaders, April 8 at the Pinehurst School cafeteria.

Mr. Hundley was given the nickname "Hot Rod" while playing at the University of West Virginia, where he was an All-American basketball player. After graduation from college, he played basketball for five years with the Los Angeles Lakers.

World Peace Program

Judi McKenzie won first place and Kaye Gilmore was runner-up in the essay contest on World Peace, sponsored annually by the Pinehurst Lions Club.

Judi, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McKenzie, and Kaye, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Max Gilmore, both spoke on the topic "What Should be the United States' Foreign Policy for 1964?" at the Lions Club meeting last Wednesday at Laverne's

Robert Hunt, 52, Of Eastwood, Dies Suddenly

Robert Lee Hunt, 52, died suddenly Monday at his home in Eastwood.
