Cultivate Reading, Get Knowledge,

By HOLLIS HANEY
Director, Sandhills Regional Library

Spring is everyone's favorite season, probably because it has moods for everyone.

Spring is clean-up, paint-up time. Spring is for planting and for coaxing buds into blossom. Spring is the resounding call, "Play ball!" that echoes from backyard to major league training farms.

Spring is the time of the year that encourages us to bring its freshness and vitality inside our homes, inside our minds. It can also be a time for reflection and self-evaluation, prompted by the new life of the season.

Spring Fever Lulls

If you're interested in planting a garden, redecorating your home, helping "clean-up" or "paint-up" a neighborhood, your librarian and staff will furnish reading material to make any of these activities more interesting, more fun. Turn the spring fever lull to inspired vigor.

Green Thumb?

All of us have a desire to create something beautiful, and one way to do it is by working in the soil. If you are not already a gardener, why not consider becoming one? Let your library invite you to consider gardening as a hobby and offer to loan you good gardening books as a reward for your efforts.

For pleasure read E.T.H. Wchaffer's book CAROLINA GARDENS: all about South and

North Carolina gardens and plantations. Also a new book added to the Moore County Library is GARDENS AND PEOPLE by Fletcher Steele. . . most delightful. This is a book about landscape, nature, gardens and the people who enjoy them . . .

GARDENING WITHOUT POISONS is a book by B. T. Hunter, a constructive answer to the pesticide problem. R. D. Meikies GARDEN FLOWERS is a brand new Key Series which should serve as a useful guide to those who would like to grow something "different" in their gardens. Zing Into Spring

Books on personal growth and self-improvement include those on vocational opportunities, (VO-CATIONS IN BIOGRAPHY AND FICTION, (Haebich); wardrobe (THE BISHOP METHOD OF CLOTHING CONSTRUCTION by Edna Bishop); appearance (ALICE BELL'S CHARM BOOK; Genevieve Antonine Dariaux's ELEGANCE); and others.

Cultivate Reading

Your own program of personal growth and improvement can be renewed as you accept your library's seasonal challenge: "Cultivate reading: Grow in knowledge." Your library's books and magazines can help you enjoy your present interest, or sprout new ones. After winter's drabness, it's time to enjoy life, to swing into spring with books from your library.
