Community College May Be Built For Student Body Of 600, Not 400

Higher enrollment than earlier planned, in a broad span of courses, was forecast for the Moore County Community College Monday night, as the board of trustees met to hear a report of progress from Dr. Raymond A. Stone of Southern Pines, president, and Architects T. T. Hayes, Jr. of Southern Pines and C. William Brubaker, of Chicago, who is in charge of master planning. A possible enrollment of 600 students was predicted as compared to the formerly planned 400. Dr. Stone based the new enrollment projection on three major factors:

- (1) Of the 2,000 high school graduates annually in the area to be served roughly 1,000 are now continuing their education. According to state studies, approximately one half of that number can be expected to become students in the Community College.
- (2) The number of pupils in high school will reach an all-time high in the 1964-65 school year, and the percentage of students who graduate from high school continues to move upward.
- (3) If enrollment trends here follow trends elsewhere in community colleges, approximately one of five students who enroll

Moore Girl Will Compete In Miss N. C. Pageant

Pretty, petite Vickie Hardister of near Aberdeen will compete in the Miss North Carolina Pageant at Raleigh next week—but she will represent Burlington, not her native Moore County.

Chosen Miss Burlington at the Jaycee-sponsored contest in that city this year, the aspirant for the Miss North Carolina title is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hardister.

Selected for the Miss Burlington title while studying at Elon College, the 21-year-old Vickie has natural curly brown hair, blue eyes, and weighs 110 pounds. She is a tiny five feet, two.

She is one of 90 young women who will be put through their paces in a tightly-packed schedule. (Continued on Page 8)

Bowling Added To Recreation List

Bowling, a new activity for boys and girls 8 to 17 years of age, is being added to the municipal summer recreation program, Director David Page and Assistant Director Bobby Watkins announced this week.

The activity is scheduled for each Monday morning, 9:30 to 11, at the O. K. Bowl on S. W. Broad St. Youngsters wanting to take part are asked to meet at the park—not at the bowling alleys—and go to the O. K. Bowl in the activity bus.

Newcomers to bowling will receive free instruction and free use of shoes, it was stated. Experienced bowlers will pay a 25 cents fee, but there will be no charge for shoes. Swimming, baseball, basketball, volleyball, roller skating, tennis and games and contests for younger children are among the other activities of the summer program.

UNION HOMECOMING

Members, former members and friends of Union Presbyterian Church, between Vass and Carthage, were reminded this week of the church's annual homecoming on Sunday, July 5, with a worship service at 11:15 a. m., to be followed by a picnic lunch. The Rev. M. C. McIver, Jr., of Richmond, Va., will be the preacher.

DOES NOT MEAN EARLY INDUCTION

Examination Of 18-Year-Olds By U.S. Armed Forces Begun In New System

North Carolina Selective Service Local Boards are forwarding 18-year-old registrants for complete examination by the armed forces, the Moore County Board office in Carthage announced this week, quoting William M. McCachren, state director of Selective Service.

The announcement emphasized that the examination of 18-year-olds does not mean that they face induction in the immediate future.

The examination of these young registrants who are out of school and not deferred for other reasons initiates a program announced by President Johnson on January 5. The President directed the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Selective Service to begin the early examination of 18-year-old registrants after a presidential task force study determined that large numbers of young men being found disqualified for military service were interested in obtaining educational, vocational, and medical rehabilitation.

In announcing the plan to examine younger registrants, the President pointed out that early examination will "... enable those who are qualified for military service to plan intelligently their future careers in this respect. It will enable those found unqualified to get to work promptly on the education, training, or health services which can be of benefit to them."

The President also noted that "... early examination will NOT mean early induction. There will be no change in the present practice of calling older registrants for actual induction into the Armed Forces before younger ones are called."

At the present time, men are being reached for induction between 21½ and 22 years of age, as a national average. In North Carolina the average age of involuntary induction is about 22½, Mr. McCachren said.

WATERFRONT AT CAMP EASTER—Wheelchairs are unusual on a beach, but Camp Easter in the Pines, for handicapped children, is an unusual place. On dock at right, the waterfront director, Marvin Cornell, and program director, Joan Ram, oversee activities of splashing campers. Mrs. Martha Graham, physical therapist, and several counselors are with the children. This is the second week of operation of the new camp near Southern Pines, owned by the N. C. Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Only a portion of the 32 campers are pictured here. A formal opening with the public invited, is planned for Sunday afternoon, July 12. (V. Nicholson photo)

County, State Vote For Dan Moore; Scott Defeats Blue In Close Race

In the gubernatorial race, in last Saturday's Democratic second primary, Moore County followed the statewide sweep to Dan K. Moore of Canton, as supporters of the defeated I. Beverley Lake of Raleigh joined to swamp the previously front running Richardson Preyer of Greensboro.

State-wide, with all but four precincts reporting, the count was Moore, 480,120; Preyer, 294,241. Moore won 16 of the county's 19 precincts for a total vote of 3,424, while Preyer received 2,369. Total vote for governor was 5,793, or 48 more than in the first primary on May 30, when 5,725 votes were cast for the three candidates.

South Southern Pines, Robbins and Pinehurst were the only precincts going for Preyer in the second primary.

BLOODMOBILE TO BE HERE FRIDAY

A collection of blood in Moore County's continuing program that supplies patients in both the county's hospitals will be made by a bloodmobile from the Red Cross center at Charlotte, at St. Anthony's School auditorium here, from 11 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., Friday.

J. R. Hauser, county Red Cross and blood program chairman, said that this will be the last collection in the county until September. David Drexler, chairman of the Southern Pines area blood committee, said that more than 125 donors are needed and urged a generous response by the public.

A collection was made by the bloodmobile in Carthage today (Thursday).

Dr. Stuber With Moore Memorial As Pathologist

Dr. Robert L. Stuber of Durham has been appointed pathologist at Moore Memorial Hospital, Pinehurst, according to an announcement this week by Duncan L. McGoogan, administrator. Dr. Stuber assumed his duties July 1.

Dr. Philip P. Green of Southern Pines, who has served as pathologist for the past 11 years, will continue to serve in a part-time capacity.

Dr. Stuber comes to Moore Memorial from Duke University Medical Center and the Veterans Administration Hospital, Durham, where he has been assistant chief of laboratory service since 1959.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Dr. Stuber attended parochial schools in Marion, Ohio, and was graduated from John Carroll University with a B. S. degree in 1952. He received his M. D. degree in 1956 from St. Louis University and served his internship at St. John's Hospital, St. Louis, Mo. Before coming to North Carolina, Dr. Stuber was in general practice at Marion, Ohio.

Dr. Stuber is a diplomate of the American Board of Pathology in Pathological Anatomy and Clinical Pathology.

He is married to the former Miss Genevieve Mazur of Ludlow, Mass., and they have six children, Joseph, John, Stefan, JoAnne, Susan and Jerry. They are residing at 475 East Indiana Ave., Southern Pines.

No Answers Found As Commissioners Confer With 3 School Groups

Consolidation or non-consolidation of the three school units operating in Moore County was discussed at a special meeting of the county commissioners and the various boards of education Tuesday afternoon, but no new answers were found.

Meeting with the commissioners, on their invitation, and taking part in the three hours of discussion were members of the Moore County, Southern Pines and Pinehurst boards of education and the combined Aberdeen-West End (Area III) district committees.

The chairmen and superintendents of the three school systems in the county were all present: Jere McKeithen of Aberdeen, chairman, and R. L. Lee of Carthage, superintendent, for the county school system; Dr. C. C. McLean, chairman, and J. W. Jenkins, superintendent, for the Southern Pines system; and L. B. Creath, chairman, and Lewis S. Cannon, superintendent, for the Pinehurst system.

The full board of commissioners attended: L. R. Reynolds of Highfalls, chairman; John M. Currie of Carthage, Tom Monroe of Robbins, J. M. Pleasants of Southern Pines and W. S. Taylor of Aberdeen.

The commissioners wanted a complete "progress report" on how the units stood in relation to a possible merger agreement. (Continued on Page 8)

Gilmore Joins In Backing Proposed Deep River Dams

At a public hearing called by the Army Corps of Engineers at Randleman in Randolph County last Friday, Voit Gilmore of Southern Pines supported the proposed Howard's Mill and Randleman dam projects as bringing economic, esthetic and recreational advantages to a wide area, including Moore County.

Gilmore is one of two Democratic State Senate nominees from the 12th District which includes both Moore and Randolph Counties.

The Engineers, as part of the Cape Fear River basin flood control project which includes the already authorized dam at New Hope in Chatham County, have proposed the two smaller dams to control flooding and provide water conservation and other advantages on Deep River, a major tributary of the Cape Fear.

The Howard's Mill dam would be in Moore County, just south of the Randolph County line, with the major portion of the lake created lying in Randolph. The Randleman dam would be just north of Randleman, in the northeast corner of Randolph County, and would create a lake in Randolph, also extending toward Greensboro and High Point in Guilford County.

Statements both for and against the dams were made at Friday's hearing, including opposition from an attorney representing about 400 persons who would be displaced from 6,000 acres of land that would be covered with water by the projects. The Asheboro, Randleman and other Chambers of Commerce, as well as Congressmen Kornegay and Lennon—from whom statements were (Continued on Page 8)

CLOSINGS FOR HOLIDAY VARY

Post offices, banks, ABC stores, town offices, information center and library and the courthouse in Carthage will all close for a Fourth of July holiday on Saturday.

Some stores in this area, including the three largest super markets, will close Saturday only. Some stores will remain open Saturday and close Monday.

The Pilot office will be closed Monday. The office is regularly closed on Saturday, each week.

WANT TO REMAIN INDEPENDENT DISTRICT

Local, Pinehurst School Officials Reply To Aberdeen-West End Letter

In a letter sent Tuesday to Joe S. Lennon of Aberdeen, chairman of the Aberdeen-West End joint school committee, the chairmen of the Southern Pines and Pinehurst boards of education reaffirm the two boards' decision to seek a merger of the Southern Pines and Pinehurst school districts into a single independent school system, rather than accept the invitation issued last week, by the committee, to join Aberdeen and West End districts in a unified consolidation program under the county school system.

The letter, a copy of which was received by The Pilot today, is signed by C. C. McLean, chairman of the Southern Pines board of education, and L. B. Creath, chairman of the Pinehurst board.

The two chairmen, however, did not refuse, in the letter, to discuss the matter, as invited, in a joint meeting. And they added their own invitation for the West End and Aberdeen districts—which are both units of the county school system—to discuss joining Southern Pines and Pinehurst in an independent, separate district that would not be a part of the county system.

Here is the complete text of the letter:

"In reply to your letter of June 22, 1964, regarding your invitation to become members of your joint consolidation program, the Southern Pines and Pinehurst School Board members met and discussed the matter at length. We appreciated your interest in our school system, and the fact that you would like to discuss the matter in a joint meeting. We are always ready to discuss matters that are of vital concern to the best educational needs of our youth.

"A number of years ago, the Pinehurst and Southern Pines administrative units were established as separate school systems at the request of the local citizens. We believe that being an inde-
