Harvey beat Dillard Traynham of Greenville, S. C., 5 and 4, over the challenging No. 2 championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Eliminated, as the golfers from the two Carolinas slugged their way through downpour after downpour in five of the wettest consecutive days experienced for a long time in the Sandhills were such stellar players as Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, president of the Association and three-times winner of the tournament; Medalist Charlie Smith of Gastonia, the 1962 CGA champ who shot a six-under-par 66 on Friday; and Defending Champ Ken Folkes of Concord. The No. 2 course record is 65.

Patton, qualifying with a 74, shot a hole-in-one on the 15th. Youth had its day during the tournament. Bobby Foster, 17, of Columbia, S. C., put out Smith, Ed Justa, 24, of Rocky Mount, a frequent golfer in the Sandhills, set back Patton.

A couple of young Whispering Pines golfers, who are currently holding their own in the continuing Moore County Tournament, had their day before falling by the wayside.

WEEKEND SKEET SHOOT TO BE HELD

Fire Destroys Pinehurst Gun Club

The Pinehurst Gun Club, which had been undergoing a complete modernization, burned to the ground Thursday night of last week.

The clubhouse modernization was half completed when the fire struck. Lightning has been given as the probable cause for the fire which occurred during a severe thunder storm.

Norman A. Amstutz of Southern Pines, noted Ohio trap and skeet shooter who has a 10-year lease on the club, announced that work on a new fireproof club house would begin at once. The new structure will be similar to the original.

Fortunately, the trap fields were not damaged and the Mid-summer Skeet Shoot will be held as scheduled on July 25 and 26. Tents will be set up for participants and spectators.

Albert Tufts, president of Pinehurst, Inc., said after the fire that Pinehurst, Inc., owned the basic structure that burned but that the improvements were being made at the expense of Mr. Amstutz. Both portions of the loss were covered by insurance, Mr. Tufts said.

The original clubhouse was a rustic structure that was being completely refinished inside, with modern rest room and cooking facilities, Mr. Tufts said. New furniture and furnishings were included in the modernization plan.

Mr. Amstutz is putting modern equipment in the trap houses and the club's facilities are being prepared for trap shooting as well as skeet shooting, he pointed out.

Pinehurst volunteer firemen responded to an alarm, after the fire was discovered, but the blaze had progressed too far for them to save any portion of the structure.

Proctor-Silex Job Types Discussed At NLRB Hearing

A hearing held at the town hall here Monday, under supervision of Edward E. Carroll, Jr., of the Greensboro office of the National Labor Relations Board, was described as a "routine procedural step" in determining whether or not a labor union will become bargaining agent for employees of the local Proctor-Silex Corporation plant.

The plant, manufacturing electronic irons, opened here January 1, 1963, and now has nearly 600 employees, according to testimony offered at the hearing.

The International Union of Electrical, Radio and Appliance Workers, AFL-CIO, has been conducting an organizing drive among workers at the plant for several weeks. The union had filed a petition for an election that would be held under NLRB regulations to decide whether it will become the employees' bargaining agent. No action on the petition was taken or reported Monday.

At the hearing, the union which maintains a headquarters between Southern Pines and Lakeview on No. 1 highway—was represented by Carlton C. Hooks, field representative who gave his address as a Vass post office box, and by William Edward Jackson of the Industrial Union Department, AFL-CIO, Charlotte.

The hearing was the first of the kind ever held in Southern Pines and the second ever conducted in Moore County.

Welfare Director Will Make Final Appeal On Medical Care Program

The Moore County Commissioners will hold a special meeting Monday at 2 p.m. to adopt the budget for 1964-65.

The $1,563,917 budget was tentatively adopted by the board at its regular meeting July 6, and is left open for public inspection in the register of deeds office for a 20-day period required by law.

Among critical matters to be decided and provided for will be the new medical care program for the Welfare Department. Mrs. W. B. Cole, county superintendent of welfare, is scheduled to appear before the commissioners on behalf of the new program and the need for extra help in the department in its administration.

Said Mrs. Cole: "We now have all the information on this matter, some of which was lacking until now. We have the complete schedule and also the application forms and people have been coming in to apply. The new system went into effect July 1." Mrs. Cole said, "and payments will be retroactive. We hope, of course, to get the green light at Monday's meeting."

Mrs. Cole explained that every county of the 100 in the state is required by law to assume this responsibility — "the county's share, one sixth of the total cost, has to be budgeted." The superintendent added that she didn't see how the present staff could possibly handle the great increase in paper-work this would involve due to the many more people to be served by this new program. She was hoping greatly that the commissioners would OK and budget employment of another worker.

Hoke Trio Arrested In $2,700 Theft Of Chemical From Aberdeen Plant

Three Hoke County men were arrested Monday in the week-long investigation of the theft of 150 gallons of MH-30, sucker control spray for tobacco, from the Olin-Mathieson Chemical Corp. plant at Aberdeen.

Eighty-five gallons of the popular and expensive spray in one-gallon and five-gallon cans, with a retail value of $17.50 per gallon, were recovered, according to Chief Moore County Deputy H. H. Grimm, conducting the investigation with assistance of Hoke County Sheriff Dave Barrington and SBI Agent Gary Griffith.

Placed under $5,000 bond each for their appearance next Monday in Moore Recorder's Court were James Jones and Joe Scott, both white men, both about 40, operating farms three or four miles apart near the Dundarrach community. They are charged with breaking and entering, larceny and receiving.

Charged with receiving, and making a lesser bond, was Nick Hunt, Indian, of Red Springs RFD, in the Antioch section of Hoke.

All denied any knowledge of the theft, Grimm said. Jones even insisted he had no idea how 10 gallons of the MH-30 happened to be in his car, or 66 gallons in the curing pit of a packhouse on a farm leased by him in the Rockfish community.

Three gallons were found in the possession of Hunt, while six were located on another farm in Robeson county, said Grimm, who added that further arrests might be made.

None of the arrested men has a criminal record.

The MH-30, of a total retail value of $2,625, was stolen Monday night, July 13, from the Olin - Mathieson Manufacturing plant a half-mile east of Aberdeen on NC 211, the Raeford Road. Entry was made by forcing open a loading door on the highway side of the building.

That same night, the Taylor Chemical Co. of Aberdeen which manufactures MH-30, was also broken into but there happened to be none of that particular chemical on hand at the time and nothing was taken.

MH-30 is in strong demand just now as priming time approaches on Sandhills tobacco farms.

At 6 a. m. Tuesday, the day after the theft, Jones and Scott were reportedly peddling it for $10 a gallon, Grimm said.
