Miss Saunders Is Bride Of Clyde Phipps, Jr.

Miss Kathy Laura Saunders and Clyde Phipps, Jr. were married Saturday in the United Church of Christ. The 5 p.m. ceremony, attended only by members of both families, was performed by the Rev. Carl Wallace, pastor.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Saunders of Candor, wore a white street length dress, and filtration veil. Her only attendant was Miss Gail Gero of Candor.

Donald McDonald was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Phipps of Southern Pines.

The bride is a graduate of East Montgomery High School. Her husband attended the Southern Pines High School and is presently employed at the Tri - City Printers on Highway 15-501 near Aberdeen.

The couple is making their home for the present at 175 W. Connecticut Ave.

FAMILY RETURNS HERE

Rupert Keefe, Retires From Gov't. Service

Returning to the Sandhills for their retirement years are Mr. and Mrs. Rupert F. Keefe who have remodeled and are now living at Mrs. Keefe's former home at 175 E. Vermont Ave. Mr. Keefe has retired after 40 years with the Federal Government. His wife kept the house here through the years they were away.

Their daughter, Miss Alida Keefe, attended Notre Dame Academy here in 1951-52 and "just loved it." She received her Bachelor and Master's degrees in Music Education from Catholic University in Washington, D. C., while living at home, within five minutes distance from the University. She has taught public school music in Prince Georges County, Md. for the past five years.

Mrs. Keefe, the former Ruby Taft, is a native of Providence, R. I., who came to Southern Pines in 1924 with her mother. As a girl, she worked in the office of Paul T. Barnum. She and her husband, who comes from Newport, R. I., were married at St. Anthony's Catholic Church here on November 11, 1935.

During the 29 years the Keefes lived in Washington, they were regular subscribers to The Pilot, and as Mrs. Keefe expressed it, "we felt like it was a letter from home."

WCSA Meets For Program, Luncheon

Mrs. James Jenkins, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service, presided Tuesday morning at a meeting of the Society at the Southern Pines Methodist Church. In addition to the 28 members present, a visitor was Mrs. E. C. Funderburk.

In charge of the program, "A New Purpose for a New Age," were Mrs. Earl Hubbard and Mrs. J. S. Hiatt, Jr. Mrs. Hiatt also shared with members her experiences of interest when she was a delegate in August at the School of Missions held at Methodist College in Fayetteville.

After the meeting each circle met briefly before a covered dish luncheon was served. The Rev. A. L. Thompson, church pastor, was a guest at the supper.

SAW BEATLES IN FLORIDA

While in Jacksonville, Fla. for the weekend Dealers Showing of the 1965 Cadillacs, Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Thomas stayed at the George Washington Hotel, which was headquarters for the Beatles.

Said Mrs. Thomas, "We saw the Beatles, and the crowds of young girls there at the hotel to see them was just the same as it is on television. It was quite exciting."

The Thomases live at 325 N. Ashe St. and he is manager of the Pinehurst Garage Company.

Four Moore County Home Demonstration Club members are busy making Christmas gifts to show on the Peggy Mann Show, television station WTVD, Durham, Tuesday, September 29.

Those attending will be: Mrs. Lloyd Thomas, Springfield Club; Mrs. Bennie Fulcher, Heartfire Club; and Mrs. M. M. Routh and Mrs. Robert Coffee, Cranes Creek Club.

MRS. WHITLOCK

Couple Wed Here Saturday Living At Guilford While Both Finish College

The Southern Pines Methodist Church was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Miss Diana Nell Bridges and James Buchan Whitlock. The Rev. R. C. Moon, Jr. and the Rev. A. L. Thompson were the officiating ministers.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Bridges of Midland Road, Southern Pines, was given in marriage by her father. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Whitlock of Aberdeen.

After a wedding trip to South Carolina, the young couple will be at home at King Street, Guilford College. The bride, who graduated from Southern Pines High School, is a junior at UNC-C. Mr. Whitlock is an Aberdeen High School graduate and is in his junior year at Guilford College.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white silk peau de soie, a lace bordered mantilla, and carried a cascade bouquet of valley lilies, stephanotis and miniature white orchids.

DROPS IN ON SCHOOL CLASSES

Resident of Baden-Baden Enjoys Her Visits In N. C., And Southern Pines

A visitor at the Southern Pines school this week was a charming German fraulein, Rosemarie Jaegel, who dropped in informally on several of the elementary and high school classes and "sat in" on one of the Spanish high school sessions.

This was, in a sense, a busman's holiday for Miss Jaegel, who has completed the third year of her four-year course in languages at the Sorbonne in Paris. At the end of this year, she expects to receive her diploma as a "spontaneous interpreter" in French and German.

With her brown hair curving at the ends to frame her face and her long, ocean-blue eyes dramatically outlined in thick, dark lashes, Rosemarie has somewhat the look of a ballerina. She is extremely poised, but friendly, and eager to talk of her experiences here.

She is in this country on an experiment in International Living, one of 120 young Europeans chosen to travel in the states and to stay in homes here as members of families.

During her weekend stay in Southern Pines, she was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips and their family. "We kidnapped her for this weekend," said Mrs. Phillips, who accompanied her visitor to the Pilot office Tuesday to have her picture taken.

Rosemarie, 23, has been staying with friends of the Phillipses in Laurinburg. Her stay in Laurinburg is sponsored by the local Rotary Club, chairman of which is Dr. Davidson, assistant dean of St. Andrews Presbyterian College.

"She really is a member of the family—she even has to wash dishes," laughed Mrs. Phillips. But this has seemed to be no hardship for the German girl, who admitted that she was enjoying herself greatly here.

"I've been all over North Carolina," said Rosemarie, who comes from Baden-Baden. "I've been in the mountains and I met your Governor in Raleigh." She is the only one of the 12 boys and 12 girls in her particular group who has been exclusively in North Carolina. They will all meet back in New York September 25 to fly back to Paris.

Asked about her family, Rosemarie said her sister, Eva is a medical student in Berlin. Her

Mrs. David Miller was matron of honor for her sister. She and the bridesmaids, Misses Mary Leigh Inman, Kathy Whitlock, Mirtha Petsche and Louise Ault, all wore dresses of delphinium blue. Their cascade bouquets were composed of matching blue miniature carnations, garza mums and deep blue asters and sea spray statice.

The bridegroom had his father as best man. Ushers were David Miller, John Boyette, Eddie Bridges and Jim McKeithen.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of beige silk linen and a corsage of bronze green orchids. The mother of the bride was attired in a dress of turquoise lace. Her miniature yellow cactleys were named for the bride's grandmother, while the orchids in Mrs. Whitlock's corsage were named for her mother, the bridegroom's grandmother.

A reception following the ceremony was given at the Holiday Inn by the bride's aunts and her grandmother.

MITES IN BEULAH HILL CHURCH UNITE MISS HELEN MORGAN AND MELVIN FRYE

Miss Helen Morgan of Southern Pines became the bride of Melvin Frye of Pinehurst on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the Beulah Hill Baptist Church. The candlelit, double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Max A. Gilmore, pastor.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Curtis Garner of Robbins, wore a gown of white slipper satin with lace bodice and long sleeves ending in calla points over the hands. A large satin bow provided accent at the back waist and the full skirt ended in a chapel train. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible. Her veil of illusion fell from a pearl-encrusted tiara.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Coleen Tew of Southern Pines, who wore a pink brocaded taffeta dress with matching headpiece and carried a single green fuji mum tied with green velvet ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Percy Slade, niece of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Clarence Post, the bridegroom's sister. Their costumes were identical to that of the honor attendant but mint green in color and each carried a single green fuji mum.

Little Miss Tyann Tew, niece of the bride, the flower girl, wore a full skirted white embroidered organdy dress and scattered rose petals from a white satin covered basket. Wayland Post, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Ushers were Percy Slade, Pinehurst; Clamie Morgan, Robbins, cousin of the bride; Ricky Frye, J. B. Blount, of Augusta, Ga., Billy Post. The best man was the groom's brother, Clarence Post.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alex Morgan of Robbins, and the late Mr. Morgan. She is employed by United Telephone Company of Southern Pines. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Frye of West End route and is an employee of Pinehurst, Inc. The couple will make their home in the Murdockville community near Pinehurst.

Reception
A reception followed the ceremony at the Little Club in Pinehurst. Mrs. Walter Morgan welcomed the guests. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and white dahlias flanked with lighted tapers in gold candlesticks. The wedding cake was served alternately by Mrs. Millard Faircloth of Spring Lake and Mrs. James Faircloth, Pinehurst, sisters of the bridegroom. Punch was poured by Mrs. Coy Frye of Aberdeen.

Bridal Shower
Mrs. Frye was feted at a shower in the Fellowship Hall of the Beulah Hill Baptist Church on Tuesday evening. Games and conversation were enjoyed by the guests after which the honoree opened and acknowledged her gifts.

Punch, coffee and bridal cake squares were served from a table centered with an arrangement of autumn flowers. Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Morgan, Mrs. Rudolph Frye and Mrs. Mack Graham.

Blue Chapter, UDC Essay Winners Named

The John Blue Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met last Wednesday evening at the Whispering Pines Restaurant.

On arrival, the hostesses, Mrs. O. A. Speight, Mrs. R. S. Durant, Mrs. Francis Pleasants, Miss Edna Maurer and Miss Nannie Gilchrist, served their guests delicious refreshments. There were 19 members present and five guests.

Mrs. C. S. Patch, Sr., president, presided. Miss Jeanette Leach led in the reading of the Ritual and the salute to the flags.

During the business meeting, the Chapter voted to send subscriptions of the UDC magazine to the Aberdeen and Southern Pines school libraries.

Mrs. A. L. Burney reported that a total of $104.50 was collected from the sale of Confederate flags. The president appointed a committee to select a book to be placed in the library in loving memory of Miss Pearl McMillan.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. John McCrummen, program chairman, announced the winners of the essay contest, held in May. Students from the seventh grade in the Southern Pines and Aberdeen eighth grade participated.

In Southern Pines, the first place winner was Charles Pitts, Jr., second place, Carolyn Harris, and third place, Carolyn Perham. Winners from Aberdeen: first place, Becky Shelton; second place, Doyle Jean Warner; and third place, Andy Auman.

Miss Becky Shelton, a guest of the club, read her winning essay, "Generals In The Confederate Army," which was greatly enjoyed by all.

AT SANFORD

Landscaping And Horticulture Course Offered

A 25-hour course in Landscaping and Ornamental Horticulture is being offered to garden club members, home owners, and other interested persons by the Lee County Industrial Education Center.

The course is open to residents of Sanford, Lee County and surrounding areas as a part of the regular evening program. One organizational meeting has been held, with classes scheduled to begin on Tuesday, September 15, at 7:30. The Class will meet twice each week thereafter, on Tuesday and Thursday in Room 10B at the Center.

Pat Barnes, of Barnes Landscaping of Apex, will be the instructor. He is a graduate of North Carolina State with a degree in Horticulture, and for two years was superintendent of Dogwood Gardens Nursery. In this capacity, Mr. Barnes landscaped Velvet Cloak Motel in Raleigh, plus many other public buildings and homes.

He is presently consulting with Peace College about their grounds in reference to landscaping.

Total cost of the course is $2.50. Interested persons are asked to contact the Center at 775-4249 or write Route 2, Kelly Drive, Sanford.

CIVIC CLUB BENEFIT

Fashion Show Set September 29, Rockingham

The Rockingham Woman's Civic Club is sponsoring their annual benefit, on Tuesday, September 29, at 8 pm at Kay's Shop of Rockingham. This will be an Autumn Leaves Reception and Fashion Show, and men and women of the Sandhills area are invited to attend.

Commentator for the show of fashions will be the well-known radio and television personality, Pat Lee of Charlotte. Outstanding models from the Sandhills, Charlotte and New York will show the newest creations from the couturier houses of New York. The most luxurious furs will also be modeled.

Harry Lenoff will create an atmosphere of mystery and excitement on the organ as the new styles are revealed.

Refreshments will be served following the show. Door prizes will also be awarded during the evening.

Tickets ($1 benefit fee) can be obtained from club members, from McNair Furniture Company, the Journal office or Kay's Shop in Rockingham. Out-of-townners may write or call for tickets: Mrs. Bruce Tull, TW5-2419, or Mrs. Ralph Gandy, TW5-2010, in Rockingham.
