Grey Fox Restaurant Is Open For Season

The Grey Fox Restaurant located behind the Village Court building, opened for the season today, Thursday. Again under management of owner and experienced restaurateur Charles Herman, the Grey Fox will be open for breakfast, lunches and dinners throughout the season here, October-May.

Mrs. L. A. Wollaefer of Southern Pines will be cashier and hostess this year.

TEERING OFF * WITH deNISSOFF

Too Many Cooks...
When is a dishwasher not a dishwasher? When it's a salad freezer, of course. Through a plain case of "too many cooks spoiling the broth," the Pilot goofed last week, in cutlines under the front page photo of Carolina Hotel manager Daniel O. Delaney and chef-steward William J. Greene and an appliance identified by us as a "dishwasher." Actually, the new piece of kitchen equipment shown is a salad cooler, installed during the remodeling of the Carolina kitchen which took place during the summer.

The Hemmer photo passed through too many hands before it reached the front page last week. This, plus the pressure of getting a paper out, added to the confusion of remodeling our own Pilot plant, surely reduced our accuracy. But we regret the error.

Given Library to Open

A release from the Pinehurst Press Bureau noting the openings here as Pinehurst's 70th season gets under way, notes that the Given Memorial Library, with over 5,000 volumes, will open in Early October. The impressive brick building with white columns and trim, makes a distinguished addition to the Village Green in its location across from the Holly Inn.

Additions
At the Pinehurst Gun Club, a new club house is going up to replace the one that burned last summer. Gun Club facilities have been renovated and expanded and now offer five skeet and five trap fields and a lighted field for night shooting.

The new automated irrigation system is well underway on the Number Four course at the Pinehurst Country Club, and all five courses there will be open for play by mid-October.

Also added at the club during the summer, the two new clay tennis courts plus the four already there, make it possible for 32-35 persons to play at one time in round-robin competition, according to Pro Joe Roddey, who is in charge of tennis activities there.

Retired Navy

Capt. Maddox Succumbs At 78

Navy Capt. Charles Hamilton Maddox, retired, a pioneer in the application of radio to naval uses and a veteran of both World Wars, died of pneumonia September 22 at Bethesda Naval Hospital. He was 78.

Captain and Mrs. Maddox have owned a winter home in Pinehurst for some years.

A funeral service was held last Thursday at 1 p.m. at the home. Burial will be in Arlington Cemetery.

In 1912, he designed and tested in flight the first successful radio equipment used in a Navy airplane.

During World War I, he served as radio officer for the Pacific Fleet on the staff of the fleet commander. In 1916 he was radio superintendent for the San Francisco district and in 1918 served with the naval forces operating in the Atlantic as radio officer on the staff of the commander. Between the two wars, Capt. Maddox served as the commanding officer on the U. S. S. Philip, Putnam and Raleigh. He later joined the staff of the Naval War College in Newport, R. I.

In World War II, Capt. Maddox organized and commanded an 87-ship service squadron based at Pearl Harbor, which was engaged in supply operations for the Pacific Fleet. He retired from the Navy in 1946.

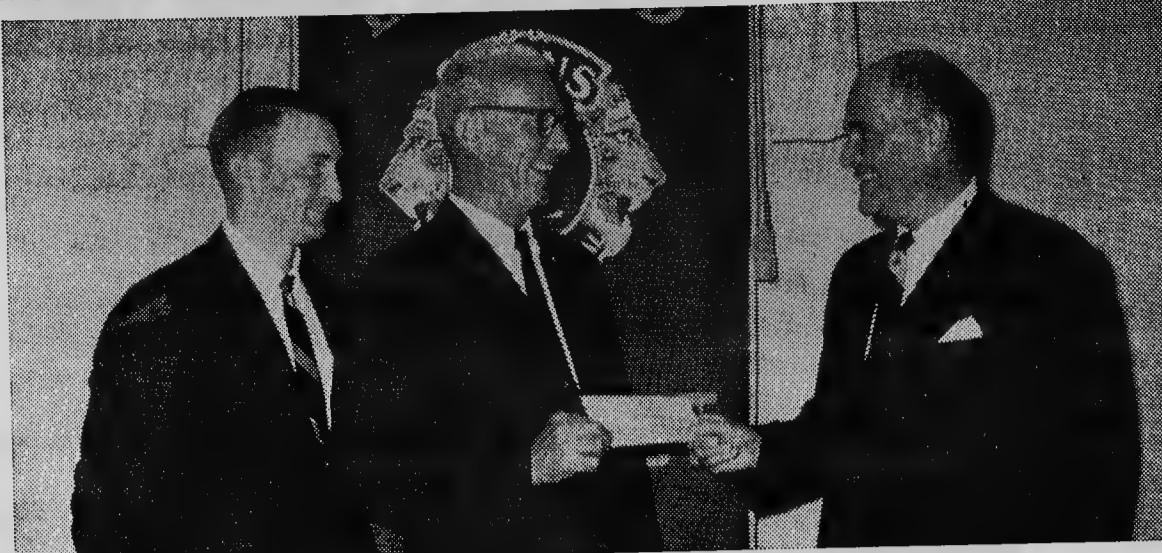

Born in Hamilton, Ont., he was a 1909 graduate of the United States Naval Academy and later attended the Harvard Graduate School of Applied Science and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

In Washington he was a member of Chevy Chase Country Club, The Metropolitan Club and the Army and Navy Club. He was also a member of the New York Yacht Club and was a life member of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Capt. Maddox leaves his wife, Isabel R. of 2446 Belmont Road N.W., Washington, D. C.; three children, Mrs. Evelyn M. Horkan of Middleburg, Va., Mrs. Muriel Maddox Ribbey of Bel Air, Calif., and Charles H. Jr. of Houston, Tex., and 10 grandchildren.

Chiropodist To Open Office Here Again

Dr. George Dawson, chiropodist, of Hamlet, will open his office across the hall from Reid & Irvin in the Village Court building, Monday. Dr. Dawson, whose main office is in Hamlet, said this week he will have his office here open Mondays and Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. during the resort season.

McKenzie, center, past president of the Pinehurst Lions Club, and W. Graydon Spivey, president of the Pinehurst Lions. The check represented a portion of surplus funds which arose when voluntary contributions made by persons taking the vaccine exceeded the cost of the program. Other surplus funds went to organizations which helped to man the various clinics last spring, at other locations around the county. (Hemmer photo)

Pinehurst School News

BY KAYE GILMORE and JUDI MCKENZIE

Tennis Team

The Pinehurst Tennis Team defeated the Southern Pines Tennis Team, 6-4 last Thursday. Much credit should go to the players of the Pinehurst team. Kevin Gacomo, Boris deNissoff, Mike Lewis, David Gadd, Pat Owens, Mary McHarg and Bobby Burwell.

New Cheerleaders

A group of nervous, excited girls gave demonstrations of their cheers Friday, September 25. An even more nervous group of girls awaited the announcement of the 1965 cheerleaders. The new Pinehurst cheerleaders are: Penny McCaskill, chief; Elaine Bryan, co-chief; Jenny Morgan, Nancy Gadd, Gadd, Nancy Long, Nancy Hussey, and Donie Edson. The alternates are Jean Rettew and Patricia Sheffield. We feel quite sure that these cheerleaders will really put some new spirit into our sports.

Class Rings

The Juniors are all in a stir about their class rings. The eleventh graders were measured for their rings on Monday, September 21, and it will not be long before they will be flashing shiny, new rings around. The Seniors would only say, "Be patient, Juniors."

An EKG, or electrocardiogram, is a graph which shows the electrical currents put out by the heart, according to the North Carolina Heart Association.

Sacred Heart Church Has A New Pastor

Coming to Sacred Heart Catholic Church from his former station in Hamlet is the Rev. Thomas E. Curran.

A native of Lowell, Mass., Father Curran has been in North Carolina for over 30 years. He attended Belmont Abbey in Belmont, and Mount Saint Mary's Academy in Emmetsburg, Md. and was ordained a priest in 1940.

Msgr. Dennis A. Lynch, who has been at Sacred Heart for over a year, is still in residence there, prior to his retirement later in the year.

The fall and winter schedule of Sunday masses will go into effect Sunday, October 4, said Father Curran this week, with masses held at 6:30, 8 and 10:30 a. m. Weekday masses are at 8 a.m.

Southern Pines Tennis Team Loses To Locals

The Pinehurst School tennis team met the East Southern Pines School team Thursday on the clay court at the Pinehurst Country Club. The home team won a 6-4 victory over the visitors, with the final doubles match called because of darkness.
