AMERICAN HERITAGE

What tourists who visit Old Salem at Winston-Salem see is an Early American heritage with a different flavor. Buildings constructed in Salem bear a strong Moravian brought to America from Germany.

Miss Nancy Sledge, who has been here for a two weeks' stay with her mother, Mrs. Isham C. Sledge, returned Monday to the Devereaux School at Devon, Pa., flying north from Raleigh.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Taylor on Linden Road were Mr. and Mrs. D. Joseph Hutchins, who were on their way from their summer home, Harbor Springs, Mich., to their winter home in Palm Springs, Calif.

Arriving this weekend for a visit with the Countess of Carrick are her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Smith of White Bear Lake, Minn.

At the Holly Inn on a golfing vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Gil Morland of Panama City and their son, Robin, who underwent surgery at Moore Memorial Hospital for a shoulder dislocation resulting from injury he received playing football. The Morlands have spent several summers here in the former John Hobson house.

Arriving next week is Mrs. Harvey C. Knowles of Cincinnati, Ohio, who will be here for the winter in the William C. Shilaber house on Magnolia Road. Mrs. Knowles is a sister of Mrs. Robert Kohler of Pinebluff.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gaines returned last weekend to their home in Cocoa, Fla., after a week's visit here with his sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Myron W. Marr.

Gen. and Mrs. William W. Cowgill plan to arrive Tuesday from Washington, D. C. for a visit at their cottage at Pinewild Farm.

Mrs. W. J. Roddey, Jr. and daughter, Miss Ann Roddey, who have been at their place in Hot Springs, Va. for several weeks, have rejoined Mr. Roddey here.

Mrs. James W. Tufts returned Saturday from a buying trip to New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Beard plan to arrive tomorrow, Friday, from Philadelphia, Pa. at the Arthur E. Spellissy home which they have leased from him for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. McKenzie Saturday attended the N.C. State-Maryland football game in Raleigh as guests of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McKenzie, Jr. John, Jr. has enrolled at State College for his junior year.

TEERING OFF * WITH deNISSOFF

History . . . nearly repeats itself. The projected visit of former Vice President Nixon here this weekend reminds us that it was just a little over two years ago, in late September actually, that former President Eisenhower was welcomed as a visitor to Pinehurst.

On that occasion, as on this, this coming Saturday, a Republican leader came here to endorse the candidacy of Charles R. Jonas, who was seeking reelection as a Congressman from the Eighth District. 1962, was, we believe, the first year that Moore County was included in the Eighth Congressional District.

On that occasion, also, as on the endorsement was made at a Republican luncheon at the Carolina Hotel.

There is a slight shift in position. On Saturday, Mr. Nixon will endorse also the candidacy of Republican gubernatorial nominee Robert L. Gavin. Mr. Gavin was present at the Eisenhower luncheon, but as State GOP Executive Committee chairman. Undoubtedly, most of the Grand Old Party members who attended the 1962 luncheon, will be on hand Saturday.

There is another slight difference; Eisenhower's brief stop-over coincided with the finals of the National Amateur golf championship at the Pinehurst Country Club, a crowded and colorful time for this resort.

With Pinehurst not due to open formally till October 15 this year, there is no major golf tournament in progress to distract attention from politics in this "political year."

A 'Wonderful Event'

A note from Stanley Talbott on the slick and gorgeous program for the finals of the Davis Cup matches at the Harold T. Clark Courts in Cleveland Heights, indicates that he and his wife were in the gallery for this "wonderful event," as he termed the matches.

Also with them was Jock, their Skye terrier, who should be quite connoisseur of tennis by now—when the Talbotts are in residence here, he accompanies Mr. Talbott to the courts at the Pinehurst Country Club and watches his master's near-daily workouts there.

Congratulations . . .

to Kay Winthrop (Mrs. Q. A. Shaw) McKean and her partner, Midge Buck, who topped Davis and Popple to win the National Seniors Doubles matches at Chestnut Hill, Mass., 4-6, 6-2, 6-3. This is a sixth win for Mrs. McKean of Hamilton, Mass., and Pinehurst.

Joe Roddey, director of tennis activities at the Pinehurst Country Club, suggests that undoubtedly Mrs. McKean's practice in trimming her opponents in sectional tournaments here last spring have aided her in her successful bid for the National Seniors title.

Mrs. Sledge To Head Sandhills Summer Club

Mrs. William C. Sledge heads the list of officers for 1965, presented and unanimously approved, by members of the Sandhills Summer Club at their annual fall luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Pinehurst Country Club.

The new president, who moves up from vice-presidency of the club, presided at the meeting, which was preceded by cocktails and a dutch luncheon.

The outgoing president is Mrs. L. Paget Rigby, who moved last week, with her husband, to Miami, Fla., where the couple will make their home. Mrs. Rigby's work with the club was recognized during the meeting, and members voted to send her a small gift in appreciation.

The nominating committee, Mrs. Jack Rettew, Mrs. David R. Riach and Mrs. Thomas C. Rigby, presented the following slate of officers to serve with Mrs. Sledge during the coming summer:

Vice president, Mrs. Coleman Romain; secretary, Mrs. S. H. Kuhn; treasurer, Mrs. Clement R. Monroe; tournament chairman, Mrs. Duwayne D. Gadd.

Members were reminded of the annual dinner dance Saturday at the Carolina Hotel, when prizes will be presented to the 1964 Sandhills Summer Club champion, Mrs. A. L. Sneed, and to other divisional winners in the recently completed championship.

Members of Morco, the men's summer golf organization, will also attend the party, which begins at 6:30 with a social hour and concludes with dancing in the Carolina Pine Room, and will award prizes to their club champion, Tony McKenzie, and others.

J. C. Cowan, Jr., of Burlington Industries, Inc., Greensboro, Wednesday was re-elected president of the North Carolina Textile Foundation in pre-convention activities of the N. C. Textile Manufacturers Association. The 58th annual meeting of the association opened today, Thursday, at the Carolina Hotel.

The foundation, which reported more than $1,000,000 in current trust funds, provides support and aid for the School of Textiles at N. C. State of the University of North Carolina at Raleigh.

AT PTA MEET School Merger Progress Report To Be Discussed

The Pinehurst Parent-Teacher Association will meet Tuesday at 8 pm in the School Auditorium.

The membership drive, under the supervision of Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Mrs. Floyd Medlin, and Mrs. Janet Davis, has already started, and a large number are expected to be registered as members by October 12.

All committees will be named and the proposed budget will be presented to the organization at this meeting.

Members of Pinehurst School Board and Superintendent Lewis Cannon will report on the progress of the proposed merger of the Pinehurst and Southern Pines Administrative Units.

Every school patron and interested citizen is urged to be present. An opportunity will be given for questions and for expressions of opinion from the audience.

At a meeting in August, approximately 600 citizens from the Southern Pines and Pinehurst Administrative Units met at the National Guard Armory, discussed and received information on the proposed merger.

Pinehurst School Board members are L. Boyd Creath, A. H. Garrison, Jr., J. W. Sheffield, Melvin Wicker and Herbert Ehrhardt, Jr.

Officers of the Pinehurst PTA for 1964-65 are Mrs. Tom Connelly, president; Mrs. Ray Martin, vice-president; Nelson N. Thomas, secretary; and Mrs. Al Harms, treasurer.
