BY SALLY AUMAN
At Raleigh Meeting

Lions Billy McKenzie and Harold Wood reported to the Club Thursday evening on the Bond Issue for education, to be voted on by North Carolinians in the forthcoming election. These Lions, along with Lynn Martin of Eagle Springs, T. J. Baldwin and Clyde Auman, attended the Thursday morning meeting in Raleigh and they were prepared to pass the information on to their fellow Lions.

Lions Club News

Lions Billy McKenzie, Leslie Gordon, and T. J. Baldwin, members of the Club's Finance Committee, have the community birthday calendar underway. The team captains are Earl Auman, Roy Swaringen and W. A. Johnson, Jr. with Leslie Gordon chair- man of the Advertising Committee. A picture of the school faculty will be on the calendar and the dead line for the canvass will be October 15.

The Lion's Finance Committee has also distributed Hallowe'en Candy to its club members to be sold for Trick or Treat. The candy is made by the Old Dominion Candy Company of Virginia exclusively for Lion's Clubs, and is of the highest quality.

Lion McKenzie announces that Teel Williams, vice-president in charge of sales, of the Sandhill Furniture Corporation, will be the speaker at the next meeting on October 15. Mr. Williams is a much sought after speaker, having spoken this week to the Seniors in the school of Forestry at the Faculty Club at the North Carolina State College.

The Local Lions Club is participating in the county glaucoma detection clinic, to be held October 15 at the Armory in Southern Pines. This disease, if diagnosed in time, can be arrested.

Flooded

News has been received here that the Paul L. VonCanon Furniture Plant at Whittier has been flooded by the rainstorm of the weekend. Mrs. M. C. McDonald, Jr. was visiting the Chris McDonalds in Sylva for the weekend and, on Monday, was unable to return home.

Visitors

It is unusual that two West End High School graduates are Assistant Home Economics Agents in Wake County—Miss Vivian Tucker and Mrs. Guy Walker, who was the former Miss Earline Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Walker were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin of Eagle Springs.

Tickets For Ballet

Mrs. Harold Wood has tickets for sale for the performance of the North Carolina State Ballet Company in Pinehurst, October 18, at 8:30 in the evening. An afternoon performance will be given for school students free of charge provided adult tickets are sold in the community.

High Salesman

High School Junior Linda Freeman was high salesman in the magazine subscription campaign, with sales of $167.19. Judy Hartsell placed second, with sales of $73.84. The class project came to a successful close last week with total sales of $737.54.

Linda also was the lucky winner of a radio for selling certain combination subscriptions.

Brenda Graham of Miss McLeod's section was captain of the highest salesmanship section and she received the "traveling prize" Mr. Football." Friday was a memorable day for the junior class, they placed orders for class rings.

FTA Officers

Linda Williams was elected president of the Future Teachers of America Club this week at the school. Elected to serve with her were vice-president, Vernon Sutin; secretary, Diane Williams; treasurer, Sandra Hartsell; historian, Dorothy Caddell; reporter, Jane Jackson.

HD Club News

Mrs. Woodrow McInnis was hostess to the Holly Grove Home Demonstration Club this week. Mrs. Velma Currie presided and gave a devotional.

Mrs. Jean Hubbard presented a program on "Furniture Styles," using charts to illustrate Traditional, Provincial and Contemporary. With Dorothy Caddell at
