Paving Near ABC Store Result Of Three-Way Effort

In a recent joint effort between the Town of Southern Pines, the County ABC authorities, and John C. Parrish of Southern Pines, the alley, parking lot and area behind the ABC store on Connecticut Ave. have been paved and beautified. Parrish, owner of the ABC property, cooperated with the Town and ABC board in renovating the area between the ABC building and the Carolina Power and Light Company building.

The town handled the paving of the alley which runs from Connecticut Ave. beside the ABC building, and the ABC authorities assumed the project of paving the parking lot.

Parrish noted that during the paving several landmarks of historic significance were uncovered and he reported to The Pilot that during the 1890's and before the property he now owns was used by the late N. M. Sugg for feeding and watering cattle. The foundations of the feeding trough were uncovered during the recent improvement. A stable for the cattle was located across the street on what now is the Colonial store parking lot. Parrish also recalled to mind that the old Southern Pines jail was situated on a portion of the lot which is now paved for ABC store patrons.

Today's opponent at Memorial Field, at 6 p.m., is Jonesboro. The support of all fans is welcomed.

Religious Emphasis Week

The Pinehurst Student council sponsored its annual Religious Emphasis Week from September 29 to October 2. On Tuesday, everyone had the pleasure of hearing Miss Doris Moore, who is a missionary-teacher in the New Republic of the Congo. Miss Moore told of some of her experiences in the Congo and of her work there.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Gilmore presented a "Tour Through the Bible" with her colorful "scene-o-graph." The teachers, as well as the students, enjoyed learning more of the first people on earth.

The Rev. W. K. Fitch, pastor of Caldee Presbyterian Church, was our speaker Thursday. His interesting and helpful message was entitled "How Can I Tell Right From Wrong?" Mr. Fitch cited specific instances which most of us encounter in our everyday lives when we must decide the difference between right and wrong.

On Friday, the last day of Religious Emphasis Week, the Rev. Curren, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, delivered a message entitled "What Religion Means to Me." After his message, Father Curren told us of his work as a Catholic priest, and answered questions that we had concerning priesthood.

All agree it should be "hats off!" to our student council for arranging to have such interesting speakers.
