

AT STATE FAIR NEXT WEEK—Among the colorful and thrilling sights at the N. C. State Fair in Raleigh, October 11-17, will be this troop of Royal Canadian Mounted Police who will present the "Musical Ride"—a form of cavalry drill—before the Grandstand nightly, with matinee performances on Tuesday and Thursday in connection with the harness horse race programs. With the background theme, and extensive Dorton Arena exhibits, of "Food and the Future," the Fair has something for everyone: livestock and farm products of all kinds; fireworks each night; the Joey Chitwood auto thrill show each night at 10; the Jack Kochman "Hell Drivers" Wednesday afternoon and Saturday night; a free-fall parachute jump team from Fort Bragg; displays from the Armed Forces, including a giant Atlas missile; folk music and folk dancing three times daily in front of the Arena; extensive exhibits of handicrafts; a display of old model cars; a championship rodeo nightly except Monday, with matinees on Friday and Saturday; dozens of interesting commercial exhibits; and many "midway" rides and attractions.

Granges To Get Service Awards

The Juniper Grange of Moore County, of which Johnny Frye of Route 1, West End, is master, is one of 121 Granges to receive $25 community service awards at the 38th annual convention of the North Carolina State Grange, in Asheville, October 21-24.

A similar award will be made to the Ashmont Grange in Hoke County, of which James R. Nixon of Route 1, Aberdeen, is master. Ashmont is one of three Granges in Hoke to be honored.

The awards, given for various improvement projects carried out in rural communities, were announced this week by Mrs. Harry B. Caldwell, State Grange master, and the North Carolina National Bank which sponsors the contest and is presenting awards totaling $3,025 this year, the seventh year of the bank's sponsorship.

SCOTT

Cancelling or postponing the local meeting, county chairman J. Elvin Jackson secured a charter bus which took 40 Democrats to the Raleigh rally, but the throng attending was so vast, they could not get into the auditorium, but heard the President's speech over an outside loud-speaker.

Plenty of others went by car, to join some 14,000 from all over the State at the biggest political rally which could be recalled in North Carolina annals. At least two Moore County citizens also rode the "Lady Bird Special" by special invitation. These were H. Clifton Blue, Speaker of the House, and Mrs. Carolyn Blue, YDC national committeewoman-elect.

The speaker who had been scheduled to lead the Southern Pines meeting, State Senator Robert B. Morgan and Congressman-Candidate Dr. Bill James, attended the Johnson rally instead.

Dr. James was on the platform with the President and was introduced, along with other dignitaries.

Vance-Aycock Dinner

Moore County will be sending a delegation Saturday to the $50-per-plate Vance-Aycock Democratic fund-raising dinner in the city auditorium at Asheville. Edwin Gill, state treasurer, will be the principal speaker.

Robbins Meeting Next Week

Pat Taylor, member of the North Carolina House of Representatives from Anson County, and H. Clifton Blue, Speaker of the N. C. House of Representatives, will be guests at an open meeting sponsored by the Moore County Democratic Executive Committee on Thursday, October 15, at 7:30 pm in the Robbins High School Cafeteria.

Taylor is widely expected to succeed Blue as Speaker of the House.

This is another in a series of meetings which the Executive Committee is sponsoring in the county. The public is invited. The Robbins Precinct Committee will serve refreshments.

Growth, Progress Of Town, School Related To Club

Cooperation by all the citizens of Southern Pines, in addition to actions taken by the town council and its committees, has been responsible for five years of progress in Southern Pines. Town Councilman C. A. McLaughlin told the Southern Pines Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting last Friday in the Country Club.

Starting from dedication of the municipal building in January, 1959, the councilman cited numerous developments in construction of public facilities and private business and residential property, annexation of additional territory by the town, operation of town departments, setting up of Civil Defense and other progressive changes in the community.

"The town is growing and progressing," Mr. McLaughlin said, "and is in sound financial condition, with no deficit."

On the same program, the councilman's son, Charles, Jr. told Rotarians about growth and developments in Southern Pines High School where he is a student.

He listed additions to the faculty, the growth of total enrollment and the consequent utilization of all available space for classrooms, including the partitioning of the former student lounge and multi-purpose rooms.

The student noted plans for the school to join the 2-A athletic conference next year, because of growth in size, and the listed curriculum additions and changes this year.

NIXON

(Continued from Page 1) The luncheon is open to the public but there is a seating limit of 400 persons. Anyone interested in attending can call O'Neal or Donald Cooke of Pinehurst, although tickets were going fast this week.

Westmoore Rally

On Saturday night, Rep. Jonas will appear with Republican county candidates in a rally at Westmoore School in upper Moore County, set for 8 pm.

The rally will follow a free dinner served by Westmoore precinct workers. W. F. Ritter, Jr., of Robbins is general chairman for the event.

Jonas will deliver a major speech at the rally, O'Neal said. A similar event two years ago drew 450 persons.

County candidates expected include Robert S. Ewing, for the State House; Robert Holden of Robbins and Kimball Watson of Southern Pines, for county commissioner; and Dr. Charles Phillips of Southern Pines and C. C. Thompson of Pinebluff, for county board of education.

Mr. Jonas is scheduled for another Pinehurst appearance on Friday, at a breakfast meeting with the N. C. Textile Manufacturers Association convening there.

Gavin is expected to start the day with Nixon in Salisbury, at a breakfast meeting boosting the campaign of James T. Brodyhill, the state's other Republican Congressman who, like Jonas, has Democratic opposition. Gavin will fly here with Nixon in the latter's private plane.

FREE TESTING

Members of the Sandhills REACT Club (Civilian Band radio operators) will furnish free transportation to persons wishing to visit the clinic. This service will be given during the hours, 1 to 4 pm, and may be obtained by calling the National Guard Armory, Southern Pines 695-6101, on the day of the clinic.

METROPOLITAN

Miss Rankin's program here with George Murray as accompanist, will include songs of Brahms, Schubert, Debussy and Saint-Saens, the Gypsy Song from Bizet's Carmen, and numerous other selections from modern and older composers. The North Carolina folk song, "He's Gone Away," adds interest for the Sandhills audience.

John A. McPhaul of Southern Pines, president of the Sandhills Music Association, said this week, "The association is most fortunate to have been able to schedule an artist of Miss Rankin's stature. We own this good fortune in great part to her generosity in making appearances in the South where she was born and to which she enjoys returning."

Memberships in the Music Association and season tickets for the five concerts continue available at the Barnum Realty & Insurance Co. Memberships and tickets may be bought separately. Special tickets for young people are obtainable at greatly reduced cost.

Persons joining the Association are eligible to attend additional private concerts given now and then during the season.

AWARD

Davis' interest in handicapped persons, especially children, dates back to his childhood in Florida when he had as companion a favorite cousin who was a wheelchair patient.

A native of Florida, Mr. Davis spent 20 years in the trucking business in North Carolina, New York City, Florida and Puerto Rico, holding top executive positions, then becoming a real-estate developer and contractor here, primarily in his own 100-acre Sandavis development here.

Model To Be Displayed

A model of Camp Easter in the Pines, constructed by Mark Liddell, president of the Moore County chapter of the Society, was displayed at the Charlotte meeting and will be put on display soon in the lobby of the Southern National Bk. here. The model is an exact replica of the entire 70-acre tract, with existing buildings.

Color postcards of a scene at Camp Easter are now available at the Sandhill Drug Company, said Mrs. Betty Liddell, camp director and area executive of the Society.

Charlotte Artist Has Exhibit At Midland Crafters

Paintings by Esther Liedholm Skeen of Charlotte are being shown at Midland Crafters on Midland Road as the gallery exhibit for October.

The artist, who is the wife of L. E. Skeen, is a native of Illinois. She has had a number of one-man shows in the Chicago area and in North Carolina and has received numerous awards.

Mrs. Skeen also works in ceramics and tiles. She says that watercolor is her favorite medium, but the collection of her work at Midland Crafters includes inks, mixed media and oils, as well as a group of monotypes.

In her painting, she is a realist and says that she "continually searches for the reality found beneath the surface of things," finding her greatest satisfaction in "intimate, commonplace subjects."

Max Rush In Hospital; Progress 'Satisfactory'

Max G. Rush was taken ill Friday night at his home, 225 N. May St. He has been a patient at Moore Memorial Hospital since Saturday, and is making satisfactory progress, according to his physician, who said that he is restricting visitors for the present.

Mr. Rush is manager of Montgomery Dairy's office, between here and Aberdeen.

Volunteers Answered Three Fire Alarms During Past Week

The Southern Pines Volunteer Fire Department answered three fire alarms during the past week.

A summary follows: Saturday, Oct. 3—Home of B. P. Kuszmaul, Horseshoe Road, television set explosion.

Sunday, Oct. 4—Home of Mrs. H. L. Lewis, 295 S. Bennett St., burning sump pump on gas heater.

Monday, Oct. 5—Home of Mrs. Jerry Wright, 550 S. Bennett St., gas furnace fire.

The fire department reported that there was no extensive damage in any of the above alarms.

39 From County Attend Johnson Rally, Raleigh

A busload of 39 Moore County Democrats went to Raleigh Tuesday night in hopes of attending the rally being held for President Lyndon B. Johnson at the William Neil Reynolds Coliseum on the N. C. State College campus.

On their arrival at the Coliseum, however, the group was told that, due to a capacity crowd, the doors had been closed a half hour before. The Moore County delegation joined an estimated several thousand persons on the outside of the coliseum to await the arrival of Lady Bird Johnson, her daughter, Lynda Bird, and later President Johnson himself. Loudspeakers on the outside of the coliseum made it possible for those who were not able to get seats inside to hear the proceedings and the President's speech.

Attending from Southern Pines were: Mrs. Graham Culbreth, Mrs. Alma Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Poe, Mrs. Francis F. Rainey and John C. Ray.

P. H. McDonald, Former Carthage Postmaster, Dies

Patrick H. McDonald, 68, former Carthage postmaster and a retired rural mail carrier died Sunday in Moore Memorial Hospital. His death followed several weeks of illness.

He served for a period of eight years as Carthage postmaster from 1935 to 1943 when he was transferred to rural mail carrier on Route 3, Carthage. He was mail carrier for 18 years, retiring in 1961. Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon from the Carthage Presbyterian Church with the pastor, the Rev. B. E. Dotson and the Rev. W. S. Goldener officiating. Burial was in Union Presbyterian Church cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Bruton McDonald; one daughter, Mrs. John W. Kiker of Houston, Texas; one son, Dr. P. H. McDonald, Jr., of N. C. State in Raleigh; and one sister, Miss Flora McDonald, former Moore County Home Economics agent.

JAMES R. WILLIS of Durham, representative of Schering Corporation, pharmaceutical company of Bloomfield, N. J., will be guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Southern Pines Rotary Club at the Southern Pines Country Club, Friday, October 9.

Winston Burroughs, program chairman, said that Mr. Willis will speak on the topic "This Business of Science" which explains the business requirements of the United States pharmaceutical industry in relation to its scientific accomplishments. The meeting will begin at 12:15 p.m.

SCOUT LEADERS MEET TONIGHT

Pack and troop chairladies of the Sandhill Boy Scout group will meet tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Mark Liddell on Country Club Drive.

Mrs. Liddell, chairman, and Kimball Watson, assistant chairman, and District Boy Scout Executive, Roy McCollum, will lead in discussing and planning for the Boy Scout appreciation dinner to be held on Monday, November 9. All chairladies are urged to attend.

Rings Ordered

Last week the Juniors ordered their class rings which should be received some time in February.

Magazine Drive

The Junior and Senior magazine drive continued last week and was to end Tuesday. Prizes will be given to the top sellers.

Learning New Way

This year, the first-year French class, made up of 31 students from the Junior Class, is learning French the "new way." The new course is called "Je Parle Francais," and includes films, tapes, and workbooks-in that order. First, the students see the films, in which native French people play the parts. Then, they listen to tapes consisting of drills on the same materials. They do not look at the printed lesson until after these processes, plus conversation and classroom drill are completed. Emphasis is placed on spoken French, rather than on written. However, the writing and translation will come later.

Aberdeen is the only school in Moore County using the new materials.

Aptitude Tests

Tests were taken last week by all students in both the Industrial Co-operative Training and the Distributive Education programs. These were a Government aptitude test, administered by Leonard Cook, to help students find out in which field of work they are best and what they are most interested in.

A record is kept of these aptitude tests at the Employment Security Commission office. Also seniors who were not sure about whether they are going to college were able to take these tests, giving them a better chance of getting a good job if they should not go to college.

Club Officers

Beta Club officers were elected for the '64-65 school term. President of the Beta Club is Johnny Burns; vice president.

Next Game

Our next game will be played against St. Pauls. We hope all the Red Devil fans will go to this game and help to keep our boys winning. The following week will be our homecoming game, which will be played against Red Springs.

Merit Scholarship Commendation

Received By Two Seniors At SPSHS

Two seniors at East Southern Pines High School have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQT) given last spring. Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal Letter of Commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Glenn L. Cox, Southern Pines High School principal, has announced that the commended students are: Linda Allred and Charles McLaughlin.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said: "Letter of Commendation are being awarded to 38,000 students

Honor Society Meets

Miss Meade Seawell was hostess to Phi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma for their program at her home last Saturday, following their luncheon at the Carthage Hotel.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Miss Bessie Massengill of Dunn, and projects for the year were outlined by Miss Cornelia McLaughlin of Lillington.

At the conclusion of the business, a most constructive message on "Youth in Changing Patterns," was given by Mrs. Vera Lentz of Sanford.

After the program, refreshments were enjoyed with Miss Helen Holder of Sanford pouring coffee. The Delta Kappa Gamma is an international honor society for teachers.

Mrs. H. J. Hall spent this weekend in Durham visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kennon Borden and son.

Mrs. Olive McCallum and children visited relatives here last week and returned to their home in Newport News, Va.

Mrs. Sadie K. Wall spent this week in Greensboro with her daughter, Mrs. N. M. McKay, and Mr. McKay.

Mr. and Mrs. Murd K. Prevost and children spent Saturday afternoon in Asheboro visiting relatives.

St. Anthony's Parish To Form Men's Group

An organizational meeting, to form a Men of St. Anthony's club, has been scheduled for Thursday of next week, October 15, at 8 pm, in the Parish Hall of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Officers will be elected and a program adopted, said an announcement of the meeting. All men of St. Anthony's Parish are invited.

The name, "Men of St. Anthony's," was suggested by a pre-organizational committee which met last week.

Merit Scholarship Commendation Received By Two Seniors At SPSHS

Throughout the country in recognition of their outstanding performance on the qualifying test. We wish to call attention in this way to their high academic achievement.

"Although they did not reach the status of Semifinalists in the current program, they are very capable students. The Semifinal and Commended students together constitute about 2% of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all these bright young people."

Thrift cannot be taught—it must be experienced. Thousands of American children are learning about it by buying U. S. Savings Stamps regularly at post offices.
