BRONCS AND BULLS — Pretty cowgirls doing fancy tricks on fast horses . . . lightning swift calf roping and barrel racing . . . all this and more can be seen at World Championship Rodeo at North Carolina State Fair, in Raleigh this week, to run through Saturday.

RALEIGH EVENT RUNS THROUGH SATURDAY

Education, Fun Offered At Fair

Scheduled features of this year's N. C. State Fair promise education and entertainment for the entire family from a full-scale real Western rodeo to exhibitions of the finest livestock and farm produce in the state. The fair opened Monday at Raleigh and will run through Saturday.

"More in '64" is the theme of the entertainment to be found at the fair this year. From the moment the gates open at 8 o'clock in the morning until they close behind the last visitor at midnight, the huge fairgrounds burst at the seams with people all bent on the same idea—having fun.

All the ingredients are here: For the young and not-so-young but ever adventurous there is the enticing glitter of the midway with its wild, exciting rides, bright lights, side shows and games.

Many Attractions Free

A glance at the fair's daily schedule shows that many of the attractions are free. Among these is the amazing Cinesphere, an exciting "you were there" spectacular in which the viewer seems to be actively participating. Although he never leaves his seat, through the magic of a 180-degree screen and a special camera, he can ride down into Grand Canyon, zoom under a bridge in a helicopter, and "participate" in other daring activities.

Also free and visible from almost any point on the fairgrounds will be the thrilling maneuvers of the Golden Knights free-fall parachute jumping team from Fort Bragg.

Indian Village

Children and grown-ups alike can see how an authentic Indian village lives and plays. The village, consisting of Iroquois from upper New York State and Canada, Onondaga, Seneca and Mohawks, will be set up near the machinery exhibit on the grounds. Here, there will be singing, dancing and stories, as well as exhibitions of many artifacts. Fairgoers will be invited to participate in the tribal dances and actually be a part of the ritual.

At the Geodesic Pavilion, the "Keys of Kenly," the "Counts IV" of Goldsboro and the "Nomads" of Chapel Hill, all North Carolina combo groups, will fight the "Battle of the Combos" to the delight of the teen-age dancers.

Features of the Fair, some of which require paid grandstand admittance, include: the "Musical Ride" cavalry drill by a troop of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, presented nightly; the free exhibits of the "Food and the Future" theme of the Fair in the huge Dorton Arena; the Joey Chitwood auto thrill show each night through Friday, at 10; the Jack Kochman "Hell Drivers" who will perform Saturday night; a giant Atlas Missile and several displays from the Armed Forces; folk music and folk dancing three times daily near the Arena; displays of handicrafts and old model cars; and others.

Why Pay Twice?

You already pay taxes to support a generous federal-state medical program for those over 65 who need it. Why pay again for a plan that isn't needed?

Surprised? Chances are you never heard of the Kerr - Mills Law, passed by Congress in 1960. We call it . . . Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly.

This program enables individual states, with federal assistance, to guarantee to every elderly person who needs it the health care he or she requires. Thousands of people every day are being helped by its broad benefits.

Yet, the supporters of the proposed Medicare Tax would have you believe that its passage is urgent . . . that persons over 65 are deprived of needed medical care because they can't pay for it.

So why pay twice? Find out about the health program you're already supporting. For information on health care for the elderly in your area, ask your doctor or contact your local Medical Society.
