SEEK OFFICES—Speaking at a Westmoore School Republican rally Saturday night were five candidates for county offices, four of whom are shown here with Congressman Charles Jonas (second from right) earlier in the day when they were on hand to greet former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as he arrived at Southern Pines - Pinehurst Airport, just prior to speaking in Pinehurst. The candidates, left to right: J. Kimball Watson of Southern Pines and Robert Holden of Robbins, both for county commissioner; Robert S. Ewing of Southern Pines, for the State House of Representatives; Mr. Jonas, of Lincolnton, seeking reelection to the 8th District seat; and C. Coolidge Thompson of Pinebluff, for the county board of education. Only county GOP candidate not in this photo is Dr. Charles Phillips of Southern Pines, also running for the county board of education, who attended and spoke at the Westmoore rally, but was not available for this airport picture. JONAS, COUNTY CANDIDATES SPEAK

Westmoore GOP Rally Draws Crowd

In one of the largest rallies ever held in the upper end of Moore County, some 400 Republicans turned out last Saturday night at the Westmoore School to consume gallons of chicken stew, and hear from 8th District Congressman Charles R. Jonas of Lincolnton, as well as all county candidates. Under the leadership of W. F. Ritter, the program gave all the county candidates a chance to speak on behalf of their respective candidates, with the highlight of the evening being an address by Jonas. Those appearing with him on the speaker's rostrum were Dr. Charles S. Phillips and Calvin Coolidge Thompson, both running for seats on the county board of education, J. Kimball Watson and Robert Holden, candidates for county commissioner, and Robert S. Ewing, candidate for the North Carolina House of Representatives.

Wallace W. O'Neal, Moore County Republican chairman, introduced each of the candidates, urging all present to work and support "the best ticket of able candidates the Republican Party of Moore County has ever given to the voters."

PINEHURST SCHOOL NEWS

By KAYE GILMORE and JUDI MCKENZIE
College Bound
Seniors at Pinehurst High School are busy getting applications filled out to the various colleges. Thursday, October 8, the Pinehurst School superintendent, Lewis S. Cannon, took several of the high school boys to Carthage. There they picked up valuable information about the University of North Carolina. We hope that a large percentage of the Pinehurst Seniors will be college bound next fall.

PTA Meeting
The PTA of Pinehurst school met Tuesday, October 13. The program was given by Superintendent Cannon and the following members of the Pinehurst school board: L. Boyd Creath, A. H. Garrison, Jr., J. W. Sheffield, Melvin Wicker and Herbert Ehrhardt, Jr. They reported on the progress being made in the consolidation of the Pinehurst and Southern Pines schools.

Safety First
Safety always comes first at Pinehurst School. We are fortunate to have patrol boys who are always on their toes. No matter what the weather: rain, sleet, snow, or shine, these boys are on the job. Although we sometimes tend to take our patrol boys for granted, we do appreciate the excellent job they do.

School Pictures
"Smile. You are having your picture made." Friday, October school pictures. He especially 9, the photographer came to Pinehurst School to take the delighted elementary children by joking with them and giving them combs. In some cases, the combs may not have been such a blessing. The first and second graders, when given their combs ran straight to the mirror and the water fountain. Eut children will be children. Glaucoma Detection Clinic

The students at Pinehurst School were given announcements concerning the free Glaucoma Detection Clinic. It is sponsored by the Lions Club, and is being held today, Thursday, from 9 am to 4 pm. Glaucoma is an eye disease which can cause blindness if not detected in time. All persons 35 years and over were urged to take the Glaucoma test.

FHA Meeting
The Pinehurst Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America met Monday. The handbook committee presented each member with a new 1964-65 handbook. The members discussed much business including the rallies, ways to earn money this year, and new chapter mothers. Three members gave a program entitled "You're Just Old Fashioned Mom."

Men's Club Championship

The Whispering Pines Club Championship Tournament will begin 18-hole qualifying rounds October 18 and will continue through October 25. All flights, including the championship flight, will consist of eight players. One match will be played each week after qualifying, and the finals will be played no later than November 14.

Prizes will be awarded to the winner and runnerup in each flight. All prizes will be donated by the Pioneers, Whispering men's golf association, and a permanent championship trophy will be donated by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hardee.

All non-members of the Pioneers will be charged an entry fee of $5. The tournament is open to all male members in good standing of the Whispering Pines Country Club.

Tournament Committee chairmen are Don Heppes and Ed Comer.

Ladies Golf Association
Last week's regular play of the Whispering Pines Ladies Golf Association was cancelled due to excessive rains, resulting in the temporary closing of the back nine.

Winners of the previous week's play were: Class A, Mrs. Lib McCulley; Class B, Mrs. Lib Cheek; Class A, Low Putts, Mrs. Evelyn Roberts; and Class B, Low Putts, Mrs. Mildred Blankmeyer.

Personal Items
Miss Lois M. Bowne, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Ira Bowne of Whispering Pines, has recently transferred from her work at the Doctors Hospital in Arlington, Va. to Mary Elizabeth Hospital in Raleigh.

Guests last weekend of Col. and Mrs. Hayes McCulley at their home on Lake Thagard were Col. and Mrs. D. C. Wolfe and Comdr. and Mrs. Frank Mar-marose of Marine Corp Air Station, Cherry Point.

Mrs. Miriam Seals of Cheraw, S. C., visited her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gaiter Edwards last weekend.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Van Natter last weekend was her son, David Stiffel of Salisbury. Major and Mrs. Ed Holt entertained last Wednesday evening at dinner in their home, honoring Col. Hayes McCulley on his and Mrs. A. B. Hardee and Mrs. McCulley. Col. McCulley was also given a surprise party on Wednesday afternoon by the staff and personnel of the Whispering Pines administration.

Recent houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Callicott at their new home on Spring Valley Lake were Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Pickup and son, Eddie, of Charlotte, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wood of Winston-Salem. Visiting the Callicotts this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pugh of High Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pruitt were pleasantly surprised by friends at Whispering Pines last Wednesday evening with a housewarming party. The Pruitts have recently moved into their new home on Lake Thagard.

Attending the housewarming were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Black, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Callicott, Mr. and Mrs. Gaiter Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hardee, Major and Mrs. Ed Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Don Morse, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Schack, Col. and Mrs. Hayes McCulley and Leo Vause.

At Motor Lodge
The North Carolina Concrete Masonry Association held its three-day annual Fall Meeting last weekend at Whispering Pines Quality Court Motel and Dobbs House Restaurant.

Registration and a board of directors meeting were held Thursday afternoon. Meetings were held each morning and the NCCMA Banquet took place Friday evening. Ladies' activities included tours of Carolina Soap and Candle Manufacturing Plant and one of the local orchid farms.

Among the speakers addressing the meetings was Donald Moore of Whispering Pines, representing Instant Seal Company of Southern Pines; H. H. Lyles, district sales manager of Atlantic Cement Company of Charlotte; L. L. Stirland, industrial and Bi-chemicals department, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Wilmington, Del.; and Frank B. Musselman Waterloo Unloader Corporation of Atlanta, Ga.

Host for the Fall Meeting was Clyde Upchurch, Jr., of Raeford. Approximately 110 members attended this year's session.

The combined average daily patient load in Veterans Administration hospitals and average daily member load in domiciliarys was 137,557 at the end of Fiscal Year 1964. This was 310 less than the combined number for FY 1963.
