Sheriff's Office Starts Operating Night Prowl Car

Starting Monday, the Moore County sheriff's department is providing round-the-clock service and protection, with a patrol car, or "prowl car," on duty all night every night, staffed with both a special and a regular deputy.

It will take about six weeks to get two-way radio equipment installed and licensed, and in the meantime persons outside the jurisdiction of town police departments, needing law enforcement service at night, are asked to telephone the office or home of Sheriff W. B. Kelly or the home of Chief Deputy Sheriff H. H. Grimm, at Carthage; or Deputies J. A. Lawrence, Aberdeen; Lawrence Buie, Vass, or I. D. Marley, Robbins, Route 2.

These aren't all in the phone book and listing of the numbers (Continued on Page 8)

Administrative Appointments At College Revealed

Douthit L. Furches, Mrs. Mary Drue McGraw, and Mrs. Imogen W. Poole have been appointed to administrative positions with the Sandhills Community College, it has been announced by Dr. Raymond A. Stone, president.

Mr. Furches was appointed director of Adult Education and Community Services and began his assignment with the College last week.

He came to the newly created post after a career with the United States Army where he held many positions of responsibility as an educational administrator. He earned a bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina (Continued on Page 8)

New Basketball Season Starting; Spencer Reports

Bobby Spencer, Science teacher at Pinehurst High School, will be writing Moore County Conference basketball news for the county's papers this season, replacing Joel Stuts of Southern Pines, who has moved to Laurinburg where he is city recreation director. Mr. Spencer's first report follows:

BY BOBBY SPENCER

Although the big sports event in the county this week is Friday night's battle for the football championship between the Aberdeen Red Devils and the Blue Knights of Southern Pines, basketball fans will be happy to know the 1964-1965 season kicks off with several games this week. The schools not engaged in football have been practicing basketball since October 13.

At least two games are scheduled this week, one played last night with West End meeting Hoffman and the Pinehurst teams getting started Friday night meeting non-conference Seagrove at Seagrove. Schools having football teams started practice Monday, November 2 and should be playing their first (Continued on Page 8)

Mrs. Haskell Wins N&S Senior Women's Tourney

Mrs. John S. Haskell of Titusville, Pa., playing in her first North & South Women's Seniors Invitational golf tournament at Pinehurst last week, won the event with a score of 80-81-84-245. Details and a photo on page 18.

PTA TO MEET

All classrooms at East Southern Pines school will be open for visits by parents, following a short business session at the November meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, to be held in Weaver Auditorium at 8 p.m. Monday, Mrs. J. S. Hiatt, Jr., president, announced today.

'ANNIE OAKLEY'

Trapshooting Event Slated At Gun Club

Trapshooting returns to Pinehurst with the 1st Annual Annie Oakley Trapshooting Championship, November 6-8, at the new Pinehurst Gun Club.

Among the contestants will be some of the most famous names in the sport, including Adolph Nelson of Detroit, Bill Hoffman of Sarasota, Fla., Jack Hardesty of Dallas, Texas, and a group from Ohio—Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro, Bill Davis of Lynchburg, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey of Pataskala and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shaner of Lancaster.

Mrs. Robert S. Ewing of Southern Pines, twice winner of North Carolina and New Jersey championships, expects to compete, as well as two Tar Heel husband and wife teams from Charlotte, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hill and Mr. and Mrs. James Ross.

Shooting will begin at 9:30 a.m., Friday, Saturday and Sunday. A party for contestants and friends will follow Saturday's shooting.

LIBRARY DEDICATION

Dedication of the new Given Memorial Library at Pinehurst will take place at an 11 am ceremony tomorrow (Friday). See page 18 for details.

COSTUME WINNERS—There were so many outstanding costumes worn by children in the annual Halloween Party sponsored by the Southern Pines Rotary Club last Saturday night, that no graded prizes were given, but all of the large group chosen in the preliminary judging received awards. Here's a view of most of this group. If you look carefully, details of many of the costumes can be seen. (Humphrey photo)

Carthage Youth Killed When Car Wrecks, Friday

Larry Bennett, 19, a senior at Union Pines High school, died Friday afternoon while in an ambulance being rushed to N. C. Memorial hospital at Chapel Hill, following an automobile accident.

He was one of five Carthage students thrown from the car when it went out of control and overturned on the Union Church Road, about a half-mile west of the school, between Carthage and Vass. All were injured but only one, Otis Matthews, remained this week as a patient at Moore Memorial hospital. His condition was reported satisfactory.

Oscar Eldridge, 17, driver of the car, was released Sunday, while Baxter Paschal and Jimmy Spears had been given emergency treatment at the hospital following the accident, and were sent home.

The car, a 1962 Corvair, was demolished, said Trooper Willis Austin, investigating. Young Eldridge had owned the car only one (Continued on Page 8)

RALLY SPEAKERS—Shown are East Southern Pines High School students who spoke during the mock political rally held at Weaver Auditorium Monday, prior to voting on Tuesday. Supporting the Republican cause were Charles Phillips, Jr., and Janice Campbell, on the left. Speaking in behalf of the Democratic ticket were Gerry Gilmore and Becky Austin, right. The speeches were followed by cheering and demonstrations by students in the audience. (Pilot photo)

Local High Schools Conduct Mock Elections

As a part of their social studies, Presidential race, Goldwater won the popular vote for the school as a whole, with 130, to 124 for Johnson. But the electoral vote of the school as a whole reversed this decision, with 46 for Johnson and 33 for Goldwater.

In the Governor race, for the whole high school, it was 134 for Moore to 120 for Gavin; and in the Congressional race it was 155 for Jonas to 93 for James.

At West Southern Pines High School, popular vote totals only were counted and the voting was confined to the Presidential contest, as follows:

Of 220 eligible voters, 205 cast their ballots. The Johnson-Humphrey ticket won 193 votes and the Goldwater-Miller ticket got 12, it was reported by Mrs. Sledge, the coordinator.

Counselors for the student in East Southern Pines were David Page, world history teacher, and Vernon Crumpler, U. S. History. In West Southern Pines Mrs. Frances Sledge, social studies teacher for the high school, acted as counselor.

The campaign rally on the West Side was conducted last Friday, with speakers for the candidates and other features.

Monday, students of the East gathered in Weaver Auditorium Southern Pines High School for the climax of their two weeks of campaigning to hear both sides of the political coin.

In summarizing the purposes of the campaigning and elections, (Continued on page 17)

Democrats Win In All But One Race In Moore Co.; Jonas Keeps Congress Seat, Pushed By James

(All vote counts unofficial) Moore county stayed in the Democratic column in all contests but one in Tuesday's general election.

That one was the Eighth District congressional race, in which Charles R. Jonas, GOP incumbent, won with 5636 votes to 5523 for his Democratic challenger, Dr. Bill James of Hamlet. Jonas was also the district-wide winner, polling 84,595 votes to 73,704 for Dr. James. This county, which went Republican nationally with wins for Nixon and Eisenhower in recent years, slid back this time with a thumping victory for Johnson, 6383, to 5162 for Senator Goldwater. President Johnson, also carried the state and won a landslide victory over the nation.

The Johnson-Humphrey ticket won in 14 out of the 19 Moore precincts, with only Bensalem, Ritters, Robbins and Westmore in upper Moore County, and Pinedene in the lower end, going for Goldwater-Miller.

Overall voting was fairly heavy, with some 11,500 voting out of about 13,800 registered.

It was nip and tuck all evening in the State House of Representatives race, in which Democrat Clyde Auman of West End and Republican Robert S. Ewing of Southern Pines battled for the General Assembly seat vacated by H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen after 18 years' service. The final result was a victory for Auman who won 5999 votes to Ewing's 5166.

County Authorizes $2,000 To Help Town With Disposal Area Problem

The Moore County commissioners have authorized the transfer of $2,000 from the health department budget to the Town of Southern Pines, to be used in connection with its sanitary landfill, it was revealed at the regular meeting of commissioners Monday.

The grant was authorized at a special meeting in October but will have to be approved by the county board of public health and also by State health authorities, the commissioners said.

The action was taken in response to appeals from the Southern Pines town council, which has in recent months found itself unable to handle all the refuse dumped on its landfill by out-of-towners in addition to that regularly collected in town. There had been complaints of garbage piled up and burning, instead of being buried in the landfill. The Town had asked that the county help share expenses in the sum of $5,000, or approximately one-fourth of operating costs.

It was revealed also at Monday's meeting that the county is again without a public health officer. Dr. Roy Berry, English-born physician who had accepted the post, coming here July 1 from N. C. Sanatorium at McCain, (Continued on Page 8)

State Senate

For State Senate, with two seats to be filled in the five-county 12th District, Moore handed its own candidate, Voit Gilmore of Southern Pines, top vote with 6712. Incumbent Robert Morgan of Lillington had 6387 and their lone Republican opponent, John Ogburn of Asheboro, lost with 4231. The district-wide count was: Morgan, 32,375; Gilmore, 31,629; and Ogburn, 22,818.

County Races

Democrats won in four local contests, as follows:

For county commissioner, incumbent W. S. Taylor, 6471, to Kim Watson's 4383, and Lynn Martin, 6487, to Robert G. Holden's 4410.

For county board of education, incumbent chairman Jere McKeithen, 6308, over C. C. Thompson, 4540; and incumbent member W. H. Matthews, 6096, over Dr. Charles Phillips, 4767.

Governor and Others

In the State races, Dan K. Moore won easily for Governor, with 5964 votes to Robert Gavin's 5511, and all the other state contests were comparably lopsided for the Democratic incumbents.

Robert W. (Bob) Scott polled 6411 votes in Moore County, to 4815 to Clifford Lee Bell his Republican opponent for lieutenant governor.

It was a long, hard tally for the registrars and their counters of all precincts. With five ballots and an unusually large amount of ticket-splitting—though not actually as much, perhaps, as had been anticipated—only a few returns in the presidential races came in before 8 p.m. After that, partial reports were made by several precincts during the next two hours, fewer than half the precincts completing their reports.

It was 12:30 a.m. before the returns were complete and totals could be run up.

FOR SCHOOL BONDS

Moore County's voters joined those over the state in heavily approving the proposed $300 million bond issue for school building construction and remodeling. The county's vote was 7,623 for the bonds and 3,580 against.

Maneuver Activity In Area Beginning

A free concert by the 82nd Airborne Division band and chorus, in Weaver Auditorium Wednesday night, precedes increasing Army maneuver activity in this area, over the coming week-end and into next week.

Exercise "Air Assault II," which has been taking place in North and South Carolina, is now in its second phase, testing the Army's "air mobility concept" by three air assault methods—helicopter-borne, paratroop and fixed-wing aircraft. A total of 32,000 troops is taking part.

WILL PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Blue Knights of Southern Pines High School will play the Red Devils of Aberdeen High School, for the Cape Fear Conference championship, here Friday night.

The game is set for Memorial Field at 8 p.m.

The Knights won their 8th straight victory Friday night of last week, beating Robbins 27-0. Details and a photo, page 6.

VETERANS DAY

Banks throughout Moore County will close on Wednesday of next week, November 11, for the national Veterans Day observance and post offices will be on holiday schedule, with no home delivery here. A general business holiday, however, is not anticipated.

Council To Hear About Planning

Scheduled to meet for its regular November session Tuesday of next week, November 10, at 8 pm in the town hall, the town council is expected to get from Ralph Chandler, chairman of the Planning Board, a report on a proposal that the Town employ the Division of Community Planning of the N. C. Department of Conservation and Development to conduct a planning survey, to help guide the development of various aspects of the community.

Mayor Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr., invites persons who would like to hear more about the proposal to attend the meeting.

Mid-Town Fire Group Schedules Meeting

The group of residents in the mid-town area, between Southern Pines and Aberdeen, who are planning to set up a fire district with its own fire-fighting equipment to serve the area, has scheduled a meeting for further discussion of the proposal, at the Aberdeen school auditorium, Thursday, November 12, at 8 pm.

All interested persons living in the area are invited to attend. Alton Scott of the Charlton Motel is chairman of a steering committee for the project.

IN WEAVER AUDITORIUM

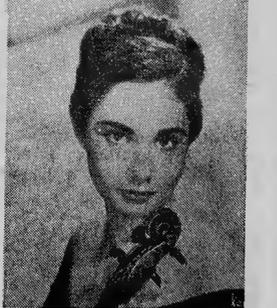

Violinist To Give Recital Tuesday

Marilyn Dubow, violinist with a rising international reputation, will appear in a recital at Weaver Auditorium here, Tuesday evening of next week, November 10. The concert, to begin at 8:30 pm, is second in the annual series sponsored by the Sandhills Music Association.

Season and other tickets are obtainable in advance from the Earnun Realty & Insurance Co. The regular pre-concert dinner will take place at the Golden Door at Howard Johnson's, between Southern Pines and Aberdeen.

Miss Dubow started her career at the early age of 11 when she made her debut with the New York Philharmonic on the Young People's Series under Wilfred Pelletier. She also appeared a second time with the New York Philharmonic at the Lewisohn Stadium, as well as three times on the "Telephone Hour" under Donald Voorhees.

More recently Miss Dubow has appeared with such symphony orchestras as Allentown, Pa.; New Haven, Conn.; Asbury Park, N. J.; Montreal, Canada; Savannah, Georgia; and Niagara Falls, New York. She has played many recitals throughout the country, including one at the Greenwich Village Series in New York City, where she was very well-received. Miss Dubow also made an extended recital tour of three weeks in Mexico.

Born in Philadelphia, she was brought up in New York City, where she began her musical studies two weeks before her (Continued on Page 8)
