Sandhills Golfers Make Clean Sweep Of 3 Top Spots In Wilmington Event

Three Sandhills golf pros swept the lead of the 24th annual Carolinas PGA tournament at the Wilmington Municipal course last week. Leading was Julius Boros with a 66-71-69; following were Avery Beck, with 65-71-74, and Buck Adams, 72-68-71.

Leading the tournament until he was overtaken by Boros on Thursday was Avery Beck, veteran golfer and pro-in-residence at Whispering Pines.

Last Wednesday Beck matched par with a second round 71 to retain a one-stroke lead at the two-thirds mark in the championship tournament.

On the same day two-time National Open champion and 1963 Carolinas Golfer of the Year, Julius Boros of Mid Pines, matched Beck's 71 to stay right on his heels.

Beck had taken the lead Tues-

Former Resident Is Murder Victim At Norfolk, Va.

The Southern Pines police received a query early Thursday morning as to relatives of Joan Silver Bracey, 39, address given as Southern Pines.

Mrs. Bracey had been murdered at Norfolk, Va., and efforts were being made to contact her family, according to the query relayed through the State Highway Patrol at Greensboro.

Though it has been a good many years since the Silver family has lived here, the name was recognized and information given. She is the daughter of Henry Silver, formerly of Southern Pines, who now lives at Roper, N. C. Her mother was the late Joan Welch of Southern Pines. Mrs. Bracey, though a Southern Pines address was given, had not lived here for many years.

An uncle of the woman reportedly murdered is Dr. James W. Silver, famous University of Mississippi professor, lecturer and author, whose book, "Mississippi: The Closed Society" is currently on non-fiction best-seller lists.

Rites To Be Held For Kenneth C. Kennedy

Funeral services for Kenneth C. Kennedy of Southern Pines, who died in Boston in July will be held Wednesday, November 11, at 11 am at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, with the rector, the Rev. Martin Caldwell, officiating.

Interment will follow in Mount Hope Cemetery.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE

When the two-way radio equipment is installed, the base station will be at the Southern Pines police station, where a dispatcher is on duty all night, and where radio communication of police and sheriff's department, ABC officers and the State Highway Patrol will all be tied in.

This is being done through courtesy and cooperation of the Southern Pines police, said Sheriff Kelly.

The plans were worked out by the county commissioners and Sheriff Kelly at two special meetings in October and at the regular commissioners' meeting Monday of this week, in response to complaints made at the October meeting by a delegation from the Pinehurst-Southern Pines area.

The group, which included property owners and real estate developers, said that they had trouble getting an officer when they needed one at night, did not know where or whom they were supposed to call outside of town jurisdiction, and had been frequently harassed and frightened by trespassers and other law-breakers.

The commissioners appropriated $3,000 from the contingency fund to pay equipment costs, personnel and operating expenses during the next eight months, "so we can see how it works out" for budget purposes for the next fiscal year, they said.

Monday they interviewed a representative of the Motorola firm, from which the two-way radio equipment now in use in the sheriff's office and cars on daytime patrol was bought. They authorized the purchase of the new electronic equipment on a trial basis.

They also made an arrangement with Ed Cockman, special deputy now serving as county jailer, to add the night patrol to his present duties at a salary increase. He will continue to serve as jailer with the help of his wife. The family lives at the jail building.

The three regular full-time deputies, Lawrence, Marley and Buie, will take weekly turns riding with Cockman.

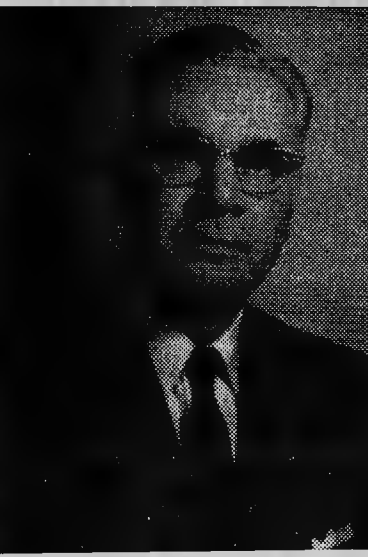

The "prowl car" which started operating Monday night, is the car already owned by the department, hitherto used only for a special assignments such as returning extradited prisoners from other states, or transporting prisoners or other persons to state institutions.

On routine daytime duty, the sheriff and deputies use their own cars on a mileage basis. These are equipped with two-way radio, with base station in the sheriff's office at the courthouse, where a dispatcher is on duty during regular office hours.

HERE'S LIST OF OFFICERS' NUMBERS

DR. WILLIAM F. HOLLISTER FOR DR. GARDNER

Dr. Hollister Is Speaker At Durham Dinner

Dr. William F. Hollister of Midland Road was one of four testimonial speakers at a Friday night dinner for Dr. Clarence E. Gardner, retiring as chairman of the department of surgery at Duke Medical Center, Durham.

Dr. Hollister, who is associated with the Pinehurst Surgical Clinic at Pinehurst, is chief of general and thoracic surgery at Moore Memorial Hospital, Pinehurst, and is associate in surgery at Duke Medical Center.

Attending the testimonial dinner at the Jack Tar Hotel in Durham were some 185 guests including many of Dr. Gardner's former colleagues, residents and wartime associates. Mrs. Hollister accompanied her husband to the dinner.

Climax to the program came with the presentation of a portrait of Dr. Gardner to the university by his former surgical residents. Dr. William W. Shingleton, professor of surgery at Duke, made the presentation, and the gift was accepted by President Douglas M. Knight.

Those who presented testimonials to Dr. Gardner, in addition to Dr. Hollister, were Dr. Deryl Hart, president emeritus and professor and chairman emeritus of surgery at Duke; Dr. Wilbur C. Davison of Roaring Gap, dean emeritus of medicine; and Dr. David C. Sabiston, Jr., professor of surgery and present chairman of the department at Duke.

Dr. Gardner is a native of Bucyrus, Ohio, and a graduate of Wittenberg College. He earned his M.D. degree at Johns Hopkins and served on the faculty there until 1930 when he went to Duke. He was named department chairman there in 1960.

From 1942-45, he served with the U. S. Army Medical Corps. It was during this time that he served first as lieutenant colonel, then colonel and chief of surgical services with the 65th General Hospital and as chief consultant in surgery, Surgeon General's office, United Kingdom Base.

The 65th was organized by the Surgeon General's Office as an affiliated unit of the Duke University Medical Center. Members of the Duke medical, surgical and nursing faculties headed the organization and formed the nucleus of its professional staff. Dr. Hollister also served with this unit in World War II.

Scouting Dinner Scheduled Monday

The Sandhills Boy Scout District will hold a "pot luck dinner" Monday, November 9, at the Aberdeen High School cafeteria. The opening ceremony will begin at 6:40 p.m.

W. Lamont Brown will be in charge of the program and the following awards will be presented: God and Country Award, to be presented by H. Clifton Blue; awards for outstanding cubmaster, den mother, commissioner, explorer advisor, and committeeman will be presented by Dr. William F. Hollister and Robert S. Ewing.

Representatives from the Occaneechee Council will be present for the meeting. All persons are urged to make reservations through Mrs. Mark Liddell by calling 695-5122.

CONFERENCES PLANNED

Plans are being made for conferences to be held by staff members of the East Southern Pines Schools and parents. Materials are being prepared and further announcements will be made at the PTA meeting Monday night, in Weaver Auditorium, at 8 p.m.

ADMINISTRATIVE

(Continued from Page 1) Carolina and a Master of Education degree from Johns Hopkins University, and has had additional graduate work at Harvard University. He and Mrs. Furches are residing in Southern Pines.

At the new college to be constructed on the Pinehurst-Airport road, Mr. Furches will be responsible for the development of programs in adult education which will range from basic adult literacy training to courses of general interest to adults who may hold college degrees. Of immediate concern to Mr. Furches and the College is implementation of basic education under provisions of President Johnson's Economic Opportunity Act, the "Anti-Poverty Bill."

Sandhills Community College has been assigned responsibility for adult education in Moore, Hoke, Richmond and Scotland counties. College officials are already at work with state and county officials to initiate this program.

To Be Librarian

Mrs. McGraw, who will begin her duties with the College in January, has been with Miami-Dade Junior College in Miami, Fla., as serials librarian. She has assisted in the development of that library since its founding in 1960. Other positions she has held are as librarian at Miami Public Library, Orlando Public Library, and at Orlando Air Base, in Florida.

She received her A.B. from Berea College and a graduate degree in Library Science from Emory University. Mrs. McGraw expects to become a resident of Southern Pines in December.

As librarian of Sandhills Community College, Mrs. McGraw will be responsible for organizing and developing a broad program of library services.

Mrs. Poole will begin her duties as bookkeeper on November 2 and in that position will perform specialized clerical work in the maintenance of financial records for the College, but will also have secretarial responsibilities. She is a native of Charlottesville, Va., and a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

While at the University, she served as bookkeeper-secretary in the University News Bureau. She and her family recently moved to Southern Pines. Her husband, Samuel H. Poole, is associated with Vance DeWitt in the practice of law.

According to Dr. Stone, these appointments result from "a determined effort over the past several months to acquire the very best people available."

Dr. Stone added, "We have been in contact with candidates as far west as Texas and California, and as far north as Wisconsin. Sandhills Community College is indeed fortunate in acquiring personnel with the training and experience of these appointees. If we can continue to select such qualified personnel, we should be able to develop a College characterized by excellence."

COUNTY

(Continued from Page 1) later was awarded a fellowship at the University of North Carolina and left for a year's study there. The commissioners recently received his resignation, tendered with expectation of his return, and indicated that if no replacement is found, he will be welcomed back in 12 months.

The board, with Vice-Chairman John M. Currie presiding in the absence of Chairman L. R. Reynolds, elected Currie to sign checks and other necessary papers, subject to advice of the county attorney. Reynolds, who has been in poor health, has attended few meetings in the past several months.

They took under consideration a request from Sgt. Ralph Martin of the Moore County National Guard unit for financial help in the sum of about $2,800, to buy permanent tables and chairs, so the Armory could make more money for maintenance purposes through rentals for meetings, suppers, etc.

VIOLINIST

(Continued from Page 1) fourth birthday. She studied with her mother for a year and then in 1947 won a scholarship to the New York College of Music, where she studied with Arved Kurtz. Miss Dubow also studied with Ivan Galamian and more recently with Raphael Bronstein on a scholarship at the Manhattan School of Music. With the assistance of the Manhattan School of Music, she was able to make her Mexican concert tour.

Miss Dubow has appeared with the Atlanta Symphony in a special Tchaikovsky night, as well as other symphonies and has made several recital tours.

Miss Dubow plays a very fine J. B. Guadagnini violin dated 1754, loaned to her by her management, the National Music League.

Southern Pines Recorder's Court

In this week's Recorder's Court Maggie Reed, Southern Pines, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The weapon, a four-foot-long tree limb, was reportedly used in assaulting Jessie Fisher, Southern Pines, during an altercation in which the Fisher woman told Maggie that she had not finished picking a row in a cotton field in which they both were working. It was then that Mrs. Reed inflicted a blow to the head of Jessie Fisher, causing severe pain and requiring hospital treatment, according to the testimony.

In passing his judgment, Judge W. Harry Fullenwider sentenced Maggie Reed to six months imprisonment in the state Women's Prison at Raleigh. She appealed the decision and her case was transferred to the next term of Superior Court.

Harry S. Bates of Ft. Bragg was brought to court on charges of breaking and entering and larceny. Probable cause was found and the court ordered his case transferred to Superior Court. Bates was placed under $5,000 bond.

A companion case involved Ronald I. Kirkpatrick, also of Ft. Bragg, who was charged with receiving stolen goods and breaking and entering. For the charge of receiving stolen goods, Kirkpatrick was placed under $200 bond and his case transferred to Superior Court. The charge of breaking and entering was not pressed.

Traffic violations headed this week were: Nancy Locklear Falk, Aberdeen, disobeying stop sign, $10 and costs; Robert Ernest Peck, Danville, N. Y., 65 in a 55 zone, $10 and costs; Curtis Lonnie Wade, Southern Pines, 58 in a 45 zone, $13 and costs; Marion Roberts, Sanford, 50 in a 35 zone, $15 and costs; James D. Bates, no operator's license, $50 and costs.

Ronald McVicker, Raeford, allowing unlicensed person to drive, walk to Aberdeen police station and back, pay costs; Thermond Martin, Raeford, no operator's license, failing to stop for police officer, walk to Aberdeen police station and back, pay court costs; Bradley Roy Cunniff, Bonnie Doone, N. C., 80 in a 35 zone, disobeying stop signs, red light and siren, $50 and costs.

Ralph L. D'Ambrosio, Philadelphia, Pa., 70 in a 60 zone, $10 and costs; William Morison Mordecai, Savannah, Ga., 70 in a 55 zone, $15 and costs; Eugene McIver, Sanford, 70 in a 55 zone, $15 and costs; Judith Ell Ross, Vass, 45 in a 35 zone, $10 and costs.

Traffic violators choosing to walk a Howard Johnson's and back in lieu of the fine were: Paul Dean Cameron, Vass, 43 in a 35 zone, costs; Claude Eugene Hellinger, Southern Pines, 50 in a 35 zone, costs; and Joseph Price Allen, Southern Pines, failing to yield right of way resulting in an accident, costs, and Robert Elmer Capel, Pinehurst, 60 in a 45 zone, costs.

Willie E. Sanders, Rocky Mount, no operator's license, driving while under the influence, was sentenced to 30 days to work in and around the county jail; Lemon Lewis, Gardenville, Fla., public drunk, allowing unlicensed driver to operate motor vehicle, 30-day sentence.

CARTHAGE YOUTH

(Continued from Page 1) week. Austin said it skidded some 300 feet on the highway before it overturned. He said, however, he was unable to find any signs of law violation.

The accident occurred shortly after school let out and there were a number of cars filled with students on the highway. They quickly gathered at the scene, rendered what aid they could and called the officer and ambulance.

Funeral services for Bennett were held at the First Baptist Church at Carthage Sunday afternoon, with the pastor, Rev. Charles Moseley, officiating. Burial was in Lamms Grove Church Cemetery.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Maggie Cagle Bennett; three half-brothers, Curtis and Ralph Bennett, both of Cameron, and Howard Bennett of Niagara; and two half-sisters, Mrs. A. C. Cole of Cameron and Mrs. J. W. Elliott, Jr., of Carthage.

BASKETBALL

(Continued from Page 1) games around December 1. Last year the Pinehurst boys carried the conference's banner all the way to the state finals before bowing to a fine East Surry team. Aberdeen advanced to the semifinals in the state district playoff at Campbell College, narrowly missing an all Moore county finals there (they would have met Pinehurst in the finals) has also demonstrated by their strength of the girls' teams had they defeated Boone Trail. Fine records against non-conference foes.

Next week, a profile on the eight teams, boys and girls.

to work in and around the county jail; Willie Stephens, Fort Meyers, Fla., public drunk, 10 days sentence to work in and around the county jail.

Following is a summary of other cases heard in this week's court: Ronald S. Barstow, Ft. Bragg, vile and profane language, $5 and costs; James Dowdy, Manly, in court for charges of public drunk, optioned to recall two previous appeals to the Superior Court and selected to serve the current charge and the two prior sentences at once, all of which amounted to three months to work in and around the county jail; and Carlton Lawrence Thomas, Aberdeen, public drunk, $15 and costs, not to be convicted of a similar offense within a six-month period.
