Recording secretary, Mrs. William R. Bonsal III; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Paul Dana; assistant corresponding secretary, Mrs. O. Leon Seymour.

Chairmen of standing committees are: Program, Dr. Charles Phillips; membership, Albert S. Tufts and Mrs. R. M. McMillan; arrangements, Mrs. Albert S. Tufts and Guy C. Smith; ways and means, John M. Reeves; finance, Clarence L. von Tacky; publicity, Miss Garrett Sutherland.

A FINALIST—Deborah Prince, 13, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Roscoe L. Prince and a senior at the Pinehurst High School, receives from School Superintendent Lewis Cannon the Certificate of Merit for high performance in the National Merit Program. Debbie advanced from a semi-finalist to a finalist in the program, meeting the qualifications and requirements that make her eligible for a scholarship. She rated in the top one per cent of the secondary school seniors, throughout the country. Selection was made on high scores of the Merit Tests, the College Entrance Examination Board Tests, information forms and the endorsement of the Pinehurst School. Debbie is also one of five nominees from Moore County for the Katharine Smith Reynolds scholarships at UNC, Greensboro. (Hemmer photo)

OTHER OFFICERS, DIRECTORS NAMED

Mrs. Derouin Re-elected President, N. C. State Ballet Company Sunday

Mrs. A. N. Derouin of Pinehurst, N. C. was re-elected president of the North Carolina State Ballet Company at its annual meeting held Sunday, February 7 in Raleigh. The other officers were also re-elected to serve another year. They are: Dr. R. S. Spear, Greenville, N. C., vice president; William C. Fields, of Fayetteville, vice president; Mrs. W. E. Stott, of Spring Hope, treasurer; and Annette S. Boutwell of Raleigh, executive secretary.

In addition to the officers, members of the board of directors are: Mrs. Alan Korshun of Goldsboro, local Chapter president; Dr. John Tyler Caldwell, chancellor, University of North Carolina at Raleigh; Howard Cohen, Raleigh; Dr. Rachel Davis, Kinston; Mrs. Carl Durham, Chapel Hill; Dr. Janis Klavins, Durham, Raymond Lowery, News and Observer, Raleigh; Mrs. Ralph B. Reeves, Raleigh; E. N. Richards, Pinehurst and Raleigh; Philip C. Schinhan, Chapel Hill; and Mrs. C. T. Wilkinson of Wake Forest, N. C.

Program plans for the year were presented pertaining to training and performing contracts as scheduled. Two new area workshop programs were established in the fall of 1964 in Fayetteville and Greenville, bringing into the training program some 50 new students. It was announced to the board members that Charlotte might be a third area for a workshop this spring. The Raleigh area, the first workshop training program for the Company, will be re-organized with a local board appointed to assist with the local group.

John Lehman, artistic director for the Company has choreographed two new numbers for the Fayetteville performance at the Junior High School this week. Also being featured for the February 12 performance will be the members of the Fayetteville area workshop under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Bounds, associate director of the North Carolina State Ballet Company. The performance will begin promptly at 8:00 p.m. in Fayetteville. Tickets will be available at the door.

Mrs. Derouin announced the North Carolina State Ballet Company will perform in Winston-Salem, March 6 and 7 as part of the local Ballet Festival, and in Durham on March 25. Other performance dates for the spring are being followed up and dates will be announced.

AWARD WINNER—Miss Geraldine Jones, Home Economics teacher at the Pinehurst School, presents Janice Fields the high school 1965 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award. Janice, 19, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Fields, Jr. of Pinehurst. Test papers of all Homemakers of Tomorrow in the state are currently being judged. The highest-ranking girl will receive a $1,500 scholarship from the General Mills sponsor. The runner-up will be given a $500 educational grant. The school of the state winner will receive a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica. State winners may become also national winners and be entitled to scholarships from $2,000 to $5,000. (Hemmer photo)
