The Pilot's Log

Faye C. Sadler of The Heritage Farm was present for a State Convention of the N.C. Campground Owners' association at the Hilton Hotel in Raleigh, Jan. 19-21.

Rep. T. Clyde Auman attended a legislative breakfast of the group.

Mrs. Ernest Ives, vice-president of the Friends of Weymouth, appeared as the guest of President William Friday, head of the consolidated University of N.C. Sunday at 6 p.m. on "N.C. People," on Channel 4. Speaking informally, Mrs. Ives told of the charms of Weymouth and invited the public to help secure it as a writers' retreat.

She was accompanied to Chapel Hill by Carol Stuart, who said students were enchanted by Mrs. Ives.

Winners at bridge on Jan. 19 at the Country Club of North Carolina were: Pat Scranton, first; Elsa Johnson, second; Jane Haserick, third; Kitty Kotrla, fourth. Consolation prize went to Florence Lawes.

Jan Buxton, senior at Appalachian State University, was on the fall Dean's List, it has been announced. Jan, a speech therapy major, has also been inducted into Alpha Chi, national collegiate honor scholarship society.

New members of the North Carolina Museum of History Associates in Moore County are Mrs. Wilson Leverton, Mrs. Martha C. Clayton, Watts Auman, Mrs. W. Daniel Pate, Mrs. Doris T. Blue, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ragan, Dr. and Mrs. H. David Bruton.

Carolyn Hoskins and her parents attended the Icecapades at the Charlotte Coliseum during their recent appearance.

Recent Pilot visitors were Mr. and Mrs. John McLaurin of Elmore in Scotland County.

Lynn Seymore Esleek of Southern Pines, a student at Appalachian State University, is among 39 students selected for the honor teaching award. The award is given each semester to approximately 10 percent of ASU students who demonstrate exceptional initiative, scholarship and excellence in student teaching.

Esleek is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Esleek of 350 Newton Drive, Southern Pines. During fall semester she taught Kindergarten-1st grade at Margaret Willis Elementary School under the supervision of Mrs. Karen Page.

Senior Citizens having their monthly meeting at Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church Monday heard entertainment by the Lou Layton Ensemble from Union Pines High School and enjoyed a covered dish dinner. Although 38 persons were present, members hope that even more will turn out Feb. 26 when the Pinecrest Ensemble sings.

Results of the annual ACBL Membership Game played at the Elks Club on Friday, January 19 were as follows:

Over-All: first place, Kitty Thorn and Aline Ernst; second place, Dorothy Pederson and Louise Macdonald; third place, Al Schrader and Marion Donovan; fourth place, David and Mary Lou Forrest; fifth place, Bill and Dava Byrd.

North-South: first place, Aline Ernst and Kitty Thorn; second place, Dorothy Pederson and Louise Macdonald; third place, Al Schrader and Marion Donovan.

East-West: first place, David and Mary Lou Forrest; second place, Bill and Dava Byrd; third place, Frank and Johnnie Johnson.

The Duplicate Buffs met Jan. 22 for bridge and lunch at Hyland Hills Country Club. Games are open to the public.

Winners were: first place—Thelma Alpert and Celeste Warmbrod; second—Bobbie Burgess and Marian Leone; third—Eunice Stentz and Mary Ellen Hughes; fourth—Lois MacKinnon and Evelyn Schweiger; with Pat Clark and Alex Davidson tying with Helen Armstrong and Virginia Ketter for fifth and sixth places.

Guild To Hear Poet Campbell

St. Martha's Guild of Emmanuel Episcopal Church will meet at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, February 8 in the Guild Hall at the church.

In the theme of 1979's programs, "Patterns of Thinking," Mrs. Walter J. (Peg) Campbell of Whispering Pines will speak to the group on China which she toured for several weeks last fall. Mrs. Campbell is an inveterate traveler who has written and reported on all of her travels. She is also a published poet and member of the North Carolina Poetry Society. Members are urged to bring a guest to hear Mrs. Campbell.

Coffee hostesses will be Mrs. Ward Caldwell, Mrs. Harold Jenkins and Mrs. Robert Dutton.

BEAUX ARTS SHOW — These well known local artists—Richard Preyer, Danila Devins, Joan Arnold Milligan and Tom Culbreth—will exhibit their works at the Beaux Arts Ball, which benefits the N.C. Museum of Art, Feb. 17 at the Country Club of North Carolina.

Sandhills Artists To Exhibit At Beaux Arts Ball Feb. 17

Those who attend the Beaux Arts Ball on February 17 will have the added privilege of seeing an art show as they enter the foyer of the Country Club of North Carolina.

Four area artists, all members of the Beaux Arts Ball Committee, will be showing. They are Tom Culbreth, Danila Devins, Joan Arnold Milligan, and Richard M. Preyer.

The Beaux Arts Ball is sponsored by the North Carolina Art Society and is held in a different location throughout the state to benefit the North Carolina Museum of Art. Pinehurst is the site of this year's Ball and surrounding weekend of parties and activities. Honorary Chairmen are Governor and Mrs. James Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Mark C. Liddell of Southern Pines are Chairmen.

On display that evening will be pen and ink drawings of Tom Culbreth. A Sandhills native and N.C. State University design graduate, Tom Culbreth has formerly had an overseas design practice in Sydney, Australia, where he was a member of the Australian Design Council and worked on the Opera House. He also has designed products including lighting fixtures, clocks, and soft drink bottles. At present, he is forming his own company, to be called TEC Products and Graphic Design.

Oil paintings of portrait artist, Danila Devins, are familiar to most Sandhill citizens, particularly the paintings of dogs and horses, for which she is noted. Her paintings have been shown and sold throughout the world. Most recently, Mrs. Devins has shown at the London Royal Exchange, the Italian Cultural Center, the Long Island Wetlands and Waterfowl Society and Comunita Europea Artisti in New York City. Her most recent prize was a first this month in Winslow, Arizona.

Works of Joan Arnold Milligan are likewise known to those who live in the Sandhills. Having painted professionally for over 20 years, she is primarily a colorist and regards herself as a "Contemporary Impressionist." With a Master's Degree in Fine Arts, Joan Arnold Milligan began her career as a portraitist. Lately, however, she has become fascinated with landscape. A recent painting of hers, "Ina," has been purchased by the R.J. Reynolds Corporation to be hung in its World Headquarters Building in Winston-Salem. Joan Arnold Milligan is represented in North Carolina by St. John's Gallery in Wilmington, Art Originals of Winston-Salem, and McNeal Gallery of Charlotte.

Also a portrait and landscape artist, Richard M. Preyer has studied under A.T. Hibard, the famous Rockport and Cape Cod landscape artist. A Greensboro native and University of North Carolina graduate, Richard Preyer has worked with commercial studios and advertising agencies in New York City and has exhibited all over the country, winning numerous awards. Preyer is most noted for his vibrant execution of color and attention to detail. As a professional artist, he has been commissioned for many institutional and personal portraits.

Reservations for the Beaux Arts Ball, which includes a cocktail party at the Pinehurst Country Club the Friday evening before, tennis and golf activities, tours to Jutown and a hunt at Economy Farm during the day as well as the dinner dance Saturday evening February 17, may be made by calling Mr. and Mrs. Mark Liddell at 692-8255 or 692-8878 or writing them at Box 1099, Southern Pines 28387.

Architecture, Arts Set For Weymouth Lectures

"Architecture and the Decorative Arts" will be presented free to the public February 1 at Weymouth by the Stagville Preservation Center of the N.C. Department of Cultural Resources.

Mrs. Ernest L. Ives is chairman of the lecture, which will be followed by a sherry hour.

John B. Flowers III, director of Stagville, will highlight his talk on architecture with slides. Mrs. Gale Farlow of the Old Salem staff, will speak on the decorative arts, and also illustrate her lecture by slides. Reservations for the program may be made by calling the Friends of Weymouth office at 692-6261.

Valentine Ball

Moore County Senior Citizens will hold a Valentine Sweetheart Ball on Saint Valentine's Day, Wednesday, February 14, at Sandhills Community College. Admission is free—just bring some Valentine snacks.

CULTURAL GROUP
The Sandhills Jewish Cultural Group met for the second time Friday night at the home of Miriam and Al Levy in Southern Pines. Future meetings are planned. Interested people may call Kate Lorber at 295-3274.

PLAN DINNER-DANCE — Eleanor Hall, Margaret Page, and Carolyn Morris discuss plans for the upcoming "Cupid's Special" Valentine Dinner-Dance. The dance is being held at Southern Pines Elks Club on February 16, for the benefit of the Episcopal Day School.

"Cupid's Special" Dance Is Set By Episcopal Day

At the first meeting of the new year, held at the Parish Hall on Monday evening, the Parent's Association of the Episcopal Day School heard plans for a "Cupid's Special" Valentine Dinner Dance.

Pidgie Chapman, newly named chairman of the group, first recognized the efforts of all parents who gave of their time or who contributed monetarily to the first two fund raising events, the Benefit Horse Show and the Candlelite House Tour.

Eleanor Hall, who is co-chairing the dance with Scarlett Allison, revealed plans for the school's annual dance to be held this year at Southern Pines Elks Club on the evening of Friday, February 16, from eight to twelve, with Disco Motions, Inc. of Raleigh, providing an evening of great music for all kinds of dancing. An excellent buffet, featuring beef, fish, and fowl will be served beginning at 8, and during the course of the evening, many fabulous door prizes will be given away.

Tickets are $30 per couple, and will be on sale January 29 thru Feb. 9, through Day School students, their parents or the school.

A special added attraction this year will be a drawing for a $500 grand prize. Margaret Page, who heads up the committee for chances, said that you do not have to be present at the dance to win the drawing. Chances are $1 each or 6 for $5, and are being sold now by Episcopal School children.

The dance is open to the public by reservation. Checks should be made payable to the Episcopal Day School Benefit Dance, as they are tax deductible.

Shaw House Tea Room Opens February First

BY PHYLLIS CHRISTIE

It is always good news when announcement is made that the Shaw House Tea Room is opening because it is only for the months of February, March, and April each year that this oldest house in Southern Pines opens its doors to luncheon guests.

No changes have been made in the traditional menu. Creamed chicken and waffles made and served in the Shaw House way with warm syrup and melted butter is the odds-on favorite. For informal entertaining, many hostesses choose baked cheese fondue which must be ordered a day ahead. Shaw House cheese fondue is not the modern kind for dipping. It comes in a casserole direct from the oven—hot, tangy, and delicious and it is served with salad, rolls and beverage. Another popular specialty is homemade prune cake.

However, delicious as the food is, it is the delightful atmosphere of the old house that makes lunch at the Shaw House an unusual treat. There is a welcoming fire on cold days and gracious volunteer hostesses on all days. Guests are invited to browse through the house noticing the beautiful hand-carved mantels, the hard-to-find Susan tables and hunting boards, and the rare pieces of old Jutown pottery in the corner cupboard in the middle room.

While the dining rooms and parlor cling to their heritage, the kitchen has gone modern. New floor covering, a stainless steel double sink and a dish washer have been installed. Mrs. Porter Kuzmaul and Mrs. Wilson Leverton, tea room chairmen, believe these additions will improve tea room service.

Luncheon is served Monday through Saturday from 12 noon until 2 o'clock. Reservations are recommended and appreciated. Thursday, February first is opening day for the 1979 season, a date never missed by some tea room regulars.

The Shaw House Tea Room is operated by the Moore County Historical Association which owns the house. It is located at the corner of Morganton Road and NW Broad Street in Southern Pines.
