Baker, who has served as Moore County Extension chairman, is leaving to take a similar post in Randolph County.—(Photo by Glenn M. Sides).

Mattocks Celebrate 50th

Democrats Name Delegate Slate At Pinebluff

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mattocks were hosts to some 40 members of their family at a picnic in their garden at 135 East Massachusetts Avenue Sunday in celebration of the Golden Wedding anniversary.

Their sons, Thomas Mattocks and Richard Mattocks were present with their families and brought a cake to the celebration. A third son, Gary, who lives with his family in Lima, Peru, could not be there. Jene Bowen, Carthage Principal, close family friend, was at the party with his wife.

Newlyweds Stuart Mitchell Mattocks and his bride and Meredith Mattocks, grandchildren; Nonie and daughter Stephanie, as well as Lynn, also grandchildren, were there. Only grandchildren who could not be present were the son and daughter of Gary Mattocks from Peru.

The Mattocks couple married at the home of their Sanford minister on Mother's Day, May 12, 1929. George Mattocks was with the Chevrolet Company in Sanford for 41 years, before coming to Southern Pines to make his home. His wife was the former Mary Ruth Thomas.

A Mattocks brother, William B. Mattocks of Raleigh and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson of Sanford were among the guests. Sisters of Mrs. Mattocks, Dorothy Wellman, Evelyn Baker and Inez Davenport, all of Southern Pines, joined the party, along with numerous nieces and nephews.

Council Members Visit Right To Read Classes

Friday, May 11, Right to Read project classrooms at West End Elementary and Pinehurst Middle Schools were visited by members of the project's Advisory Council.
