CONDENSED STORIES.

An Iowa Law Case Taken to the Other Side of Jordan.

They tell a good story about Judge Tuthill, who presided in the Eighth judicial district of Iowa years ago and was something of a humorist. In Cedar county the case of Dillon against Crandall was called on appeal from the decision of the justice of the peace. A number of the bar arose and sald he would suggest to the court the decease of the appellee. Another lawyer arose and suggested the death of the appellant. The judge remarked that the clerk could pass the case, as it would probably be tried before another tribunal. After court the following lines were found on a sheet of legal cap on the judge's desk: This appeal case was brought to our Cedar district

HIS FRIEND PADEREWSKI.

One evening last season at a famous restaurant in New York Paderewski happened to be dining there at the same time that the New York Goldsmiths and Jewelers' association were having a celebration dinner in another part of the building, says London M. A. P. At the close of the feast the pianist made his way to the cloakroom and was busy washing his hands when one of the other party came in on the same mission. The newcomer stared at the fair haired Pole and at last, as he dashed his hands through the water, said:

"You're very like Paderewski. Do you know him?'

"I am Paderewski," rejoined the maestro modestly.

"What?" whooped the American nd, dashing at him, shook both his hands without waiting for the ceremony of wiping his own. Before there was any time for Paderewski to escape the man from the goldsmiths' dinner rushed to the door and, calling to the chiefs of his party, yelled: "I say, Brown, Jones, Robinson,

"What are you doing there feeling about that horse's neck?"

"I am an officer of the Humane society," replied Senator Jones mildly, "and I want to see if this collar fits this horse."

HOW THE BISHOP SMOKED

Phillips Brooks as a Guest of Royalty at Windsor.

There is a very funny story told of the visit of Bishop Phillips Brooks to Windsor castle as the guest of her majesty Queen Victoria. Bishop Brooks, after being hospitably received at the castle, was shown to his room. He then proceeded to light his accustomed cigar. Very soon the smoke reached the nostrils of a custodian somewhere not far away, who came to the door and asked the guest not to smoke, as it was forbidden.

Bishop Brooks then came out into the corridor and went on smoking there. The custodian again begged him to desist. The bishop went back to his room and out upon the balcony which opened from it and resumed his cigar there, thinking that he was now in the open air. Again the custodian came, this time passing through the bishop's room, and said, "Smoking is not permitted, sir, anywhere in Windsor castle." Then he once more disappeared, and Bishop Brooks, who gave up a cigar with very great reluctance when he had once lighted it, returned to his room. He had no sooner done so than a happy thought occurred to him. There was an open fireplace in the room. The bishop lay down on his back on the floor, put his head up into the chimney and began to smoke there. This time he was undisturbed. Before the smell of the cigar had betrayed him. Now the smoke went up the chimney, which is what chimneys are for. The cigar was finished in peace.—Boston Cor.

A DOLLAR A DRINK.

A certain druggist was awakened at an early hour the other morning by a loud ring at his night bell. He looked out of the second story window and saw two men wildly waving what seemed to be prescription blanks, so he hastily donned his clothes, descended to the store, turned on the lights and opened up. He was mad all the way through when he saw that each piece of paper contained the following sentence, "One portion of whisky," and was signed by Dr. Al K. Holl. He saw that one of the men held a $2 bill in his hand, and a thought struck him. He said:

"I do not know this physician, Dr. Al K. Holl, but if you are really sick I can fill the prescription."

The men, who wanted a drink badly, protested that they were sick and were each given a drink. The druggist took the prescriptions and the $2 bill and calmly rang up $2 on the cash register.

"What," yelled the men in chorus, "ain't there no change?"

"Nope," answered the drug man. "I always charge $1 apiece for filling Dr. Holl's prescriptions after closing up time."

And he turned out the lights and closed up the store. - Cincinnati Enquirer.

As two successive images are onefifteenth of a second apart in time, it follows that by counting these images the entire time occupied from to be ill treated. A few days ago, the beginning to the end of the movement can be determined. In a recent test it was found that the stroke occupied a little less than four-tenths of a second. By this means two swordsmen can be compared and their relative quickness easily and exactly determined.

A CURIOUS EXPERIMENT.

The following is a curious and in-"Well," snarled the driver, "if teresting experiment: Take a piece the eye and the other end a trifle smaller. Hold the tube between the thumb and finger of the right hand -do not grasp it with the whole Judge William Underwood was hand. Put the large end close against the right eye, and with the eye sees the book, and the two appearances are so confounded that it is impossible to separate them. The left hand may be held against the tube instead of the book, and the hole will seem to be through the hand.

LOVE'S WELCOME.

Tis only a speck in the distance,
'Tis only a sail on the sea,
But now I am longing and waiting
To welcome my love back to me.
He left me, with heart true and tender,
A fortune to seek o'er the main;
I seem now to hear him repeating
In accenta so sweet that refrain:

Goodby, my loved one, goodby, my darling, Though I must leave you my fortune to find, Say you'll be faithful, loving and patient; that I'm leaving a true heart behind.

Now nearer the soft breeze is bearing That brave little craft to the land, And soon once again I'll be standing Beside my dear love hand in hand, And now into port she is steering; I see my dear boy once again, As I open my arms to my darling, I smilingly change that refrain:

Welcome, my loved one, welcome, my darling;
Time has not changed my fond love for thee;
If you still love me, say you are willing
Never again to roam far o'er the sea.

DEATH IN HOTELS.

Peculiar View of the Subject Taken by Proprietors.

"I had an experience in a New York hotel which struck me at the time as being rather odd and brought vividly to my mind the homelessness of hotel life," said a hotel boarder to a friend who had him at his home for dinner. "A friend of mine died in the hotel where we both had rooms. The first thing I thought of was a bit of crape or some other emblem of mourning for his door. # THE FESTIVAL OF FOOLS.

The "festival of fools" was a feature of each new year with the Parisians. It began on the 1st of January and continued for some days, during which all sorts of absurdities and indecencies were licensed. This feast was not celebrated after the latter part of the thirteenth century. Fools or licensed jesters were kept at court up to the time of Charles I (1625), but the ancient feast was never revived by the peo-

Education and Production.

The power of education in production may be presented in this concrete way:-

Massachusetts spent in 1898-99 one of the 2,805,346 citizens of Massachusetts-men, women and infants-has, as we have said, a productive capacity of $260 a alarm the other boarders; might as year, against $170 a year for the average inhabitant of the whole United States and $116 a year For Washing for the average inhabitant of lennessee. The inhabitant of Massachusetts has thus an excess of $90 a year over the average inhabitant of the United States, and $144 a year over the This means that the people of Massachusetts earned in that year $253,487,140 more than the same number of average people of the United States and $403,969, 824 more than the same number of people of Tennessee.
