TOWN AND COUNTY.

—"The H. H. & B. Co."

—"The Smithfield Hardware Co."

—"J. H. Kirkman, Fire Insurance, Smithfield, N. C."

—"Rev. J. W. Suttle is holding a meeting with Bethesda Baptist church this week."

—"Miss Ada Barnes has gone to Hope Mills where she will teach music in Dr. E. D. Snead's school."

—"Ashley Beasley, a tenant on the J. H. Pou plantation near here, lost a barn of valuable tobacco by fire Tuesday night."

—"Messrs. Brown, Johnson and Adamson, expert machinists, are here to start up their respective machines at the cotton mills."

—"Mr. J. W. Stephenson, Register of Deeds, happened to the misfortune to lose a valuable mule from the excessive heat last Friday."

—"The Chamber of Commerce will meet in the Court House tonight. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 9 o'clock. A full attendance is desired."

—"The Smithfield Cotton Mills are now ready to begin operations. The force of operatives are now arriving and the mill will start up on full time Monday morning at 6 o'clock."

—"Mr. P. D. Holland, of Micro, came in Tuesday and renewed his subscription. Mr. Silas Edgerton, of same section also made a call and had his name placed on our subscription book."

—"Rev. John Lewis requests us to announce that Dr. A. B. Dunaway, of Port Norfolk, Va., will be with Clayton Baptist church next Sunday, August 4th, to begin holding special services."

—"Boyetts Bros., Proprietors of the Farmers Warehouse, received a hoghead of tobacco from Lucama for their opening sale Tuesday. They have also received another hoghead from the same section since."

—"The many friends of Capt. J. J. Young, will learn with sorrow that he suffered a sunstroke while in his field at work one day last week. His condition since has been critical yet it is hoped that he will recover."

—"The following is an extract from a letter received from one of our subscribers living in Moore county: 'I think THE SMITHFIELD HERALD is the best weekly paper I ever read. We cannot do without it at our home.'"

—"There were good sales at each of our warehouses Wednesday and yesterday and the prices are high, the farmers well pleased, and everything is moving along nicely with the prospects very bright for a successful season."

—"Tuesday's News and Observer says: 'State Treasurer B. R. Lacy has returned from Oakland church, Johnston county, where he delivered an address. He was delighted with his trip and says that it was a visit to the 'garden spot of the world.'"

—"The following new subscribers were added to our subscription list Tuesday: Bartley Garner, Thomas Starling, J. A. Starling, Mat. R. Wall, J. A. Pittman, Silas Edgerton, L. R. Batten, A. T. Lassiter, H. H. Penny and N. M. Sherin."

—"We are glad to see Mr. Andrew Willingham, of the firm of W. A. Willingham & Co., tobaccoists of Durham, back in Smithfield. Mr. Willingham is a large buyer of the golden weed and his many friends throughout the county will be glad to find him on the Smithfield market again this season."

—"We call the attention of the Confederate soldiers to the reunion at Wrightsville, August 14th to 17th, an account of which is published on the first page of this paper. The railroads have made a very low rate—only one cent per mile each way. This will be an excellent opportunity for the old soldiers to visit Wilmington and the seacoast at low rates. Visitors can also secure same rates."

—The Herald's already large subscription list continues to grow. During the month of July 52 new subscribers were placed on our books, and July was not a good month for subscribers either. We think this a pretty good showing for one of the dullest months in the year.

—The American Tobacco Co. is to be represented on this market this season by Mr. Oscar Gregory who was on the Enfield market last year. Mr. Gregory and his bookkeeper, Mr. R. D. Patterson, J., of Durham, arrived the first of the week and will be here through the season. We give them a hearty welcome to Smithfield.

—Friends of the deceased here will regret to learn of the death of Judge John L. T. Sneed, which occurred Monday at his home in Memphis, Tenn. Hewas a native of this State but had made his home for many years in Tennessee where he had attained to positions of trust and prominence. He was an uncle of Mrs. J. T. Cobb and Mrs. E. J. Holt, of this place.

—Perhaps Elder Samuel B. Thain, who died at his home in Bentonville township last week, was the oldest man in Johnston county, having reached the advanced age of 94 years. He was born in Nova Scotia in 1806 and spent a good part of his early life on the sea, having sailed around the globe. He had been a faithful citizen of Johnston county for a half century and will be greatly missed by those who best knew him. A sketch of his life appears in another column.

—The opening of the Smithfield tobacco market was attended by several prominent tobaccoists from other towns. We note the following: Messrs. Davis, Cozart and Bodenhamer, of Danville, Va.; E. S. Thompson, of Kingston; Faulkner and Draper, of Goldsboro; Booth, of Dunn; Bowen, of Lumberton; Carter, of Spring Hope; Shelton and Chavasse, of Rocky Mount; Fulghum and Harrison, of Wilson; Faucett and Morgan, of Benson; Hutchins and Martin, of Winston; Ewell and Mahler, of Durham, and others. This large attendance of prominent tobacco men show how important the Smithfield market is regarded in other parts.

SMITHFIELD MARKET OPENS.

Good Breaks at Each Warehouse—High Prices Prevail and Farmers Well Pleased.

The Smithfield tobacco market opened Tuesday being the first to open in North Carolina for this season. It had been looked forward to with great interest by the tobacco people generally and quite a number of tobaccoists were here to witness the opening sales.

Goodly quantities of tobacco were sold on the floors of each of our large warehouses—the Banner, the Riverside and the Farmers. While the tobacco sold was of a low grade, being principally lugs, the prices were very good. The farmers were well satisfied at the prices their tobacco brought and all went home well pleased—better pleased than I have ever seen them before on any large sale day. I heard one man say that he got 12 cents a pound for tobacco that he would have been satisfied with 9 cents. Another said he didn't expect more than 5 cents average, while the average price received was 8 cents. Similar expressions were heard from many.

It was a very successful opening and our tobaccoists are well pleased at the results. All the tobacco sold was bought by buyers who will be on this market the entire season. Several of the buyers told me that the prices were normal and they expected a continuance of as good, or even better prices throughout the season.

The sales prove that Smithfield is as good a market as any in Eastern Carolina and the farmer who sells here will make no mistake.

Mr. Simms at the Baptist Church.

Mr. Robert N. Simms, an able young lawyer of Raleigh, and chairman of the "Twentieth Century Educational Movement," for the Raleigh Baptist Association, delivered an address in the Baptist church here Sunday at the hour for morning service. He reviewed the history and growth of the Baptists for the last one hundred years. He laid special stress on the subject of education, showing the great increase in the number of educational institutions of the Baptist church during the last hundred years and showed how the people might the more honor Christ and His cause by raising a memorial to God for His goodness.

He called attention to the fact that at the last State Convention a resolution was passed to raise $100,000 for educational purposes during the year 1901; that the first $25,000 raised was to go to the Baptist Female University at Raleigh, and the remainder to be divided among the Baptist educational institutions of the State.

At the close of his address a collection was taken and about $60 in cash and pledges was raised.

Mr. Simms is an able and interesting speaker and the people of Smithfield were well pleased. We hope to have him with us again.

A Fine Field of Cotton.

Mr. J. T. Barham showed us a stalk of cotton yesterday morning which measured 5 1/4 feet high. It was well limbed and filled with squares and bolls. It was taken from the field of Messrs. W. L. Fuller and J. T. Barham, of near town. They have fifteen acres that will average as good as the stalk shown us. The rows which are four feet apart now lap throughout the field. If nothing happens to retard its growth from now on they confidently expect 25 500-pound bales off of the 15 acres. It is perhaps the best field of cotton in this section of the State.
