MONUMENT TO SIR WALTER.

At the recent meeting of the State Literary and Historical Association Gen. Julian S. Carr, who done has so much for North Carolina, made an able address in which he proposed that the people of North Carolina erect in Nash Square at Raleigh a suitable statue to the memory of Sir Walter Raleigh.

The association unanimously passed the following resolutions placing Gen. Carr at the head of the movement:

Resolved, That a committee of twenty-five, to be selected by Gen. Julian Carr be, and the same are hereby appointed to adopt such measures as may be requisite to carry into effect his suggestions for collecting a fund to erect a suitable statue to Sir Walter Raleigh in our capital city, named so fitly in his honor, and that in carrying this resolution into effect the committee have in mind the educational value of giving the people an opportunity to raise this fund by penny collection, so that all may share in the glory of thus honoring the great hero, martyr of American colonization.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be suitably attached to all collection boxes prepared by the committee.

Gen. Carr has appointed a committee composed of representative citizens in different sections of the State to carry into effect the above resolutions.

This fund is expected to be raised largely by the school children of North Carolina giving penny collections. A resolution was adopted by the Association asking that penny collections be taken in the schools throughout the State on the Friday after Thanksgiving.

While Sir Walter Raleigh's colony on Roanoke Island was a failure no man ever labored more strenuously than he to effect a permanent settlement on our coast. Though he failed North Carolinians should delight to honor this noblest of Englishmen who was beheaded by the order of his King.

We hope that the school children of Johnston county will aid this cause on the day after Thanksgiving by each giving a penny for the erection of this statue. Let the teachers of our schools tell their pupils of the life of Sir Walter Raleigh and try to interest them in this worthy cause. Tell them that the monument will be built and that if they will give something towards it they can some day visit our capital city and point to the bronze statue of the unfortunate Sir Walter with a feeling of pride that they assisted in its erection.

How much will the children of Johnston county give?

The farmers of Johnston county could do nothing better, if they want to make money, than to plant a few acres in tobacco next year. Many have tried tobacco and some have made a great success. Plant some cotton, some tobacco, and enough corn, potatoes, wheat and oats to raise home supplies. When all the farmers do this they will be the most independent class of people in the country.

THE CHARLESTON EXPOSITION.

The South Carolina Inter-State and West Indian Exposition will be formally opened December 2d, and will continue six months. There will be a special religious service on Sunday, December 1st.

The grounds are on the eastern bank of the Ashley river about 2½ miles from the business center of Charleston and the exposition city, which will be called the "Ivory City," is growing very rapidly, fourteen of the main buildings being almost completed.

Among some of the most striking buildings are the Administration Building, of the Spanish renaissance type with domes and facades, the Cotton Palace and the Palaces of Commerce and Agriculture, the Woman's Building and the Negro Building. Most of the State buildings will be of the early colonial type.

One of the most interesting features of the exposition will be the West Indian exhibit. A typical Cuban building and many remarkable curiosities will be interesting to visitors.

The exposition will open at a time when the North will be frozen up and no doubt many northern visitors will be attracted to Charleston with its gardens of blooming roses.

Farmers, you would serve your own interests well to sow a few acres in wheat, at least enough to make your own flour. Remember that the price of corn will be high next spring.

Morgan Crows Ghost, Winnie Turtlehead, Polly Plenty Fox, Irene Bears Ghost and Abbie Big John, are the queer names of some of the new pupils that entered the Indian School at Carlisle, Pa., last week.

The Chinese have a peculiar way of doing things. Last week soon after their greatest statesman, Li Hung Chang, died, they issued an Imperial edict creating him a marquis and bestowing on him the new name of Li Wen Chung. This is the name by which the dead statesman will be known in Chinese history.

Frederick William Victor August Ernest Hohenzollern, Crown Prince of Prussia and the German Empire, will visit the United States next Spring. He is considered the greatest "catch" in Europe, but fair American heiresses will in vain make "goo-goo" eyes at the young Prince, for no one except of royal blood can become his spouse.

John Wilbur Jenkins has resigned as editor of the Raleigh Times to accept a position on the Baltimore Sun. He is an able young newspaper man and his leaving the State is a loss to North Carolina journalism. He has made the Raleigh Times one of the brightest and best afternoon papers in the State. The best wishes of his brethren of the press go with him to his new field.

The famous "Rajah of Ranjit," "Prince of Karuchi," and son of the ruler of "Beloochistan," who has been fooling London and Montreal for the past few weeks, arrived in New York last week and was at once recognized as a former cook at Sherry's, one of New York's swell cafes. He received social and official recognition as an East Indian Prince at both London and New York. He put up at fashionable hotels, with a retinue of 30 servants and was feted and petted without having his identity questioned. Those who showered so many favors upon him must feel much chagrined to learn that he is simply a New York cook.

Prof. Alexander Graham, of Charlotte, has been appointed by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, manager and director of the Southern Educational Association meeting at Columbia, S. C., December 26-29.

The New Canal Treaty.

American control of the proposed isthmian interoceanic canal is now absolutely assured.

When the canal is built it will be constructed by American engineers and American money and defended by American guns. No other nation on the face of the earth is to have anything to do with it, even in the way of suggestion. The United States is to have a free hand, uncontrolled and unhampered.

Such, in brief, is the purport of the new treaty which has been agreed upon between the United States and Great Britain, and which will be sent to the Senate by President Roosevelt immediately after the convening of Congress. All the principles for which the Senate contended when the first Hay-Pauncefote canal treaty was before that body, and which were incorporated in important amendments, have been conceded by Great Britain, and that, to, without the slightest consideration in return. This, perhaps, is the most remarkable fact connected with the negotiation of the new treaty. All suggestions—and they have been numerous—that Great Britain has imposed a quid pro quo have no foundation in fact. Not only is there no such consideration named in the treaty, but there has not been and will not be any private understanding or promises to be redeemed in the future. —Washington Post.

War on the Kaffir.

London, Nov. 13.—Mr. Brodric, the British war secretary, speaking to-night at a banquet given in London in his honor by the City Carlton Club, declared that the Boers were hiding their tracks by murdering Kaffirs behind them.

"Lord Kitchener wired to-day," he continued, "that the cold-blooded murder of natives had become frequent of late, and that two dead natives, their hands tied behind their backs, were found November 10 at the bottom of a mine shaft."

Later in his speech Mr. Brodric said Great Britain now had 42,000 Boers in custody in the concentration camps and on various islands, and that 11,000 more had been killed or wounded, or had left the country on parole. He added that he believed the number of Boers now in the field was about 10,000.

Nikola Tesla has purchased 200 acres of land on Long Island sound and will erect the largest building of its kind in the world to experiment with wireless messages.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.
