

THE above picture of the man and fish is the trademark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.

North Carolina Day Exercises.

I want all the teachers in the County to read the letter below sent out by the State Superintendent to me and to you. I take this means of giving you the letter.

Now, let every teacher who wants a copy of the pamphlet containing the programme for North Carolina Day write me at once using the form below the letter from State Superintendent Joyner and prepared by him. Use postal cards if more convenient.

Superintendent Joyner has sent out the following letter:
 Raleigh, Nov. 7, 1905.

TO COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS AND PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS:

By act of the General Assembly, and by order of the State Superintendent under that act, at least one day in each year is required to be celebrated as North Carolina Day in every public school in the State. Heretofore in many of the public schools this day has not been observed. It is the duty of every County Superintendent to require the celebration of the day in every school. It is as clearly the duty of every public school teacher to obey the law enjoining the celebration of it as to obey any other part of the Public School Law. This year and thenceforth let the law be enforced by every County Superintendent and obeyed by every public school teacher. By the dictates of patriotism, law, duty to the rising generation, the obligation is laid upon every public school teacher to celebrate North Carolina Day.

As most of the public schools are in session then, and as the exercises may be made a pleasant conclusion to the term before the Christmas holidays, the last Friday before Christmas has been fixed as the date for the celebration of North Carolina Day. If any public schools are unable to observe the day on that date the County Superintendent should fix some other day during the year for the exercise in those schools.

"The Upper Cape Fear" is the topic for this year. Pamphlets containing much of the valuable and interesting history of that very historic section, including a study of the Scotch Highlanders and their settlement, the important battle of Moore's Creek, brief biographies of some of the greatest men from this section, etc., have been prepared with much care and at considerable expense. The distribution of these pamphlets from the office of the State Superintendent will begin November 15th. The number of pamphlets that can be allotted to each county will be sent to the County Superintendent for distribution to the schools. Before distributing the pamphlets the County Superintendent should ascertain what schools intend to observe the day on December 22d. To aid him in obtaining this information each teacher must fill out the blank attached to this letter and mail it to the Superintendent before December 1st. If any do not make this report the Superintendent should investigate at once the causes of the failure.

The County Superintendent is expected, of course, to mail at once a copy of this letter to every teacher in his county.

County Superintendents will be requested to report to my office the number of schools celebrating the day. Let all unite in making North Carolina Day every year a bugle call to North Carolina children to a stronger love for their State, a greater reverence for all that is best in its past history and a nobler devotion to its future development.

No finer sentiment can be cultivated in the minds of the young than gratitude for the unselfish service of the great and no more sacred duty can be laid upon them than the duty of giving fitting expression to this gratitude. Perhaps no greater, more far-reaching and more unselfish service was ever rendered to the State, and especially to the children of the State, by any one man than that rendered by Calvin H. Wiley, the first State Superintendent, and the great organizer of the State system of public education. We have deemed it proper and profitable, therefore, that the public school children of this generation should undertake this manifest duty of giving some expression of gratitude to their great unselfish friend. It is the purpose to erect to him in the capitol square at Raleigh, with contributions from the thousands of public school children of the State, a memorial. About $250 has already been raised by school children for this purpose. This fund ought to be completed at once. If every teacher will use the information contained in the North Carolina Day pamphlet for instructing the children about the splendid services of Wiley to them and their State, and will take up a collection for this fund on North Carolina Day, I am confident it can be completed this year. Even a single penny from each of the 593,387 children enrolled in the public schools would amount to $5,933.87.

Let "North Carolina Day" be celebrated in every public school; let every child be informed about Wiley's services and asked to contribute to the memorial fund, and let a collection for this fund be taken in every school on the day observed as "North Carolina Day."

Very truly yours,
 J. Y. JOYNER,
 Supt. Public Instruction.

TO THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT:

I intend to celebrate North Carolina Day in my school on the day set for that purpose by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, December 22, 1905. Please send to me the pamphlets containing the program

Nothing will cure indigestion that doesn't digest the food, itself, and give the stomach rest. You can't expect that a weak stomach will regain its strength and get well when it is compelled to do the full work that a sound stomach should do. You wouldn't expect a sick horse to get well when it is compelled to do a full day's work every day of the week. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant and digests the food regardless of the condition of your stomach. Relieves Indigestion, Belching, Sour Stomach, and all stomach disorders. Sold by Hood Bros., J. R. Ledbetter, Benson Drug Co.
